Enemies in Apartheid Side Against Botha Bishop and Killer Accuse Ex-President

By Lynne Duke

GEORGE, South Africa - Archbishop Desmond Tutu and Eugene de Kock, a multiple murderer serving 212 years in prison, ended up on the same side of the law Wednesday.

. With one seeking national reconciliation and the other seeking his own brand of justice, both men testified for the prosecution in the case against former President Pieter W. Botha, 82, the last of the hardline leaders of apartheid. Mr. Botha is charged with contempt for refusing to appear before the Truth and Reconciliation Commis-sion and refusing to discuss with the commission the policies from his administration that were widely interpreted as a license to kill.

"They want to eat lamb, but they don't want to see the blood and guts,' Mr. de Kock, a former police colonel said as he described Mr. Botha and other apartheid-era political leaders as "cowards" for not owning up to the murderous policies that men like Mr. de Kock carried out on behalf of

Mr. de Kock, known as Prime Evil for his adeptness at death, was part of a breed of hit squad operatives who

By Brian Knowlton

WASHINGTON - President Bill

Clinton moved Wednesday to renew most-favored-nation trade treatment for China, saying that the nuclear tests by India and Pakistan demonstrated an urgent need to maintain constructive relations with a country that looms over

"Not to renew would be to sever our linton said. He said it would mean

"turning our back on a fourth of the world at a time when our cooperation for world peace and security is especially important in light of the recent events in South Asia.

New Forces

Vow Strike

In France

By Barry James

PARIS — French transportation

faced further threats of disruption on Wednesday as workers said they would stage walkouts before or during the World Cup soccer tournament, joining striking airline pilots in holding the nation ransom as it prepares for the world's most-

President Jacques Chirac, dining with the French soccer team Wednesday night, urged workers not to

The pilots' strike comes as no surprise. News analysis, Page 6.

ruin the tournament, which has been five years in preparation. He said that the eyes of the world would be on France, and that the welcome for visitors must be "ex-

Railroad workers, however, threatened to worsen transportation

chaos in the country by walking out as the 32-nation tournament gets

For the third straight day, most flights by the state carrier Air

France were grounded on Wednesday as the pilots continued negotiations with management at

Charles de Gaulle International

See STRIKE, Page 8

Newsstand Prices

....C £ 1.00 Nigeria 12600 Naira

ceptional and perfect."

under way next week.

Airport.

watched sporting event.

the region in both bulk and might.

economic and, to a large measure, our strategic relationship with China," Mr.

were deployed to fight the anti-apartheid movement in the 1970s and 1980s, when Mr. Botha was defense minister, prime minister and state president, until his retirement in

Mr. de Kock described the 90 kilo-grams of explosives, silenced Uzis, grenade launchers and reconnaissance tactics that he and about 15 other police officers used in a covert mission to bomb an office building in 1988 where the South African Council of Churches was headquartered. A Botha cabinet minister has previously stated in a sworn affidavit that the order for the bombing, in which 21 people were injured, came from Mr. Botha, Mr. de Kock also said he received the police Star of Excellence, approved by Mr. Botha, for the 1982 bombing of the headquarters of the African National Congress in London.

Archbishop Tutu, chairman of the commission, described the pains that he and the truth commission took to convince Mr. Botha to speak of the policies of the State Security Council over which he presided and help solve the riddle of unsolved brutalities of the past. The commission had no in-

See BOTHA, Page 8

Clinton Backs China's Trade Status

President, Citing New Nuclear Race, Calls Beijing Key to Stability tests by both sides as "self-defeating, wasteful and dangerous."

He added: "The international community must come together and move

Madeleine Albright, appearing with Mr. Clinton, called on the Pakistani and

A-call for CIA overhaul . France points to India-China ties. Page 4.

Indian governments to "cool it." The nuclear tests, she added, posed "an immediate threat to international peace."

leaving for Geneva, where representatives of the five permanent members of the United Nations Security Council will

Mrs. Albright spoke hours before

At the same time, Secretary of State

them to reverse course.

100 Killed in German Train Crash

Wreckage of the high-speed German train was tangled with the tracks and the bridge that collapsed in Eschede.

AGENDA

Heavy Fighting

In Horn of Africa

Heavy fighting broke out early

Wednesday between Ethiopian and Eritrean troops along their common border, dealing a serious blow to diplomatic efforts to avert full-scale war between the former allies,

Eritrean officials and witnesses said. The Ethiopian troops used tanks and heavy artillery in the assault, Eritrea said. Page 9.

Many Children In Wreckage; A Nightmare Under Bridge

By Alan Cowell New York Times Service

ESCHEDE, Germany — In a caextended in the category of the category and a teature and

It was the worst rail crash in postwar German history, and it stunned the

The Lower Saxony state Interior Ministry spokesman, Frank Lukashweski, confirmed that 100 bodies had been recovered. The final death toll was thought likely to climb. Some reports said nearly 300 people were injured.

"There were legs, arms, from adults and children, men and women," a rescue worker said

Gerhard Bleyl, who lives near the tracks, said, "You could hear children crying for their mothers.

This is the worst thing I have ever seen," said a fire service officer, Andreas Koch.

On its 800-kilometer (500-mile) journey from Munich to Hamburg, Inter-City 884 had been right on time at 10:59 A.M. as it approached this quiet town of 6.000 people, 50 kilometers miles north

Then the routine journey for one of the sleek, silver-and-red trains that Germans Railroads call their safest turned to terror for hundreds of passengers.

The bullet-nosed locomotive pulling the 13-car train sped under a road-bridge as the cars behind it spun out of control, according to accounts by rescue workers and railroad officials. "I saw nothing on the tracks as I went under the bridge," said the engineer, who survived unharmed. His name was not immediately made public.

'Then there was a vibration,' he told German television. "Then the automatic brakes came on.

The brakes came on, railroad officials said, because the locomotive had been severed from the rest of the 400-meterlong train. Two cars immediately behind it remained crookedly on the tracks. Then more of them careened over a leafy embankment.

Then, the bridge came crashing down, burying two cars full of people as five or six more cars folded together like playing-cards to create a sculpture of

The cars were so crumpled that it was difficult to determine exactly how many of them there were.

Then, for a moment, all was quiet. There was the silence of the dead, said Mr. Bleyl, a former mineworker, who said he was among the first to arrive at the wreck. "Then we saw about 20 or 30 people who had managed to escape. No one said anything. Then we heard whimpering and screams."

Railroad officials and police said they believed that two separate groups of schoolchildren might have been aboard the train and were in the cars trapped under the debris of the collapsed roadbridge. Medical workers set up a field hospital to perform emergency surgery

See TRAIN, Page 8

Death Toll In Jakarta

By Seth Mydans New York Times Service

Put at 1,188

JAKARTA - Singing, chanting, blowing kisses, waving flags, Jakarta's students were out in force again Wednesday in motorcades of buses and cars that wove through the city demanding. in the happiest manner possible, the downfall of the government.

Bursting with the energy of youth flush with their recent victory in helping to oust former President Suharto, the students seemed to have become an unstoppable force, maintaining their country's momentum for democratic

The military turned out in large numbers along the students' route, blocking key intersections with cordons of soldiers armed with metal staffs and auto-

Though they exchanged smiles and thumbs-up signals with the students, the soldiers were a reminder that demonstrations here can turn violent and

In another reminder, the country's leading human rights group released a report Wednesday that said at least 1,188 people had died in Jakarta in riots that swept the city from May 12 to May 15 after at least four students were shot and killed in a demonstration on the campus of Trisakti University. The number was more than double the initial estimate released by the military.

The student demonstrators Wednesday rejected the slow, deliberate constitutional procedures outlined Tuesday in an interview by President B.J.

See INDONESIA, Page 5

The president denounced the nuclear See CHINA, Page 8 seek, she said, to "prevent the current Lewinsky Sends a Signal She's Looking for a Deal In Exchange for Immunity, She Would Testify

By Peter Baker Washington Post Service

WASHINGTON - In shaking up her legal team this week, Monica Lewinsky sent a strong message to pros-ecutors that she wants to cut a deal in which she would agree to testify whether she had an affair with President Bill Clinton in return for protection from prosecution, according to lawyers close to the case.

With the independent counsel, Kenneth Starr, moving closer to a decision on whether to indict the former White House intern for perjury or other charges, Ms. Lewinsky on Tuesday replaced her lawyer, William Ginsburg, with a pair of Washington's most seasoned white-collar criminal attorneys, Jacob Stein and Plato Cacheris. The choice signaled a return to the strategy of negotiation with Mr. Starr rather than confrontation. While Mr. Ginsburg publicly criticized the independent counsel as a "monster," Mr. Stein and Mr. Cacheris are better known for working out agreements to avoid trials, having played prominent roles in some of Washington's most famous scandals.

The two new lawyers wasted little time reaching out to Mr. Starr by dropping by his office to meet with prosecutors even before Mr. Ginsburg was informed of the change.

Mr. Ginsburg, a Los Angeles medical maloractice lawyer unfamiliar with criminal law or Washington politics, became a familiar figure on television early in the investigation. But his often contradictory statements ultimately convinced the family that he was undermining Ms. Lewinsky's legal position, according to people close to the very bad situation from going worse."

Mrs. Albright said Washington wanted India and Pakistan to halt all nuclear testing and not to deploy nuclear ing to chair the Geneva meeting, calling

China can play in meeting the challenges of the 21st century," and of "the con-structive Chinese leadership" needed to resolve long-term issues in South Asia.

growing trade relationship, in justifying renewal of the trade status. "Our exports have tripled over the last decade and now support over 170,000 American jobs," Mr. Clinton said.

The trade status allows Chinese goods

He cited such cooperation, and a

Mr. Clinton praised China for agree-

"evidence of the important role weapons or fit warheads on missiles.

Mr. Ginsburg received word of the switch Monday in a telephone call from Ms. Lewinsky, shortly before she emerged from a Washington office building to showcase her two new lawyers before television cameras. Accompanying them was Nathaniel Speights, a Washington criminal defense lawyer who will continue on her team.

In drawing a sharp contrast with the loquacious Mr. Ginsburg, her new lawyers appeared for just a few moments and said virtually nothing to reporters.

The family issued a statement calling the decision a "mutual agreement" and expressing gratitude for Mr. Ginsburg's work. In an interview, Mr. Ginsburg denied that he had been dismissed, say ing he consented to the move because his strained relations with Mr. Starr and my strong feelings about the impropriety of his approach" may have made it too problematic for him to represent her.

Mr. Stein and Mr. Cacheris are among Washington's most well-connected and experienced attorneys. Mr. Stein brings the experience of having once been in Mr. Starr's position, serving as an independent counsel himself during the 1980s investigation of

See LAWYERS, Page 8

JERRY BROWN WINS -The former California governor has been elected the new mayor of Oakland. Page 3.

Chunnel Rail Link The British government en-dorsed a new plan Wednesday for a high-speed rail link to the Channel Tunnel. But there was no guaranteeing that the entire link to Central London would be built any time soon. Page 15.

The Dollar

1.7693

1.639

Vednesday 6 4 P M. previous close

Yen	138.6	D	138,695
FF	5.934	5	5.97
2000	The D	ow
	Wednesday	close	previous close
-87.44	8803.	80	8891.24
	S&P	500
change	Wednesday @	4 P.M.	previous close
-10.53	1082.	89	1093.22
Books			Page 9.
Crossw	ord,		Page 6.
),
Sports.		P	ages 22-23.
The	IHT on-line	Man entit	ibt.com

Another Crisis for Yeltsin

The 'Old Lion' Stirs to Face Financial Challenge

By Celestine Bohlen New York Times Service

MOSCOW — There's nothing like a crisis to propel President Boris Yeltsin into action, and the bottoming out of Russia's financial markets in recent weeks did the trick once again.

Night after night, Mr. Yeltsin has been shown on television, filling the airwaves with proof of a crisis-packed schedule, meeting in turn with media chiefs, bankers and government officials, threatening and cajoling each group with his familiar bluster.

For the first time in a long time, he teamed up squarely with his own government, placing calls to foreign leaders on its behalf, taking on himself the politically difficult task of selling its package of painful budget cuts to a special meeting of legislators set for late June. For a leader with a track record for short days, long absences and an uncertain attention span, problems that are only partially explained by heart sur-gery in late 1996, Mr. Yeltsin's recent performance has convinced observers here and abroad that the 67-year-old Russian president is back on the job -maybe not to the extent that his appearances are designed to suggest, but enough to prove that he is still in command.

Russians snap up bonds, betting that emergency aid is coming. Page 13.

The question — once again — is how much longer he can keep it up.

"If you look at the evidence over the past several weeks, it seems more and more certain that he is not giving any serious consideration to retirement, one Western diplomat said. "Running for a third term is something that is very definitely on his mind."

The financial panic that hit Russia

Ethnic Albanians' Flight Evokes Fear of Wider War sistance to their authority in the secessionist province

By Christine Spolar Washington Post Service

PADESH, Albania - Weary ethnic Albanians from Kosovo, fleeing Serbian soldiers down kilometer after kilometer of rocky and isolated goat paths, are pouring into northern Albania, raising concern that the strife in Kosovo could spill beyond the borders of the tense

Serbian province.

With no sign of a lemp in sight, a major Serb assault on ethnic Albanian villages in Kosovo drove a new wave of refugees into Albania on Wednesday and sent thousands more seeking the safety of border highlands. The Serb offensive is aimed at crushing reof southern Serbia, where ethnic Albanians outnumber Serbs by 9 to 1.

Tropoje, which is 5 kilometers from the border and has become the center of the international relief effort, is overwhelmed with refugees. Residents there are trying to help, with some taking as many as 18 people into their homes.

More than 1,600 refugees have registered for as-sistance with representatives of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in the town of Tropoje. International aid workers were getting reports that about 2,000 additional refugees had reached Albania and could be in Tropoje within days.

"It will put a huge strain on this region, which is one of the poorest in Europe," said Andrew Harper, a field officer for the UN refugee commission. "The coming week is critical.'

New arrivals say that villages throughout western Kosovo have been emptied of people during an offense by Serbian military forces. Dozens of people are reported to have been killed.

Several villages have been burned to the ground and thousands of people are now homeless. The Serbian military drive in Kosovo, where ethnic Albanians make up 90 percent of the population, is the

See KOSOVO, Page 8

See RUSSIA, Page 9

Bahrah 1.000 BD Malta...

to this cause.

According to a re-cent World Health Organization study, 58

women are known to die each day on this continent from the consequences of attempting to end their

Abortion in Africa Takes Heavy Toll

By Howard W. French New York Times Service

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast - In a panic when she found herself pregnant for the first time three years ago, Fernande Aka, a slender, soft-spoken high school senior, drank a concoction of nearly frozen Coca-Cola and wine mixed with a heavy dose of sugar that her schoolmates swore would make an unwanted pregnancy go away.

When that did not work, she felt she had no choice but to approach her mother, who took her one morning to a public hospital and after hushed hallway negotiations with medical personnel there paid $60 for the illegal termination of the two-month-old

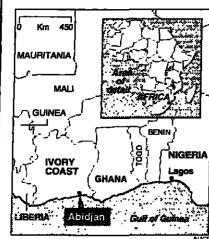

Last year, when Miss Aka got pregnant again, she and her boyfriend decided to forgo the embarrassment of dealing with parents and scraped to-gether about $30, which they took to an undercover abortion clinic.

'The doctor took new patients, three of us at a time, into his clinic, and we were all treated very quickly," Miss Aka said. "There was no anesthetic, he just kept talking to me the whole while. Within 15 minutes we were on our way."

That night, however, Miss Aka's troubles began with heavy bleeding and abdominal pains that still come and go, as do unusual vaginal discharges. Worse, she suspects she is In a cruel sense, Miss Aka, who is now 19, is very lucky. She has already seen several classmates die from selfadministered abortions.

All across Africa, where all but a handful of governments outlaw abor-tion, statistical indications of the consequences of clandestine procedures are appalling. In one country after another, problems related to pregnancy are the lead-ing cause of death for women of childbearing age, with complications from abortion consistently ranking at the top of this list. In Ethiopia, for example, 55 percent of maternal mortality stems from illegal abortion. In Nigeria, fully half of the deaths among pregnant women can be traced

At right, Fernande Aka, 19. The Abidjan resident fears she is sterile after undergoing two abortions pregnancies using homemade "cures" infinitesimal tip of the iceberg.

"Forty percent of the women who come to Treicheville hospital come because of traditional or back-alley abortions," said a doctor at one of this city's largest hospitals who spoke on the condition of anonymity. "Between 16 and 18 percent of these wornen die without leaving the hospital."
Dr. Christiane Welflens, director of obstetrics at Yopougon University Hospital Center, one of Abidjan's largest public hospitals, said: "Twenty percent of the women who die during pregnancy die from the consequences of clandestine abortion. This represents the central drama of reproductive health in Africa. And the women who do not die are condemned to bear heavy consequences for their health far into the future, from sterility to chronic pain to psychological scars."

Despite this toll, because of persistent inequalities between men and women, poverty and low literacy rates, the legal status of abortion receives little of the public discussion in Africa that has made it a central political issue in the United States. In fact, the reproductive health care needs of women in general scarcely figure in the public policy debate.

In many of our countries abortion is treated as a symptom of moral weakness, with a stigma of looseness attached to the woman who undergoes the procedure," said Dr. Pape Syr Diagne, director of the Center for Family Studies in Nairobi, a nonprofit organization that conducts training and research in reproductive health.

"Abortion is a sensitive topic in any country, but in much of Africa, its public discussion is virtually taboo."

In Ivory Coast, as in most of the former French colonies in Africa, laws forbidding abortion derive from French legislation of the 1920s that punished incitement to abortion and the distribution of contraceptives." During his first power, Ivory Coast's founding father, the late President Felix Houphouet-Boigny, encouraged people to have large families and forbade Western decades

homemade "cures" and fortude western aid groups from organic munsafe underground clinics.

Many public health experts, however, say this figure probably represents an infinitesimal tip of the iceberg.

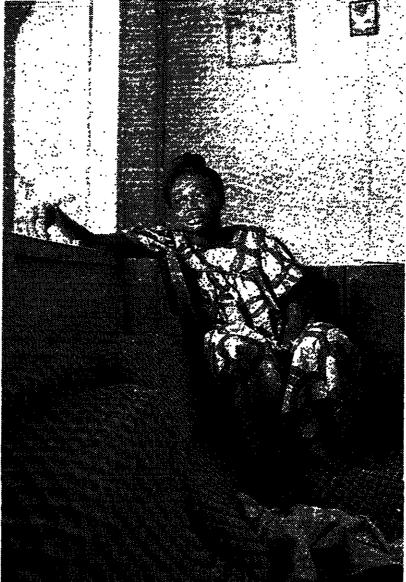

"Forty percent of the women who come to Treicheville hospital come to Trei ulated to develop economically, because of factors ranging from tropical disease to the slave trade.

This policy, combined with social traditions that measure a family's wealth by the number of children and, in many places, with the influence of the Roman Catholic Church's prohibition on artificial means of birth control, have severely impeded any campaigns for modern family planning or legalized abortion.

"Things have relaxed here somewhat since Houphouet," said an official at one major international aid agency in Abidjan who spoke on condition of anonymity. "But the government would still like us not to make too much noise about birth control, and is certainly not interested in having a debate about abortion."

At the Ministry of Health in Abidjan, officials say flatly that the country is "just not ready" for legalized abor-tion — and, in fact, may never be.

"Abortion is not a means of birth control, and legalizing it would make people think that we were advocating it as such, which is definitely not the message we want to express," said Dr. Robert Ezzo, a Health Ministry official. "The ministry is far more concerned with prevention from the outset, to avoid even the notion of unwanted pregnancies."

Miss Aka spends much of her time regretting that she had not been better informed about her choices before her second pregnancy. After her first abortion, she said, she had taken birth control pills for a while, but abandoned them and other forms of contraception when she felt chest pal-

These days, the shy but articulate high school student is preparing for the baccalaureate examination that will determine whether she will be admitted to university next fall, allowing her, she hopes, to achieve her dream of becoming a French language teacher some day.

She is also desperately scraping together money to determine the viability of another dream: eventually having children. At the clinic where her second abortion was performed, the doctor told her that she would need to have three tests done to see if she is still fertile. The tests cost a total of $35, a sum she would have difficulty raising without the help of her mother, whom she was too afraid to tell about her second abortion.

"While I was waiting to see the doctor I sat next to a couple of young students who were about to have an abortion," Miss Aka said, "I told them what had happened to me and asked them if they were sure they wanted to go ahead. The girl didn't say anything, but the boy turned to me and said: 'We don't have the money to raise a child now. It is too late to turn back.'"

Iran Reports Big Spendim Result our To Born Co. To Bomb Site Of Elite Guard

Compiled by Our Stuff From Dispatche TEHRAN — Iran said Wednesday that it had foiled an attack by Iraq-based rebels against the Tehran headquarters of the Revolutionary Guards after two explosions, one of which killed three people at a court building.

people at a court building.

The official press agency IRNA said the second blast occurred Tuesday night in a military industrial building in the

in a military industrial building in the capital, without causing casualties.

State television said the attempted bombing by the "hypocrite terrorist group" was foiled and the attackers fled from the Revolutionary Guards' headquarters when challenged but left explosives and ammunition at the scene. Hypocrites — monafeqin in Persian—is the term used by the Iranian government to describe the Iraq-based armed Mujahidin Khalq, the main rebel opposition group.

opposition group.
The group, designated by the U.S. State Department last year as a foreign terrorist organization, took responsibility for the blast at the courthouse. IRNA said two children and an IraJerry Brown I low

Starr Asks High

Publisher Russian I

1:5:1

R≥ _

OT ⊃ ::

E

Mil.

In:

MERICAN

Editor .

nian man of Armenian descent were killed in the blast at the courthouse. which also wounded six people.

In the Iraqi capital, Baghdad, a spokesman for the opposition group warned of more attacks. "Our units inside Iran will escalate attacks against the regime," said the spokesman, Mohammed Mohaddessin. In a statement, the rebel group said it carried out the bombing as well as two mortar attacks Tuesday on the Central Command Headquarters of the Islamic Revolutionary Guards Corps and the Defense Industries Organization in the capital.

The statement said the three attacks were in retaliation for the killing of its members by the Iranian government in

The Iranian Parliament speaker, Ah Akbar Nateq-Nouri, said opposing factions should set aside their disputes in the face of the attacks, which coincide with events marking the death on June 3, 1989, of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. "One gets the impression that bandits, the hypocrites and spies have all become more active, thinking the time is ripe for them," he said. "Sometimes inopportune remarks and wrong actions and analyses encourage them."

Conservatives and backers of President Mohammed Khatami, a moderate, have clashed, sometimes violently, on a variety of issues since his election last

Analysts say hopes for change through reforms engendered by Mr. Khatami's election have sapped the Muiahidin's chances of gai support. But the group says sharpened factional conflicts have helped it by weakening the Tehran government. (Reuters, AP)

■ Khatami to Go to UN

Asia

President Khatami, who has sought a more moderate course for Iran since his election a year ago, plans to go to the United States to address the UN General Assembly in September, The Associated Press reported from Tehran, quoting a government official.

Sheikh Shaaban, Sunni Cleric, Is Dead

BEIRUT — Sheikh Saced Shaaban, 69, the fiery Sunni Muslim cleric who led a militia force during the Lebanese civil war two decades ago, advocating Islamic rule in the land of multiple faiths. died Monday.

The Tawheed, or Unification Movement, headed by the sheikh, said in a statement that the cleric suffered a heart attack after returning home from evening prayers at a mosque in the northern port of

The bearded "emir" of the Tawheed dominated the life of Tripoli, Lebanon's secondlargest city, in the early 1980s when the country was fractured into sectarian mini-

He wrested control of Tripoli's streets from its moderate traditional politicians and became a leading Sunni fundamentalist in this Muslim-Christian nation of

DEATH NOTICE

Ms Rava Markon his mother, New York. Ms Genya Markon his sister. Washington. Dov and Yaron Yarkoni his nephews, Tel Aviv, the entire family and his many friends announce with sadness the death of

Alaio MARKON attorney at law. member of the Paris, New York, Washington DC and California Bars, on May 31st, 1998. in Neuilly-sur-Seine, after a long illness supported with courage and dignity. A private funeral service will take place at the Ferneliff cemetery, Hartsdale, New York.

1, rue Aumont-Thiéville 75017 Paris

he sided with the Palestinian health since suffering a head zation guerrillas who made a said Tuesday. last stand in Tripoli before Tunisia after a siege by Syrian-backed Lebanese leftist

Dorothy Stickney, 101, Broadway's Vinnie Day NEW YORK (NYT) -

Dorothy Stickney, 101, who created the role of the mother in "Life With Father" and also appeared in many other Broadway hits during a career that spanned more than 50 years, died Tuesday at her at home in Manhattan. "Life With Father," by Howard Lindsay (Miss Stickney's husband) and Russel Crouse, opened at the original Empire Theater on Nov. 8. When it closed after seven vears and 3,224 performances, it was — and it still is today — the longest running nonmusical show in Broadway history.

The Lindsays, who were among the most celebrated acting couples in the United States, played the leading roles of Clarence and Vinnie Day for five years.

Based on Clarence Day's reminiscences about youth in New York in the 1880s, the play told the story of a large family, led by a frequently exasperated fa-ther, tempered by his charming wife who put up with all his temperamental crotchety behavior.

Leon Lianides, 81,

Owner of Coach House NEW YORK (NYT) -Leon Lianides, 81, the demanding owner of the Coach House restaurant in Greenwich Village, died on Monday at his home in Riverdale.

3.2 million people. In 1983. He had been in declining government career in 1939 in the sided with the Palestinian health since suffering a head Moscow as a Russian trans.

Vatican Selects EI AI organizing pilgrimages to the Holy I and during the millennium. leader, Yasser Arafat, and his injury in a car accident in lator and interpreter for the Palestine Liberation Organi- 1991, his wife, Aphrodite, U.S. Embassy. After World in 1949, when fine dining being evacuated by sea to in America meant French cuisine, Mr. Lianides started his restaurant, determined to create a first-class establishment devoted primarily to American food.

Helen Carter, 70, Country Music Singer

NASHVILLE, Tennessee (AP) - Helen Carter, 70, who sang with the seminal country music group the Carter Family, died Tuesday Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

She stopped performing about three years ago because of her health, and a sister, Anita Carter, said she had been hospitalized for most of the past year because of stornach problems.

Willis Armstrong,86, a former assistant secretary of state who served on a senior review panel of the Central Intelligence Agency during the early 1980s, died Sunday. Mr. Armstrong began his Moscow as a Russian trans-U.S. Embassy. After World War II, he transferred to the State Department in Washington as an adviser on international trade.

Joyce Ingram, 42, a deputy managing editor of The Virginian-Pilot in Norfolk, Virginia, died Tuesday after a sudden and undisclosed illness. She had worked at the newspaper since 1994, after a decade at the Philadelphia Daily News.

John McKelway, 72, a columnist for two generations of Washington-area readers of The Evening Star and then The Washington Times, died of cancer Monday. Mr. McKelway wrote "The Rambler" column from the late 1950s until The Evening Star folded in 1981. He moved to The Washington Times.

Joseph (J.R.) Russo, 67, a reputed captain of the New England mafia and convicted murderer, died of throat cancer Monday in a federal prison hospital in Missouri.

Free Reports The Risks And Rewards Of Trading Foreign Exchange The World's Largest Marketplace Preparing & Benefiting from Stock Market Uncertainty, Interest Rate Hikes, EMU, and the Asian Market Crisis Prepare for tomorrow's major market moves by calling for our complimentary reports and services guide Toll-Free today Belgium 080015880 Brazil Denmark 80018132 Finland Greece 08800118213013 Germany 0800902246 Greece 008 g 800967209 Irrael 0031126609 Korea 98800878478 Netherlands 050112632 Singapere 900931007 Sweden 020793158 That 001800119216613 USA

TRAVEL UPDATE

JERUSALEM (AP) - The Vatican has chosen Israel's national carrier, El Al, as the official pilgrims' airline for the millennium, an El Al Israel Airlines spokesman said Wednesday.

An estimated 7 million tourists are expected to fly to the Holy Land during 2000, and El Al has added eight planes to handle the extra passengers, said Nahman Klieman of El Al.

El Al was chosen by Opera Romana an organ of the Vatican responsible for Land during the millennium.

Cyprus Airways Strike

NICOSIA (AFP) — Dozens of flights in and out of Cyprus will be grounded on Friday when about 1,000 staff members at the national carrier Cyprus Airways stage a 24-hour strike.

The Cyprus commerce minister, Nicos Rolandis, warned that the stoppage would wreak untold damage at the start of the island's peak holiday season.

WEATHER

Forecast for Friday through Sunday, as provided by AccuWeather. North America

The weather will be very Very chilty as will visit the An active storm track will be cool across Canada and British Isles, resulting in the northern hall of the clouds and showers. The derstorms to Japan and United States, so be sure to pack a lew wamer articles of clothing. Warm, delay finghts into Paris, humid air, closhing with Brussels and Amsterdam, where, last travel will be very cool air, will ingger theavy rain from central noon. Warm weather and Texas to south coastal New England; dry weather southern Europe

In the West. 1861 2256 1961 pt 2879 1861 pt 2879 1865 pt

One of the few predictable elements of travel. The Teading Hotels of the World Over 300 of the World's finest hotels in 68 countries. Your Host Today

THE MENA HOUSE OBEROI CAIRO, EGYPT

A two-month trial subscription. Save up to $\underline{60}\%$

Try a special, low cost 2-month trial subscription to the International Herald Tribune to enjoy delivery to your home or office every morning AND save up to 60% off the newsstand price.

COUNTRY/CURRENCY		2 MONTHS NEWSSTAND PRICE	2 MONTHS OFFER PRICE	SAVING OFF COVER PRICE
AUSTRIA	ATS	1,455	650	55%
BELGIUM/LUXEMB.	BEF	3,320	1,350	00~
DENMARK	DKK	700 :	360	54
FINLAND	FIM	624	310	50
FRANCE	FF	520 !	210	60-
GERMANY	DEM	132	72	60".
GREAT BRITAIN	ç	. 47	22	50.
HONG KONG	HKS	728 :	309	571
ISRAEL	NIS	253	105	60
ITALY	ΠL	145,600	58 000	60
JAPAN	7	26 000	72,750	53 .
MALAYSIA	P.M.	182	103	40°.
NETHERLANDS	NLG	195	7.8	50
NORWAY	NOK	832	390	53
SINGAPORE	55	161	82	÷9°
SPAIN	PTAS	11 700	5.000	57%
SWEDEN	SEK	832	250	58
SWITZERLAND	CHF	166	65	60
USA	5	7€ .	43 !	45
FOR OTHER COUNT	RIES, PLI	EASE CONTACT Y	OUR NEAREST	IHT OFFICE
			_

Yes, I would like to start receiving the International Herald Tribun

My check is enclosed (payable to the IHT) Charge my: Amex Diners VISA Access MasterCard Europe

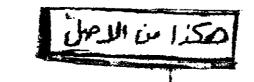

ASIA 1201 K Wah Centre, 191 Java Road, North Point, Hong Kong Fax: +852 2922 1199, Tel: +852 2922 1171 ht.com – Asia: subshk@inht.com – Internat: www.itt.com Offer valid for new subscribers only.
HATM

Printed by Newsfax International, London. Registered as a newspaper at the post office.

44/111 28/82 e 45/13 26/79 a 24/76 18/84 po 23/73 18/81 e 31/88 18/85 pc 34/93 17/82 p 28/82 13/85 pc 32/83 12/83 e 25/77 11/82 e 27/80 12/83 e 41/108 18/84 e 43/109 19/86 a 42/107 28/82 e 42/107 27/80 o

30765 18964 s 27/90 13/55 pc 14/57 7/44 pc 14/57 9/48 r 19965 13/55 pc 18/65 15/35 pc 28/62 13/55 s 37/88 13/55 s 28/64 23/73 r 28/64 23/73 sh 24/75 13/55 sh 26/79 13/65 c 23/83 16/65 pc 33/97 20/68 s

Africa

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1998

THE AMERICAS

Big Spenders Are the Losers in California Vote

Referendum Result Curbs Bilingual Education

LOS ANGELES - California voters dismantled the could vote for any candidate state's bilingual education system, rejected an initiative ation. to curb union power and dealt primary election defeats to big-spending candidates in voting Tuesday.

Davis, a career politician known for his bland personality, overcame his flashier millionaire opponents to win the Democratic nomination for governor. He beat Representative Jane Harman and a former Northwest Airlines executive, Al Checchi, both of whom had swamped the state with television ads.

Mr. Davis had 35 percent of the vote, Mr. Checchi had 13 percent and Ms. Harman $10 million of his own money

Jerry Brown Elected

OAKLAND, California - Jerry Brown, the former

California governor and iconoclastic presidential candiate, made a triumphant return to politics Tuesday by his unconventional ways as governor in the 1970s and early '80s, led a crowded field with 59 percent of the vote.

By getting a majority, he avoided a November runoff.

But Mr. Brown did not consider it a total victory.

feel so safe that they start taking the bars off the windows and the gates in front of their doors come down," he told

Ed Blakely, an urban planning professor, followed Mr.

Brown with 15 percent of the vote, while the NAACP

In a city plagued with crime and poverty, Mr. Brown-a two-term governor and three-time presidential candidate - touted Oakland as the perfect place to start on his supporters Tuesday night. "That's the victory."

chapter president, Shannon Reeves, had 7 percent.

his road back to democracy's grass roots.

Mr. Brown, 60, dubbed "Governor Moonbeam" for

The victory will come when the people of Oakland

Mayor of Oakland

winning his bid to become mayor of Oakland.

primary, in which anyone regardless of party affili-

In the general election in November, Mr. Davis will face Attorney General Dan Lungren, a Republican, who Lieutenant Governor Gray got 33 percent of the vote to Javis, a career politician easily defeat token party opposition. The winner will succeed Governor Pete Wilson, a

> In the Republican primary for U.S. Senate, the state treasurer, Matt Fong, defeated a car-alarm magnate, Darrell Issa, despite his opponent's spending four time as much money. Mr. Issa paid for TV ads, but got only 19

It was the state's first open percent of the vote against rimary, in which anyone Mr. Fong's 22 percent.

Mr. Fong will face an incumbent Democrat, Senator Barbara Boxer, who got 44 percent of the vote and won the nomination over token opposition.

Spending in the state's top races eclipsed $100 million, an unprecedented total for a primary election.

By a margin of 61 percent Republican, who must leave to 39 percent, voters ap-office because of a two-term proved Proposition 227, which rejects the state's 30year-old system of bilingual education and replaces it with an English immersion pro-gram after one year of transition classes. Parents can get bilingual education for their children, but only under limited conditions.

Voters rejected Proposi-tion 226, which would have required the approval of union members before labor leaders could use their dues to support candidates, usually Democrats. Fifty-four percent voted against the initi-ntive; 46 percent voted yes.

Former Representative
Bob Dornan won the Republican primary for his old seat. getting another chance at Representative Loretta Sanchez, the Democrat who defeated him two years ago.

U.S. Representative Jay Kim, a Republican, did not the support of such nationally fare so well. Under house arrest in Washington for accepting illegal campaign con-tributions, Mr. Kim was defeated by Assemblyman Gary Miller.

■ Runoff in Alabama

In primary voting elsewhere, Governor Fob James of Alabama disappointed social conservatives by being forced into a runoff for the Republican nomination.

Gray Davis, winner of the Democratic nomination for California governor, waving to supporters Tuesday.

not embarrassed at being forced into the June 30 vote against a moderate businessman, Winton Blount, despite known conservatives as the Reverend Jerry Falwell, Phyllis Schlafly and Raiph Reed.

More than 300,000 Republicans voted in the primary, breaking the party record of 215,000 in 1996. It was the first time Republican voters outnumbered Democrats.

The Democratic nominee Lieutenant Governor Don Siegelman, who beat three rivals for the nomination. In Iowa, where Governor mond, a Republican.

The governor said he was Terry Branstad, a Republican, is retiring after four terms, former Representative Jim Ross Lightfoot, the Republican nominee, will face state Senator Tom Vilsack, a Democrat.

> In New Mexico, former Mayor Martin Chavez of Albuquerque won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and will face Governor Gary Johnson, a Republican.

State Attorney General Tom Udall, son of a former interior secretary, Stewart Udall, won the Democratic nomination and will face U.S. Representative Bill Red-

POLITICAL NOTES

So, Who Is a Reporter? Drudge Meets the Press

WASHINGTON — When Matt Drudge moved out of Washington, he was working the swing shift at a 7-Eleven convenience store. A year ago, only a few digerati knew his name. On Tuesday, the Internet gossip columnist strolled into the very epicenter of the media establishment — the mess club's the media establishment—the press club's flag-bedecked ballroom— and was greeted, as featured luncheon speaker, by nine television cameras, a packed house and a raft of hostile questions.

But Mr. Drudge's persona — alternately swaggering and charmingly goofy — seemed to win over many of the 200

The introduction by the club president, Doug Harbrecht, Washington news editor of Business Week, was less than glowing. There aren't many in this hallowed room who consider you a journalist," he said.

Mr. Drudge, 31, talked about his humble beginnings as an "aimless teen" who did not go to college but somehow harnessed the power of the Internet. This, he said, is "an era vibrating with the din of small voices. Every citizen can be a reporter, can take on the powers that be."

The Drudge Report, produced on an old 486 computer from a $600-a-month Los Angeles apartment, initially had 5 or 10 readers. But "faster than you can say 'I never had sex with that woman,' it was 1,000," Mr. Drudge cracked, and now sometimes draws a million visitors a day.

He kept crowing that he "broke" the Monica Lewinsky story, when what he actually did was report that Newsweek was about to report the allegations. But he took delight in such journalistic thievery, saying people are hungry for unedited information.

"No middleman, no Big Brother."

Asked about his reporting of "unfounded allegations," he spun a tale involving tially, is national security. Beyond that, the Weekly Standard, which recently we'll see where it leads us." (WP) settled a libel suit; CNN and NBC, which were sued by Richard Jewell, the vindicated Olympic bombing suspect, and the Wall Street Journal, which lost a libel suit in

Senate Decides to Pass On Nuclear Waste Bill

WASHINGTON - The Senate refused Tuesday to take up a fiercely contested bill to create a temporary nuclear waste storage facility in the Nevada desert after critics charged that debate over it would interrupt and possibly thwart action on the highpriority tobacco bill.

Senator Harry Reid, Democrat of Nevada, one of the leaders of the fight against the nuclear waste bill, said that the chairman of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, Frank Murkowski, Republican of Alaska, had told him that no further attempts would be made this year to force Senate action on the measure.

Just as the Senate was voting, the House speaker, Newt Gingrich, Republican of Georgia, said that he expected no action on the legislation this year. He cited a "crowded calendar and the strong opposition of some members". sition of some members."

President Bill Clinton had threatened to veto the bill, and the Senate appeared to be at least two votes short of the two-thirds majority required to overturn a veto. (WP)

Quote/Unquote

The Senate majority leader, Trent Lott, Republican of Mississippi, promising not to use the Senate's investigations of missiletechnology transfers to China as a political club against the Clinton administration:
"We're not approaching it from that standpoint. Our greatest concern, at least ini-

Starr Asks High Court to Rule Now on Privilege

By Susan Schmidt Washington Post Service

WASHINGTON - The independent counsel, Kenneth Starr, has asked the Supreme Court to decide quickly whether to compel testimony not only from President Bill Clinton's White House lawyers but also from the Secret Service officers who

The Monica Lewinsky investigation presents "a grave set of circumstances" that the nation needs resolved soon, Mr. Starr said in urging the court to bypass the appeals court in two privilege disputes.

the Los Angeles Times has sent an unusual memorandum to his staff, apologizing for causing offense by suggesting that the newspaper could increase its female readership by offering more emotional and less analytical articles.

to stereotype women in an exceptionally unfortunate way," Mark Willes, the publisher, said in the message. "The plain fact is, I misspoke. And for this I feel doubly badly and extend my profound apologies to anyone whom I of-fended.

"I made some comments that seemed

The White House declined to comment on the Secret Service move. But the court that the president's effort to Clinton aides again criticized Mr. Starr for seeking the expedited review on attorney-client privilege, calling it an unwarranted departure from standard procedure.

"Mr. Starr himself has said, "In court there are a lot of rules and you ing the high court's intervention on better play by them.' That's exactly what we're doing in going to the court of appeals," said a White House

"Mr. Starr is trying to end-run the rules and leapfrog the legal process," said Mr. Kennedy, who called the court filing "a vehicle for rhetoric in the place of legal substance."

On Mr. Clinton's claim of antorney-client privilege, Mr. Starr told more than 200 angry staff members in a meeting that was among the biggest in

The gathering came in response to Mr. Willes's suggestions, published in

The Wall Street Journal and The New York Times, that editors might start counting the number of minority and female sources quoted in articles, to make the newspaper more appealing to respond to articles told in a more per-

And he suggested that women would the memory of that newsroom.

Publisher Regrets Using 'Stereotype'

New York Times Service

The apology came about three weeks
WASHINGTON—The publisher of after Mr. Willes was confronted by block testimony by government lawyers in a criminal investigation of himself is, except for President Richard Nixon's Watergate battle, "with-out parallel" in American history.

In a separate filing aimed at gain-the Secret Service's assertion of a legal privilege, Mr. Starr wrote that 'only this court has the moral aua final ruling on what the Secret Service plainly believes is a sensitive, life-or-death issue."

The Secret Service director, Lewis Merletti, has argued that compelling their testimony would endanger the president's life, while Mr. Starr called the Secret Service evidence

"some of the most important testimony" in his investigation.

The independent counsel is seeking to short-circuit months of po-tential appeals court delays in resolving both privilege claims. His filings came a day after Mr. Clinton's decision to abandon his appeal on the claim of executive privilege while continuing the fight to shield White

Chief Judge Norma Holloway Johnson of U.S. District Court ruled in Mr. Starr's favor on both matters last month.

"More months of protracted litigation are inimical to the nation's wellbeing," Mr. Starr wrote. "The facts are needed and they are needed now."

Away From Politics

A law that limits damages in high-seas accidents will not apply to lawsuits filed on behalf of the passengers killed in the crash of TWA Flight 800 two years ago, a U.S. District Court judge ruled. (NYT)

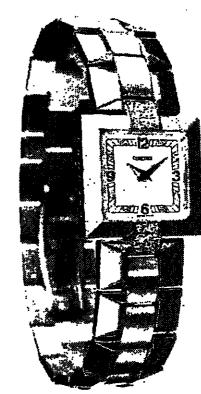

• A patriarch in a polygamist clan has been charged in Salt Lake City with beating his 16-year-old daughter, allegedly because she did not want to be the 15th wife of his brother.

(AP)

 The California Supreme Court refused to block the execution of Horace Kelly, a triple murderer who was found sane by a jury despite testimony that he talks gibberish and seems to believe he is in college rather than on death row.

• A Roman Catholic Bishop, Joseph Keith Symons, resigned from his Palm Beach diocese after admitting to molesting five boys. (AP)

CONCORD LA SCALA® An impassioned annocach in time The rich patina white gold,

Safran JOANLERIE

Paris, France Tbl.: +33 1 45 61 82 09

CHIMENTO

that exhilicat

one's refined

MATCHPOINT JEWELLERS London, United Kingdom

AMERICAN TOPICS

The Return of the Trolley Car

With nostalgic images of friendly little trolley cars full of smiling riders chugging cleanly up city hills, several localities have been moving to revive the transit systems. now more commonly known as light rail. Popular earlier in the century, trolley cars saw their numbers fall nationwide, from 27,000 in 1940, to 1,300 in 1970, as cars and buses filled the roads. Then, as high gasoline prices and environmental concerns changed sensibilities, new federal funds became available to make rail transit attractive. In the few cities where street rail had survived — Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco — there was money to buy new cars.

Eight years ago, electric trains began running between Los Angeles and Long Beach, where they had vanished almost 30 years earlier, reports American Heritage magazine. There are lines in cities from Baltimore and Buffalo in the East to Portland and Vancouver in the West, Other cities, seeking to overcome congestion and pollution, are examining driverless electric cars on elevated tracks. Still, the debate continues. "I can't understand, on any rational basis at least, this fascination with light rail," a Harvard economist, John Kain, said a few years ago. Rail systems are costly to build - Baltimore is considering a driverless system that would cost $70 million a mile — and have none of buses' flexibility. Detroit spends $8 million a year to subsidize its 3-mile (4.8-kilometer) system.

Boosters, however, insist that light-rail systems can spur development, promote tourism and push up land values. And many rail aficionados admit that their love affair with light rail goes beyond the strictly rational.

Short Takes

sonal style.

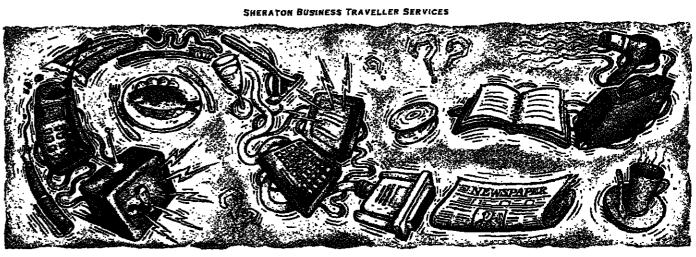

A small but growing number of Christian-oriented nightchubs has sprung up across the United States to offer young people a no-alcohol, no-smoke, no-sex nightlife alternative. At Club Jesus, in New Carollton, Maryland, the partying starts with a prayer, and the drinks, like many of the patrons, are virgin, reports The Washington Post. "What happens here," said the deejay, Walter (WB) Brown, "is no different than any other club, except the music happens to be gospel, and it's a wholesome, Christian environment."

Dozens of such clubs from New York to Los Angeles offer live music, stand-up comedians and karaokes, but without the usual temptations.

Most Americans, including more than half of gun owners, favor stricter gun-control laws, according to a new poll. The Louis Harris survey, which follows a series of shootings in the nation's schools, found that 69 percent of Americans favor stricter controls, while 23 percent want controls to be eased. The percentage of people owning guns has also fallen. In 1973, 48 percent of adults had guns in their homes; today the figure is 32 percent.

The New York Times reports this tale, told by a New York eye doctor: An Italian friend was visiting the city after a long absence. He commented over dinner about how impressed he was with the cleanliness of the city and the results of a mayoral campaign to improve the quality of life. But then he said he was surprised that prostitution appeared to be on the rise.

How had he reached that conclusion, his host asked. Well, the man said, everywhere he went there were well-dressed women idling in doorways smoking. His host had to inform him that this was merely a result of the city's anti-smoking regulations.

YOU'VE PLANNED EVERYTHING, BUT FORGOTTEN SOMETHING.

Trust Sheraton and AT&T to make your life easier and more productive.

In addition to fully equipped business centres, there's free early ATET departure coffee, late night dining and fast check-in and check-out. Another advantage is the AT&T Direct Service Speed Dial Feature in many rooms. Just the touch of a button provides fast connections, with the clearest sound quality* on calls back to the U.S. We've thought of everything, so you don't have to. For reservations, call our Global Toll Free

no. 00800-325353535 or visit www.sheraton.com.

Or to know more about AT&T, see www.att.com/traveler.

Clearest based on 1997 customer preference study.

U.S. Should Push Talks to Ease New Delhi Fears, Paris Believes

By Joseph Fitchett International Herald Tribune

PARIS - France believes that the nuclear breakout on the Asian Subcontinent stems mainly from India's frustration over the behavior of China, including military pressure on New Delhi and missile deliveries to Pakistan.

As the best hope for limiting the longrun dangers, Paris says, Washington should make a regional push to start security talks between Beijing and New Delhi, thereby easing Indian fears, real and imagined, of being militarily en-circled and politically stifled by China.

These views were outlined by French officials ahead of a meeting of the five major nuclear weapons states on Thurs-day in Geneva that could set the tone for the big powers' long-run response to the military tests by India and Pakistan.

"We have indications that the Clinton administration's thinking about the right strategy is not far from ours," a senior French aide said, explaining that Washington and Paris were both focusing immediately on convincing India and Pakistan to help prevent the further spread of nuclear weapons.

The only significant gap between Western nations is France's refusal to impose sanctions on India or Pakistan, and Washington has apparently told Paris that it "understands the French reasons.

French officials said they opposed any suggestion of changing the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty, which specifically bans tests as a way to become a

BEIJING — President Jiang Zemin of China on Wednesday ruled out a resumption of nuclear testing in response to tests by India and Pakistan,

"China has no intention of resuming nuclear testing," the television quoted

Beijing fears that a nuclear arms race

But Mr. Jiang indicated that China

'China has nuclear weapons but has between India and Pakistan could spread beyond South Asia and threaten had not shifted its stance on nuclear all along promised not to be first to use nuclear weapons and advocates total prohibition and thorough destruction of nuclear weapons," state television

Mr. Jiang said China was opposed to nuclear tests and opposed to a nuclear arms race in South Asia, the television said. He made it clear that China laid the in nuclear tests and express regret over

Pakistan engaging in nuclear tests," Mr.

'We are opposed to India engaging

The tense situation in South Asia is due to India setting a bad precedent."

An official of the Chinese Foreign Ministry was asked at a news briefing on Monday whether China might resume its own testing program in response to the explosions by India and

The official noted a provision in the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty that allowed signatories to opt out if they believed that their "supreme national

'I cannot respond to your question blame for the nuclear crisis on India.

quoted the president as saying.

nonproliferation and disarmament.

state television reported.

Mr. Jiang as saying.

its security.

Jiang said.

Pakistan last month.

directly," he said.

'China Has No Intention of Resuming Testing'

In Response to India and Pakistan, He Says recognized nuclear power alongside Britain, China, France, Russia and the

What the West needs, the officials said, is to convince India and Pakistan to shun further tests, halt production of more fissile material and agree to ban related exports. In one respect, India has been exemplary: It has never supplied nuclear technology to any other country. French officials cited that record as a glimmer of hope for building a new arms control consensus in Asia. That outcome, they added, will require a new Western sensitivity to India and its interplay with Sanctions are automatic under U.S. law, but Paris takes the view that severe economic pressures could backfire. India, with its large economy and appeal to investors, had concluded that it could ride out sanctions when it decided to proceed with tests, officials said.

Economic pressures could actually prove harmful in Pakistan, which has an anemic economy, if Islamabad felt so hard-pressed that it started selling nuclear technology to oil-rich Muslim na-tions, they added.

Nor are the dangers confined to weapons. India has been denied muchneeded foreign help in managing its 11 aging nuclear power plants — "poaging nuclear power plants — "po-tential Chernobyls," an official said because of long standing sanctions related to India's refusal to accept nuclear

Sketching an alternative approach that emphasized a strategic dialogue on

"I'm not indicating China will do this," he said. "But let me tell you honestly we have to take into account

"I'm not frightening anyone," he

Neither India nor Pakistan has signed

Beijing has gone out of its way to emphasize cooperation with the United States over the nuclear crisis in South

The Chinese leader put the blame on New Delhi.

Asia before a summit meeting this month in Beijing between Mr. Jiang and President Bill Clinton.

reported that Mr. Clinton and Mr. Jiang had discussed the nuclear tests on the Indian Subcontinent during their first use

India cited China as a threat to justify of a newly installed telephone hot line.

its series of atomic explosions, and diplomats said that China was seeking to rally support for a hard line against India. Beijing has made it clear that it expects New Delhi to make the first move to repair the damage to rela-in 1996, shortly before ratifying the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty.

China last detonated a nuclear device

On Thursday, China will participate in a five permanent members meeting in Geneva of foreign ministers of

of the UN Security Council to try to formulate a response to the nuclear crisis.

may be pressure on Pakistan and India to join the test ban treaty.

One outcome of the Geneva meeting

Official Chinese news organizations interests" were threatened this development.

the test ban treaty.

regional security, a French government official said that "what matters now is to preserve the nonproliferation system and dissipate the regional tensions that triggered this arms race. The core of the French view is that the West must start paying more attention to the complaints of India, which has often been ignored when it accused China of hostile policies.

This suggestion that Indian nuclear ambitions are driven by a national security calculus or even national feeling of insecurity is contested by some experts, who see both India and Pakistan falling into the grip of ethnic and sectarian chauvinism — a mood hardly susceptible to international concili-

Suggesting that Chinese hostility is not a figment of Indians' imagination. French diplomats disclosed that China's President Jiang Zemin recently sent a secret message to Atal Behari Vajpayee, India's prime minister, offering Chinese silence about Indian policy in exchange for an end to New Delhi's complaints about China's actions in the region.

"Beijing was worried that it would be blamed for goading India to go nuclear," a French government specialist

In a slightly more diplomatic version, a French policymaker, who asked not to be identified, told U.S. reporters: "We are not accusing China, but we are saying that India's perceptions should be taken seriously. Indian officials offer a disquieting picture of their country being quietly surrounded by China. To the east in neighboring Tibet, China appears to have created missile Jiang Bars Nuclear Blasts emplacements that could only be aimed To the west, Pakistan has been steadily supplied by China with key components for nuclear warheads and bal-So far, Beijing has refused any dialogue or other steps to reassure India. For example, China is the only nuclear power that has not cut its arsenal since the Cold War's end and instead continues to expand its arsenal. That unspoken threat is liable to convince India to develop long-range missiles of the sort that it does not now have. Even before the tests last month, President Jacques Chirac, who quizzed Indian leaders intensively during an official visit this spring, was preparing to bring up this "inexplicable hostility" toward India and discuss what to do

Getting India to voluntarily restrain nuclear capabilities now would require global clout only possessed by the United States, French officials acknowledged. But Washington has a long record of ignoring India, which was viewed as being the Soviet camp during the Cold War and is liable to be prickly with its newly stimulated nationalism. The Clinton administration, beset by domestic

FALLOUT — Activists of Jamaat-i-Islami, a radical Islamic group, disrupting a news conference in Islamabad the Pakistan-India People's Forum for Peace and Democracy, which called for talks between India and Pakist

A Call for Complete Overhaul of CIA

Scathing Report Cites Intellectual Laziness Over Missed Indian Tests

By Tim Weiner
New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — U.S. intelligence "needs to be scrubbed" from the top down, from its spies to its analysts to its bureaucratic barons, according to a classified report into the intelligence agencies' inability to foresee India's May 11 nuclear test.

The debacle revealed chronic failures of imagination and personnel, flaws in information-gathering and analysis, and faulty leadership and training, said the report's author, retired Admiral David Jeremiah, a former vice chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

His investigation, requested by the director of central intelligence, George Tenet, provided a core sample of the structural weaknesses in U.S. intelligence that go far beyond the question of India.

Admiral Jeremiah said these included some sobering realities about the Central Intelligence Agency and its sister services:

 The CIA had no spies worthy of the name in India. • Its ability to pry information out of people is weak worldwide.

 The nation's spy satellites typically produce far too much information for overworked and undertrained alike failed to focus on the nuclear test site, despite clear clues that a nuclear test was coming. Senior intelligence officials discounted those clues and did not order their underlings to examine them. Senior U.S. policymakers and in-telligence officials had an "underlying mind-set" that India would not test its nuclear weapons, he said. That fixed idea was unaffected by the fact that India's newly elected Hindu nationalist leaders openly and repeatedly vowed to deploy the bomb. The United States never understood that they were driven by "national pride and psyche" to go nuclear, Admiral Jeremiah said. As a result, he said, its $27 billion-avear intelligence eyes and ears were blind and deaf to the test, which ignited nuclear tensions and an arms race between India and its regional rival. Pakistan.

Admiral Jeremiah, a former com-mander of all U.S. forces in the Pacific, described a kind of intellectual laziness at the intelligence services.

"You fall into a pattern: you start to expect things to happen," he said. "You need to have a contrarian view." The CIA's managers were passive, he said, instead of taking command and saying: "'Who's in charge? Take charge. Make things happen.

The CIA has talented people cacesses" over the years. But it needs many more analysts with better training and sharper skills, he said. It should bring in outside experts to analyze major events. It must be "much; more aggressive in thinking through how the other guy thought" - breaking out of American political and cultural patterns to grasp the ways in which the rest of the world thinks.

an exercise

0.1

L 2: 2700

14.2 - ·

T.: ._-

MIL. - -

Rizz -

ione -

(057)

permitted.

000

MILE .

ما تا الله الله

Tare to Byelts in-

itera e

既"。"

t= -[

1

 $\mathbb{Z}_{(1,2,2,2)}$

- . .

21.

C

■ 1

6 & C.

Mark .

and Francis for no ----

THE PARTY

Taipei Flu Toll 1 Produces 25

Afghan Victima Resin 2 1-714

•

k 13:- ::

Ores :

Other veteran intelligence officers: concur with Admiral Jeremiah's judgments. Gordon Oehler, who retired: last year as director of the CIA's Nonproliferation Center, said the group of' intelligence analysts responsible for: interpreting spy satellite photos is a far-less skilled group than it was at the end of the Cold War.

Mr. Oehler said the "contrarian views" that Admiral Jeremiah called for are sometimes disregarded by se-nior officials, which discourages fresh; thinking. Clinton administration officials dislike inconvenient facts about nuclear weapons, he said, and some-: times disregard information that does not fit "a preconceived view of what. the world ought to look like."

Admiral Jeremiah, whose report remains secret, said he would recom-. mend that the director of Central Intelligence make changes to improve. the ways the CIA and other intelligence agencies gather information, problems, may be unable to engage in intelligence analysts to handle. pable of great work, he said, and it analyze that information, manage their. has had a startling number of suc-employees and train new people. • In India, satellites and analysts complex diplomacy in Asia.

Pakistan Cuts Funds to Muslim Guerrillas in Kashmir

By John Ward Anderson and Kamran Khan Washington Post Service

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan - When the United States updated its international list of terrorist organizations last fall, Pakistani security officials found something that alarmed them: The list included Harakat-ul Ansar, a ruthless militant group operating - with Pakistani government funding - in the Indian portion of Kash-

That development, and political infighting between lamic group called Jamaat-i-Islami, put a severe crimp in Pakistan's covert funding of Muslim guerrillas fighting to separate Jammu and Kashmir, India's only majority-Muslim state, from the rest of India.

Pakistan officially denies giving money or arms to paramilitary groups operating in Indian Kashmir, so when officials spotted Harakat-ul Ansar on the list of terrorist groups, they said they immediately began turning off the funding spigot and raided the group's offices around the country. If the U.S. government

Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif and a conservative Is- made the connection between the government and the group, officials said, Pakistan could land on the U.S. st of states sponsoring terrorism, along with such iniah countries as Libya and Iran.

Serior Pakistani intelligence officials said they uncovered a plot by Al Faran, a splinter of Harakat-ul Ansar, to bring an Islamic-style revolution to Pakistan, of the sort that the Taleban has introduced in neighboring Afghanistan. They said it appeared the group was responsible for the ambush-killing of four employees of Union Texas Oil Co. in Karachi in November.

See Friday's Intermarket for Holidays & Travel, Residential Real Estate and Dining Out. To advertise contact Seesh Wershol on +14 171 420 0326 A CREAT DEAL HAPPENS AT THE INTERMARKET

Personals THANK YOU SACRED HEART of Jesus

Announcements

Legal Services

DIVORCE 1-DAY CERTIFIED Call or Fax (909) 922-3815. White: 18787 Beach Skyl. #137, Hunfington Beach, CA 92648 USA e-mait: divorce@sprynet.com

ONVORCE IN 1 DAY, No travel. Write: Box 377, Sudbury, MA 01776 USA. Tel: 978/443-8387, Fax: 978/443-0183.

Colleges & Universities

LASALLE UNIVERSITY Off-Campus Degrees Bachelors ' Masters ' Doctorate Credit for Work & Life Experienc 1-504-624-2958, Dept. 958 620 Lotus Dr. North Mandeville, LA 70471 USA http://www.distance.edu LASALLE Education Corporation

TELECOMMUNICATIONS kallback New Lower Rates!

• NO Deposit • NO Set Up Fees • NO Minimums .

• Instant Activation Fiber-Optic Networks Stx-Second Billing Tel: 1.206,599.1991 U.S.: 1.800.965.1626

Fax: 1.205.599.1981 Email: Infoekaliback.com www.kallback.com Agents Wanted

Business Opportunities

OFFSHORE BANK in Caribbean ben center - US $75,000. Outch transfer. Carson Registered Agents, Inc. Tel: 702-883-1944. Fac: 702-883-0267 USA Business Opportunities

Business Services

GENEVA Full Service

is our Business mational law and lawas Mellion, telephone, telex and telecopter services

Translation and secretarial services formation, dometistion and administration of Swiss and foreign

Companies
Furnished offices and conference rooms for daily or anouthly rental Full confidence and discretion assured.

BUSINESS ADVISORY SERVICES S.A. 7 Rue Muzy, 1207 GENEVA Tel 736 05 40, Tix 413222, Fax 786 05 44

YOUR OFFICE IN LONDON Bond Street - Mail, Phone, Fax, Talex Tel: 44 171 290 8000 Fax 171 499 7517

Real Estate for Rent

Paris Area Furnished

agence champs elysees Specialists:
Furnished apartments, 3 months or more or unfurnished, residential areas. Tel: +33 (0)1 42 25 32 25 Fac: +33 (0)1 46 63 37 00

CENTER, view, chemo, balcony, 3-room fial, video security, garage. July, Aug. Sept. F15,000. +33 (0)1 42774543 eves

Paris Area Furnished

OFFSHORE COMPANIES. For free bro-chure or advice Tet London 44 (8) 741 1224 Fax: 44 181 748 6558/6338 AT HOME IN PARKS PARIS PROMO Apartments to rest furnished or not. Sales & Property Management Services 25 Av Hoche 75008 Parts Px01-45611020 Tel: +33 (0)1 45 63 25 60

LOVELY STUDIO, Iresh, quiet, charming, REPUBLICUE-MARAIS, FF5,000/month, 1 year, TelFax +33 (0)1 47 00 21 14

Switzerland

GENEVA, LUXURY FURINISHED apartments. From Studios to 4 bedrooms. Tet: +41 22 735 6320 Fax: +41 22 736 2671 World Cup Rentals

DUPLEX TROCADERO, 100 sq.m., WORLD CUP or more. Contact owner +33 (0)1 41 41 99 91

ads work Escorts & Guides

BELGRAVIA

THE FINEST & THE MOST SINCERE 18 - 38 + INTERNATIONAL BEAUTIFUL & ELEGANT SECRETARIES, AIR HOSTESSES & MODELS + AVAILABLE AS YOUR COMPANION 24 HOURS Escot Agency Credit Cards Welcom TEL: LONDON ++ 44 (0)

ORCHIDS

LONDON - EUROPE

0171 589 5237

SWITZERLAND-GERMANY BELGRUM-LUXEMBOURG-UK ++31-20-427 28 27

ch-Genera-Base-purch-ch-Genera-Base-purch-at-Wastaden-Cologne-Bonta-th-Hamburg-Bertin-LONDON: (0)171-978 5506 COSMOS Escort Agency - Credit Cards

SUPERMODELS of Scandanavia LONDON-COPENHAGEN + 44 (0)7071 558899

Hi We're Back

Europeen JET SET * VIENDIA * PARIS *RIVIERA GENCA ZURICH MUNICH ROME * Escot & Travel Service Vienna ++43-1-315 40 44 Credit Cards international ESCEPRIS.

NY USA Haqtrs: 1-212-765-7896 Office@INTL-ESCORTS COM

VENUS IN FURS LONDON 0171 362 7000

APHRODITE'S

ATHENA
Godesses of Wisdom & Seauty Discreet Escort Service
Vanasse (London) 07970 285311

PARIS

""AM"STAR"DAM"CLUB"" Stadhouderslade 64, Amster +31 (0)20 670 1333 Escort Agency for Dinner Detes info@secret-offairs ni

PARIS HEIDI'S HIGH SOCIETY VIENNA PARIS RIVIERA ZURICH GENFTIKUNICH

International Escott & Travel Service Venna ++43/1/535 41 04 all credit cards

"GLYS & DOLLS ESCORT SERVICE TOUTS & DOLLS ESCORT SERVICE
MILAN'ROMETORING ATHENS PARIS
BRUSSELS GERMANY SWITZERLAND
COTE D'AZUR'SCANDINAVIA'S PAIN
Tel: +39 (0) 335 619 0438 Credi Cards

" EUROCONTACT INT'L "" PARIS'ANTWERP'GENEVA'ZURICH RIVIERA'BRUSSELS'LONDON'VIENNA MILAN ROME OF GERMANY & PRACTIE Escort Service Vienna ++43-1-212 0431

DISTINCTION . . . London Paris Cote D'Azur Switzerland Brussels Escort Service, Dinner Dates & Travels. Calt. +44 (0)7775 62 63 57

For Eitle Julia ++39 0335417734 cards MILAN * ROME * TOP ESCORT

LAURENS BLACK ELEGANCE Escort Service. Full figured beauty. New York. Service. Full figured beauty. New York. Milan, French Peviera, overnight & ad-vance bookings welcome. Also statu-esque blandes. Tel 212-207-4969

CHELSEA ESCORT SERVICE uchamp Place, London SW1 Tel: 0171-584 6513

GENEVA PRETTY WOMAN Call 022 / 346 00 89 Econi Agency 'LAUSANNE-MONTREUX-BASEL 'ZURICH' - CREDIT CARDS AIR HOSTESS in London for wining, din-ing and other pleasures. Private Escort Service. Ashley 0374 614 672

AMSTERDAM * DREAMS * ESCORTS and Dinner Date Service for Him or Her. Tel: +31 (0) 20-84 02 666 / 64 02 111 Amsterdam JAN BIK ESCORTS. For he and she. Escort service since 1967. Tet +31(0)30 623 1584/420 3827 ANOUE & AMY of Maylair. Two sophis-ticated blondes. Escort service. Tet: 0771 4994720 or 0358 694013. Credit cards

ASIAN * PERSIAN * ORIENTAL & CONTINENTAL Escort Service London Tel: 0956 223317 24 tips Credit Cartis BEAUTIFUL BRUNETTE, Stumming Figure. Creaming Private Escori Service Luxury SW3. Patrica London 0956 139996

SERLEN - FRANKFURT - ZURICH

"CARISMA ESCORT AGENCY"
Tet 0041-848 80 70 77 - Credii Cards BLACK BEAUTY ESCORT SERVICE Exclusive Elegant Educated & Friends London & Heathrow. 01819062261 Card CITYFRANKFURT&AREA Mara's Escort Agency Please call 069 - 597 66 66 Irom 2pm

' GENEVA ' PARIS ' COTE D'AZUR' BUTTERFLY Escot Service

GEORGINA - Glamorous Blonde, Privale High Class Escort Service. Kensnigton London Tet 0385 573 620 HIGH LIFE . VIENNA . 24 Jus. MOST EXCLUSIVE ESCORT SERVICE VIENNA ++43-1-3675690 all credit cards

INDIAN . ASIAN . ORIENTAL Escori Service. Beaustul; triendly & discreel. Credit Cards. LONDON 07010 709614 INDIAN & EXOTIC Beauties. Sophisticaled & Samming. Offening a Discrest 24hr Escort Service. Tel: 0370 464718

JAPANESE Escort Service London - Heathrow Tel: 0956 572 548 JULIA Very Pretty and Friendly Brunette. Beautiful Face Private Escori Service London Tet 0410 772 816

JULIETTE (Blond Glamour Model) Educated, Discreet Escort Service VIP's only. Call 0956 545 922 LONDON & HEATHROW Stunning German Blonde, Multilingual, Escort Service Tat 0955 247628

LONDON TOP CLASS Peried Escot Service Tet 0171 378 8730 LYDIA HONEY BLOND Very leminine. Private Escort Service. Pure Lucury. Chelsea 0171 370 2419

EXCLUSIVE TOP CLASS Escort Service Tet: 919 B3 73 32 or 908 81 89 64 NERKA * tail Vecetien blond * Private Escort Service deily 24 hrs Frankfurt Tel. +49-(0)171 - 62 44 552

MORRISON CLUB - VIENNA ESCORT Service. 5., Recitie Wienzelle 21. 0043 / 1 / 586 88 84 "SANDY" - WARM & FRIENDLY Private Escot Service London W1. Tet: 0171-935 2525

SELINA Beauliful Australian Blond Friendly Private Escort Service. Kensington Tet 0468 153 923 TOP TEN - FRANKFURT Elegant Escon & Travel Service Please call 069 - 597 4338

ZURECH : CAROLINE Escor: Service Tal. 079 / 403 30 81

مكذا من الاصل

ASIA/PACIFIC

President Habibie, left, conferring Wednesday with Bill Skate, prime minister of Papua New Guinea. He was the first leader to visit since Mr. Habibie took power.

In Jakarta, From One Rich Leader to Another

Indonesians Find Habibie and His Family, Like Suharto, Have Empire of Wealth

By Joseph Kahn New York Times Service

NEW YORK - Almost immediately after becoming president of Indonesia, B. J. Habibie pledged to create "a clean government, free from corruption, collusion and nepotism.

But one of the biggest threats to his rule may be concern that he and his family, following the model of former President Suharto, used government office to amass a private fortune.

In the nearly two weeks since he replaced Mr. Subarto, Indonesian economists and political activists have begun to document the sprawling business holdings of President Habibie's children and close relatives.

The Habibie family does not have anything approaching the wealth of the Suharto clan. But Indonesian analysts say its worth might reach $80 million. That, however, does not factor in the wealth-destroying effects of the country's economic crash.

In an interview Tuesday, Mr. Habibie defended his own wealth and that of his family members, insisting that nepotism had not played a part in their apparent success. He acknowledged that some of his relatives had become rich, but stressed they had done so through strong education and work

Many of his brothers, sisters and children do business with government agencies, President he said. And he appeared to reject calls that his come under scrutiny.

"Many people become rich if you work hard and you are educated," Mr. Habibie said, adding: And now they have to stop because I am the president for two weeks?"

In his long political career, Mr. Habibie su-pervised some of his country's highest-profile development projects. These included the state aircraft maker, a natural gas project, the Batam Island development zone, near Singapore, and the state technology agency.

A casualty report by a human rights group blamed the armed forces for failing to contain the damage and death.

Potential conflicts of interest between the offices that Mr. Habibie has held and his family's holdings are not hard to detect. Mr. Habibie's two sons have business ties to the aircraft company and one has contracts connected to the natural gas project. Two of Mr. Habibie's brothers and a prother-in-law have close ties to the Batam Island development project.

His sister plays a key role in the state technology agency and her husband has worked as a contractor there, according to officials at each company. The best known Habibie-linked company is tracts or to dissolve business partnerships that have controlled by his youngest brother. Timmy, whose company Timsco Holdings has several score of subsidiaries operating in many different businesses, some of them dependent on government contracts or licenses.

Several Indonesian economists compare Timmy Habibie's operating style to that of Bambang Tri-hadmodjo, Mr. Suharto's middle son, which is characterized more by personal contacts than any particular expertise.

President Habibie's long involvement in the Batam Island project has raised the most conspicuous conflicts. Though Mr. Subarto appointed Mr. Habibie to supervise the conversion of Batam into a manufacturing center and export 20ne, Mr. Habibie has governed it like a personal fiefdom, according to some investors and employees.

Mr. Habibie worked hand-in-hand with his brother-in-law, Sudarsono Darmosuwito, now retired, the zone's chief executive. When Mr. Habibie became vice president earlier this year, he appointed a younger brother, Effendi (Fanny) Habibie, to succeed him as chairman of the Batam Island Development Authority, the island's main governing body.

Fanny Habibie told Indonesian reporters last month that he would step down from the chairmanship. But that only begins to address the Habibie family interests there.

P. T. Citra Lingkunan Lestari has done environmental impact surveys on behalf of investors wishing to set up factories there. P.T. Indori Mandiri Sakti has had exclusive rights to construct and manage Batam's two major harbors.

INDONESIA: Toll Put at 1,188

Continued from Page 1

Transcriber Missed Indian

errillus in kii

Habibie, who said he could not transfer power to a new leader before the end of next year. "Habibie must go!" they shouted. "Reform now!" And many of their elders seemed to agree. A number of opposition figures whom Mr. Habibie himself is consulting -- notably the op-human rights group, the Na- mobiles had been attacked, tional Commission on Human Rights, blamed the armed forces for failing to contain the damage and death.

country as weeks of mostly tions were suddenly transand looting.

The report did not say how the deaths occurred, but evidence in Jakarta suggests that the overwhelming majoroline bombs.

In one hospital in Jakarta the security forces. where nearly 200 corpses were collected, all but a handbeen shot or stabbed by unknown assailants.

ethnic Chinese trapped inside with the riots." shops or homes that were atpattern here in this overwhelmingly Muslim and ethnic Malay nation. One of the targets of the unrest was the ethnic sparked the rioting.

Chinasa group which in reality "There were 10 people Chinese group, which in reality is an inseparable part of the Indonesian society," the commission said.

prevent it," the report said. It added, "The security forces did not adequately anticipate the strong possibility that the unrest could have

In addition to the deaths, the report tallied an extraordinary swath of devastation to position leader Amien Rais — are demanding new elections this year.

The casualty report by the

The casualty report by the months of the capital city, saying 40 large shopping centers, 4,083 shops, 1,026 private homes, 383 offices and 1,119 auto-accounts that have accumulated here, the commission Devastating riots broke out said unidentified "organized in many cities around the groups" had been involved in touching off some of the peaceful student demonstra- burning and vandalism. Witnesses reported seeing men in formed into a chaos of rioting trucks or on motorcycles traveling through the city identifying Chinese-owned homes and businesses or handing out

The city is filled with the ity of the victims were looters ories about these groups and it trapped in shops and depart- remained unclear whether ment stores that were set on they involved local thugs or fire by rioters who drove representatives of radical orattached to some branch of

The commission, which is funded by the government but ful of the dead had burned to has earned a reputation for death. A small number had independence, called on the president to "thoroughly investigate the security appar-An uncounted number of atus for letting, not preventing those burned to death were also ing or immediately dealing tacked by rioters in a familiar itary said 10 low-ranking of-

'When the unrest took missioned officers.'

place, there was no visible evidence of serious efforts from the security forces to burned or looted. Echoing many eyewitness gasoline bombs.

At the same time, the mil-ission said.

The human rights commisSyamsu, said in a report Wedsion blamed the armed forces nesday in the Indonesian Obfor not anticipating the un-rest. server newspaper. "They were soldiers and noncom-

Taipei Flu Toll Climbs to 28

TAIPEI - A flu-like virus particularly dangerous to small children claimed three more toddlers Wednesday, raising the death toil to 28 and prompting officials to close nursery schools and kindergartens in central Taiwan.

Enterovirus 71 hits Taiwan each summer. Although there are no firm numbers to compare, the Health Department said the outbreak this year appears to be particularly severe.

It said almost 7,500 cases had been reported, but the outbreak appears to have peaked, and the number of new cases should start dropping.

- Afghan Victims Being Airlifted

FAIZABAD, Afghanistan — Helicopters in a constant shuttle operation airlifted more injured people from Afghanistan's earthquake zone Wednesday.

Aid agencies said that the three helicopters ferrying the Aid agencies said that the three helicopters ferrying the injured to clinics were unable to take food and shelter materials injured to clinics were unable to take food and shelter materials in the same of distant hillside hamlets destroyed last Saturday.

injured to clinics were unable to take food and shelter materials to the remote distant hillside hamlets destroyed last Saturday by a massive tremor measuring 7.1 on the Richter scale.

"The choppers we have right now are all being used to get the wounded out of their home areas and to clinics," said a spokesman for the International Committee of the Red Cross. "Evacuation, evacuation. That is what they are being used for, and it has created a bottleneck for food and other emergence." and it has created a bottleneck for food and other emergency

Mahathir Considers the Future

TOKYO - Prime Minister Mahathir bin Mohamad of Malaysia said Wednesday he saw "no problem" with a change in leadership after his nation had resolved its currency

Mr. Mahathir, 72, who has governed for 17 years, told Renters Television in an interview in Tokyo: "What is important is a smooth transition, and it is my hope that I can important is a smooth transition, and it is my hope that I can important is a successful and party and will hand over

Asked if the transfer of power could come next year, he said it could come "any time at all," but added that Malaysia's first He has named his deputy, Anwar Ibrahim, as his replacement when he eventually steps aside. (Reuters) goal was to resolve its currency crisis.

Hotel Inter-Continental, Singapore

You're always in the heart of the city and at the soul of the culture.

> One World. One Hotel. Uniquely Inter-Continental.

www.interconti.com

BANGKOK BROOME CHENGDU JAKARTA KUALA LUMPUR MANILA NEW DELHI PHNOM PENH SEOUL SHENZHEN* SINGAPORE SYDNEY TAIPE TOKYO EUROPE AKMOLA AMSTERDAM ATHENS BARCELONA BELGRADE BERLIN BRATISLAVA* BUCHAREST CANNES CRACOW* EDINBURGH FRANKFURT GENEVA THE HAGUE HAMBURG HANNOVER* HELSINKI ISTANBUL LEIPZIG LONDON LUXEMBOURG MADRID MONTREUX MUNICH* PARIS PRAGUE ROME TASHKENT VIENNA WARSAW ZAGREB ZURICH AMERICAS BOGOTA JUENOS AIRES CALI CANCUN CARACAS CHICAGO CTUDAD GUAYANA COZUMEL DALLAS GUADALAJARA DATAPA LOS ANGELES LOS CABOS MANAGUA MARACAIBO MEDELLIN MEXICO CITY MTAMI

NEW ORLEANS NEW YORK PANAMA CITY

PUERTO VALLARTA RIO DE JANEIRO

RIONEGRO* SAN FRANCISCO

SAN PEDRO SULA SAN SALVADOR

SANTIAGO SANTO DOMINGO

VALENCIA WASHINGTON, D.C.

DIBAI JEDDAH

MAKKAH

RIYADH

AFRICA

ABIDJAN CAPE TOWN

DURBAN

LIBREVILLE LUSAKA

PRANCEVILLE JOHANNESBURG

VICTORIA FALLS

*FORUM HOTEL

KINSHASA KRUGER NATIONAL PARK

SHARM EL SHEIKH

MIDDLE EAST ABHA ABU DHABI

By John Vinocur

PARIS — After hearing so often and so long from the government and the intellectual establishment that it doesn't matter what anyone else thinks, and that going-it-alone is the noble and ultimately winning French way, the pilots of Air France have taken the authorities at their word.

Their strike, a walkout by the rich and privileged, has resulted in a situation widely described in the local press as a global public-relations disaster for France on the eve of its playing host to the World Cup. But who could be

The pilots have only replicated the behavior of the country on the widest scale. Rich and privileged in a world made up metaphorically of baggage handlers and airplane cleaners, France has sometimes made an eager virtue of doing things in its own interest that do not readily translate into benefits for the commonweal.

With its elements of total self-absorption and mildly extortionate behavior, and the pilots' juscompany and the strikers, and the fact that Air brazening it-out. Nothing could have better usetification that their circumstances were unlike France pilots make 40 percent more than their scribed the national modus operandi that the anyone else's, the strike has a familiar feeling. It is arguably driven by the same approach that chose those at British Airways, French editorial writers to resume nuclear testing in the Pacific, rejected reintegrating NATO after announcing that a re-turn was at hand, and blocked the choice of a president for the European Central Bank until the rest of France's European partners had given way. In each case, the French were told in effect that holding out on something temporarily unpopular would in the long run conserve France's privilege to continue acting much as it chose - a kind of

NEWS ANALYSIS
French-style antarchy.
Now, wrapped in this national article of faith, the pilots are betting that Air France, owned by the government that set the strikers' example, will throw up its hands and back off, just as world public opinion did on the nuclear tests, or Chan-cellor Kohl of Germany on the choice of the central bank leader.

Noting the awkwardness of the government providing a Communist minister of labor to deal as intermediary between the state-controlled have expressed fear that the strike's incoherence will expose their country as anachronistic and resistant to change. Theirs is a tardy concern.

"Sadly, France's reputation has diminished," Lindsay Owen-Jones, president of L'Oreal, one of the country's great cosmetic companies, said in an interview with the magazine Capital a few weeks before the pilots walked out. Having a head office in France was hardly an advantage in recruiting young executives on an international scale, he said. "And the blunders surrounding the Pacific nuclear tests or the European Central Bank issue have made for a negative image."

Reaching for this issue, both the government and Air France's management have tried to strum a patriotic chord among the pilots with appeals to their national consciousness, and talkng about the risk of the strikers' taking the World Cup hostage. The response has been dead silence from the pilots, who have chosen to stick to the older and more familiar French lesson of French have really understood over the last years than calls by Paris Metro and national railroad workers to pile on to the pilots' strike with work stoppages beginning Thursday, six days before the soccer competition is due to start.

The essential difference between the pilots' strike and the situations in which France has acted against the wishes of its allies and neighbors is that this time the hostages include the government itself. In recent years it has funneled 20 billion to 30 billion francs ($3.3 billion to $5 billion) of taxpayers' money into keeping Air France flying, while Prime Minister Lionel Jospin's Socialists have insisted since taking office a year ago that the state must be the majority shareholder in any privatization of the national airline.

In trying to bring Air France into a cost-structure comparable to that of its European competitors, the company has said that it still needs to cut 500 million francs in overhead. It has proposed to do so with a plan that would exchange 15 percent of the pilots' future salaries for shares in the privatized airline-to-be. The pilots, having watched the successful rejection of change all about them, and the company's movement from loss to profit, say they will have

The government finds itself in the contradictory position of wanting to appear modern and business-conscious by staying out of the and business-conscious by staying out of the issue while insisting on holding on to far France so as to signal it is not abandoning another state run enterprise so dear to the leftist rank and file. Jean-Claude Gayssot, the Communist transport minister, has compounded the problem with a statement that while he could live with a partial statement trial will be would never be the man to pay for it by overseeing a reduction in salaries This complicates compromise.

Considering that strikes by well-paid airline pilots are hardly a worldwide novelty, the shutdown at Air France would not go much beyond the parameters of a standard labor conflict if it didn't mirror the special French method of leveraging its influence with the rest of the world France does not consider that it has paid dearly for its singular approach, and everything indicates Air France's pilots have reasoned the hierarchy may have helped leaders of the Nazi-backed fascist regime in Croatia escape from Europe after World War II with plundered gold and other valuables from Holocaust victims, a U.S. report

U.S. Study Ties Vatican to Ustasha Gold

"It seems unlikely that they were entirely unaware of what was going on." the report said of Pope Pius XII and his had said they could not find any Nazi advisers, who helped administer a pon- gold-related records. tifical college in Rome where warcrimes fugitives took sanctuary.

The Vatican connection was raised in the second U.S. report on Nazi gold, a don't have anything to add to what was during World War II, Renters reported from Stockholm.

ations of Switzerland, Sweden, Spain.

ations of Switzerland, Sweden, Spain. Turkey and Portugal provided Germany with vital materials for weapons and goods during World War II.

WASHINGTON - The Vatican regime, which may have escaped with declassified U.S. documents. up to $80 million.

'Answers may only exist in Vatican and Croatian and Serbian archives," Mr. Eizenstat said. "A full accounting should be made."

Mr. Eizenstat said Vatican officials told him that such a search would be difficult. Previously, Vatican officials

At the Vatican, the spokesman, Joaquin Navarro-Valls, dismissed the U.S. report as containing nothing new. "I investigation into Sweden's dealings

The United States has long known about the Rome pipeline for hiding fas-cist Croatian leaders because U.S. Army Stuart Eizenstat, undersecretary of intelligence had also used it to shuttle contrary we try to have as i state for economics, urged the Vatican to former Nazis secretly to South America, open approach as possible."

search its records on Croatia's Ustasha said the report, which relied on recently

'From the Vatican's point of view, the No. 1 enemy of civilization as seen by the Catholic church was communism," said Rabbi Abraham Cooper of the Simon Wiesenthal Center in Los

■ Sweden to Use Report

Sweden said Wednesday that it would incorporate a new U.S. report on countries that received Nazi gold looted from Holocaust victims into a wider national port in a deeper way," a Foreign Ministry spokesman, Iens Odlander, said. "We are not rejecting the report. On the

Tunisia Sentences 2 in Belgian Assassination

TUNIS - Two Tunisians have each been sentenced to 20 years in prison for the murder in Belgium almost seven years ago of the former deputy prime minister of Belgium, Andre Cools.

But the case left many questions unanswered on who ordered the contract circumstances. killing that the two Tunisians, Abdel- Mr. Almi and Mr. Ben Brahim were mailed into shooting Mr. Cools.

admitted carrying out. Mr. Cools was were not handed over for trial in Belslain near Liege on July 18, 1991.

Almi, who was 19 at the time, and Mr. trial in Belgium.

Ben Brahim. who was 26, had been The defendants said they were hired in blackmailed and pleaded extenuating off the cover price.

THE UK?

by easy, low cost,

direct debit.

HAND DELIVERY IN CENTRAL LONDON & PARTS OF THE SOUTH EAST.

A cosmopolitan, comprehensive and concise newspaper delivered every day to your home or office.

*Monday through Friday outside Central London. Postal subscriptions are available throughout the UK on the day after publication.

For more information about easy ordering and availability of hand delivery

CALL our Subscriber Customer Service Department: TOLL FREE: 00800 4 448 7827 (00800 4 IHT SUBS) or Fax: (0171) 240 34 17

Telephone:

in Central London and parts of South East England, the International Herald Tribune offers early marning

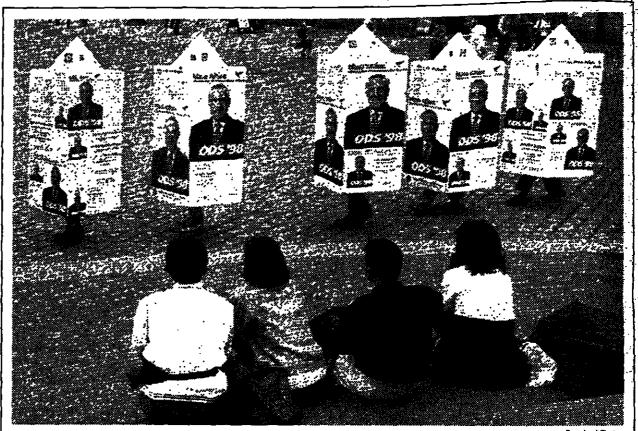

DO YOU LIVE IN

Subscribe and SAVE up to 53%

Also available: PAY MONTHLY

majid Almi and Abdeljelil Ben Brahim, arrested in Tunisia on Sept. 30, 1996, but gium because Tunisia does not extradite Their defense lawyers argued that Mr. its citizens. Other suspects are facing Sicily by an Italian, Jachino Contrino, to pick up drugs in Liege, then were black-

BRIEFLY

WALKING POSTERS - Japanese tourists pondering a scene Wednesday in Prague in which the Civic Democratic Party parades posters promoting a pre-election rally by the party's leader, Vaclav Klaus.

"The allegation about the sup-

Kohl Aide Cautions

BONN - Chancellor Helmut

Kohl's government spokesman warned East Germans on Wednesday that they could strain relations with their Western compatriots if they voted ment's image before the September already found it difficult to understand why voters in the East supported left-

Mr. Hauser told the Chemnitzer

Otto Hauser, appointed by Mr. Kohl for reform Communists.

The East Germans

For Turkish Election

far from complete by any modern stan-ANKARA — Prime Minister Mesut dards," Mr. Blair said. (Reuters) Yilmaz said Wednesday that he would resign at the end of this year to allow LUOD OF AN INTERIOR ! ment to take the country to early elections in April 1999. "I will resign at the end of the year," Mr. Yilmaz said at a news conference after a meeting with a key leftist op-position leader and power broker, Deuiz Baykal. Mr. Baykal's Republican People's Party has backed Mr. Yilmaz's minority coalition since it came to power last last month to improve the govern-June in return for assurances that early elections would be held. general election, said West Germans

General polls are not due until

Mr. Yilmaz said an interim government would lead the country to polls at which voters would elect both national and local government repre- Freie Presse newspaper he had heard sentatives. "Although a definite date is not certain, April 18 looks likely," he help reconstruction in the East and then said.

(AP) they vote for the left." (Reuters)

from a Scottish reprocessing plant.

22 Detended

26 Considered

25 Linguist

32 Clappers

40 Biblical me

41 Game plan

36 One ma

Blair Denies Reports Bonn Vows to Build Uranium Is Missing Holocaust Memorial

LONDON — Prime Minister Tony Blair denied Wednesday that enough BONN— The German government said Wednesday that plans to build a weapons-grade uranium to make a Holocaust memorial in Berlin would dozen nuclear bombs was missing go ahead despite the withdrawal of the American artist Richard Serra.

Mr. Blair told Parliament that the The sculptor, who along with New apparent loss of 170 kilograms (375 York-based architect Peter Eisenmann pounds) of the material from the Doun-reay plant, disclosed in an official re-Chancellor Helmut Kohl for the monuport, was merely a case of poor acment, announced Tuesday he was pulling out of the project.

"His decision has nothing to do with Yilmaz to Step Down posedly missing highly enriched uranithe pros and cons of the project itself um" was based on "a misinterpret" and also nothing to do with his re-ation of 30-year-old records, which are lationship to the chancellor or other German personalities involved," the government spokesman, Otto Hauser, said in a statement.

The German government remains of the opinion that the monument for the murdered Jews of Europe will be built on the piece of land allocated for it in Berlin," he added.

The Gagosian Gallery, Mr. Serra's dealer, said in a statement that the artist had ended his involvement "for personal and professional reasons." Mr. Serra also wrote a letter to Mr. Kohl containing the same explanation.

His former partner, Mr. Eisenmann, said their proposal would continue without the sculptor's further involve-

'As far as we're concerned the project is more than either Richard Serra or Peter Eisenmann. This is for the Ger-

Quakes Jolt Greece

ATHENS — Four strong earth-quakes shook central Greece on Wednesday, but there were no reports of injuries or damage.

The temblors, with preliminary magnitudes between 4.5 and 5.2, occurred between 11:36 A.M. and 11:49 A.M. with an epicenter under the sea bed 210 kilometers (130 miles) north of Athens, the Geodynamic Institute

The quakes were felt in parts of central Greece and the northern province of Halkidiki, as well as on the Aegean island of Limnos, the institute hand delivery on the day of publication, Monday through Saturday*.

E-mail: subs@iht.com - Internet: http://www.iht.com

Unique coverage of the world you live in, brought to you as it changes - daily.

Herald Eribune

TES, I'd like to subscribe and have my bank account Family Name: debited monthly by £17. Please start my subscription and send me a bank form to arrange my payment.

MACHENIUM CHECKON ONEDLICANO

- TYES, I'd like to subscribe and pay for the following
 - ☐ 12 months (+ 2 months free): £210 (Saving off cover price: 36%) Special, 2-month trial subscription: £22 (Saving off cover price: 53%)
- My check is enclosed (payable to the IHT)
- Please charge my: ☐ Amex Access Diners ☐ MasterCard ☐ Visa ☐ Eurocard Credit card charges will be made in French Francs at

Please start delivery and send invoice.

BANNESTERS PLONISH SOME OF DESIGN TO A SOUR DETAILS A SECOND STATES AS A SECOND SECOND

Mailing Address: Home Business Postal Code: .

E-Mail Address: Your VAT № (Business orders only) // IHT VAT Nº 747 320 2 | 1 26) I got this copy of the IHT at: □ klosk □ hotel □ airline □ other

☐ I do not wish to receive information from other carefully This offer expires on December 31, 1998 and is AVAILABLE FOR NEW SUBSCRIBERS ONLY.

Return your completed coupon to: Delphine Prinselaar, International Herald Tribune, 63 Long Acre, London WC2E 9JH.
Fax: (0171) 240 34 17 E-Mail: subs@ihr.com UK14

READERS IN OTHER COUNTRIES CAN SUBSCRIBE BY CALLING: EUROPE, MIDDLE EAST & AFRICA Tel: +33 | 41 43 93 61 T Fax: +33 | 41 43 92 10 THE AMERICAS Tel: (USA toll free) 1-800-882-2884 Fax:+1 212 755 8785 ASIA Tel: +852 29 22 11 71 Fax: +852 29 22 11 99

45 Measiv amount 45 When to gather

$1 Top-rated TV show of 1989-90 57 is guilimie et Source of much West Coast trade $2 Laura's lover in

Solution to Puzzle of June 3

ACROSS

14 Old Spanish kingdom

16 Like some

1 Words said with

12 So-called "Valley Isle" 13 Clip-fed submachine gun

CROSSWORD

18 Most pathetic 19 Bound 24 "Ugh!"

25 Zola's streetwalke 29 Humdinge

DOWN Troubadours dawn serena

2 Bank job 3 Words on a

6 China's -7 Fancy foot work? 8 Discounted s Repeat o

30 Abruzzi beli 1 31 Deli spread 32 Part of I.R.A.: Abbr. 33 "Nah!"

34 Figure skater Thornas 35 Gleeful cry after a coin flip You Do." maybe 43 One-named

50 Prevent, legally

45 "Rabbit food" 47 Down the -(ruined) 48 Cockeyed 49 Pale yellow

52 One with creditors 53 Rani's wear $4 Other ss Bygone U.S. ga brand 58 Old Teutonia war god

حكذا من الاحل |

You really

You really know a bank when you know its financial results.

17.3

Dexia has subsidiaries and affiliates in fing the tax credit) for 1997 proposed to the

95%

732.7

185,000

billion Belgian francs - total assets under manage ment in 1997, up 23,3% from 1996, 12.9% in Belgian francs.

million euros - net income in 1997.

Net income increased by 11.5% in French francs and by the banking business in Europe.

55,8%

billion French francs - stock market capitalization of the Dexia Group as of December 31, 1997.

+10%

in this form until the date the dividend is paid.

(before allocation, including minority interests and finance loans in 1997, representing a market share in

113.5

 $\mathcal{C}_{2,2} = \mathcal{L}_{2,2}^{-1} \underline{\mathcal{L}}_{2,2}$

1762 .::: 12 A 22

mari e

billion euros - shareholders equity in 1997

stock market index - Dexia France is one of the forty leading stocks on the Paris Stock Exchange.

47.8

by Crédit local de France in 16 different currencies in 1997, million euros - operating expenses in 1997. The 0.7% decrease from 1996 representing 50% of the groups assets.

1,233

660,8

2,207

Dexia, the European banking group created by the merger of Crédit local de France and Crédit Communal de Belgique. reported total assets of 185 billion euros.

42%

market share of Crédit local de France in the French at the end of 1997. Dexia is the European leader in the financing of public service facilities and is also active in commercial banking and asset management.

14.5% solvency ratio (Tier I and Tier II capital).

950

to serve individual banking customers.

to the shareholders of Dexia Belgium at the Annual Shareholders Meeting on May 13, 1998, up 11% from 1996.

10,3%

11,000

18%

the non-recurring capital gains from the sale of the equity interest in Banque Bruxelles Lambert.

1,837.4

billion French francs - total individual client investment products (deposits and savings bonds).

stock market index - Dexia Belgium is one of the twenty leading stocks on the Brussels Stock Exchange.

divisions and agencies of Crédit local de France throughout France to serve local governments.

ratings of Crédit local de France and Crédit Communal de Belgique by Standard and Poor's and Moody's. 160% representing an increase in line with the groups bancassurance strategy.

billion French francs - total client deposits at the end of 1997.

http://www.Dexia.com

Eritrea-Ethic

 $A^{(k)}$

المنطقة المنطقة

=- ~

210 "

IMPENTITE ES.

ir imer

3.

e≽@15.

苯胍.

les Charles I

Serbian Forces Claim Heavy Strikes Against Kosovo Separatists Compiletly Our Suffried Disputation PRISTINA, Yugoslavia — Serbian forces, accused by Albanian for weight generated by Albanian of weight generated with the service of the Compiletly war in Kosovo, said Work meters of the Compilet war in Kosovo, said Work in the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet war in Kosovo, said Work in the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced by Albanian for weight generated with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced with the work of the Compilet was a serviced w

forces, accused by Albania of waging genocidal war in Kosovo, said Wednesday that they had dealt a "heavy blow" to guerrillas fighting for inde-

Serbian security sources said 40 people, including two Serbian police-men, had been killed during a five-day operation against ethnic Albanian rebels in Serbia's southern province.

Albania, hit by an influx of refugees. said Kosovo was already at war. Foreign Minister Paskal Milo said in a television interview, "The situation created in Kosovo requires argent intervention to stop the genocide there, which is now being expressed in all its force.

"If this conflict explodes like it is exploding, it will in the near future create scenes that would be worse and much more painful than Bosnia."

New Lewinsky Team

Continued from Page 1

Edwin Meese 3d during the adminis-

Just last week, Mr. Stein received an

Starr himself, who is the group's pres-torney General John Mitchell during Watergate and Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North's former secretary, Fawn Hall, several of the key players in the current saga. His close friend and former law partner, William Hundley, represents being investigated for his role in trying to testimony was being sought in the Paula

Mr. Cacheris also is a former partner of Gerard Treanor, who represents several other grand jury witnesses, and is close friends with Robert Bennett, who represents Mr. Clinton in the Jones case. Lawyers involved, however, said there would be no conflict. "Even though Plato and I are the best of friends, he's going to represent his client and I'll represent mine, "said Mr. Hundley, who also represented Mr. Mitchell during

Each of the two new lawyers brings

Mr. Ginsburg, a friend of Ms. Lew-his own skills as well. Mr. Stein is known for filing top-rate legal motions, while Mr. Cacheris has built a reputation insky's father who was hired the January night that Mr. Starr's prosecutors confronted her in a hotel in Arlington, Virginia, brought no such background to the While widely praised as a civil attorney, Mr. Ginsburg had a sharp learn-as he later acknowledged.

the rest of the time.

many close to her.

ing curve when it came to criminal law,

He thought he had a binding immunity agreement with Mr. Starr that a court later deemed worthless. He suggested on national television that his client was immature and a fantasizer, seeming to hint one moment that she did have sex with Mr. Clinton and then denying it the next. He tipped off the news media as he escorted Ms. Lewinsky around town

many evenings, but kept her in seclusion

In recent weeks, he set up a photo shoot for Ms. Lewinsky so she could pose for Vanity Fair, saying she needed a pick-me-up because her "libido" was "imprisoned," a move that troubled

And in what some people familiar with the situation described as the final straw, he published an open letter last week without first notifying her family in which he harshly attacked Mr. Starr, suggesting the prosecutor "may have succeeded in unmasking a sexual relationship between two consenting

for getting along with prosecutors.

Jones lawsuit against Mr. Clinton.

He has tight personal relationships with

LAWYERS:

tration of Ronald Reagan.

during Iran-contra.

is a deliberate Serb strategy of forced expulsions from Kosovo

Top aides to Ibrahim Rugova, the president of the Albanians' self-described independent government, met with a European delegation in Kosovo's capital Pristina on Wednesday. They told the delegation of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe that the situation was dramatic and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must intervene. They said world powers also must pressure President Slobodan Milosevic of Yugoslavia, who is determined to keep Kosovo from breaking away from Serbia, one of two remaining republics in Yugoslavia.

But NATO allies, with 34,000 troops already in neighboring Bosnia, are reluctant to commit another big contingent cure roads and territory in Kosovo.

borders, but indicated a decision was not

A NATO official said, "We all agreed we cannot proceed until we have solid, well thought-out military advice."

Violence between Serbs and ethnic Albanians has escalated in recent days, forcing many hundreds of refugees to spill across the border into northern Al-

The heightened tension has fueled fears of a wider Balkan conflict, just three years after the war in Bosnia ended, that could suck in neighboring countries like Albania and Macedonia.

Serbian security sources said they were mopping up in a five-day operation against ethnic Albanian guerrillas to se-

Guerrillas of the Kosovo Liberation
Army, which seeks independence from killed in Kosovo since February. They Belgrade, had put up fierce resistance.

According to Albanian sources, Serb forces shelled at least five villages Wednesday in an area of western Kosovo died in police assaults during the near the Albanian border, sending more winter. residents fleeing. Houses were set ablaze in the attack by Serb police and paramilitary units, backed by Yugoslav army

New casualty reports from the sealedoff area were not available. Dozens are end.

include 20 police killed by the Kosovo Liberation Army, which has expanded rapidly since scores of ethnic Albanians

An ethnic Albanian envoy told Albanian television that Decani, a town of 2,000, had been reduced to rubble after Serb forces pounded it with tanks and armored personnel carriers at the week-forces in 1991.

With escape routes into Albania " blocked by the army, a Serb source said." the next stage was to force the Kosovo Liberation Army rebels to pull back into the central Drenica region before !! starving them into surrender. In Rome, 2 Skender Hyseni, spokesman for Mr. Rugova, said Wednesday that the floodof people fleeing to Albania was a "very bad omen" and a sign ethnic cleansing (Reuters, AP)

KOSOVO: Ethnic Albanians' Flight Raises Fears of a Wider War

Continued from Page 1

fiercest since a crackdown in February and March left about 80 dead. The tensions in Kosovo erupted three months ago when President Slobodan Milosevic ordered a military campaign against separatist ethnic Albanian guer-

Although details about the latest Serbian assault are sketchy, is apparently aimed at clearing the Kosovo-Albanian border region of guerrilla sympathizers. Weapon smuggling from Albania to the Kosovo Liberation Army, the main ethnic Albanian rebel group, is said to be rampant in the border mountains.

A group of refugees sat in a meadow Tuesday near this village to draw a map of the communities hit by Serbian ar-tillery and mortar shells. When they were finished, the villagers had drawn a 32-mile swath of western Kosovo, just north of the Albanian border, that they said had been devastated by the Serbian

The attackers have pounded at least 10 communities between the towns of Dakovica and Decani, the refugees

"There's nothing, nothing left," said Avdul Mazreku as he walked down a

as the Serbs began setting houses on fire, northern Albania on Tuesday. The Or-19 people ran. They took over the hospital, everything.

The growing refugee crisis in Albania has led to renewed calls by the Albanian government for NATO assistance along the border region. Western analysts have long feared that the Kosovo crisis could provoke a broader regional conflict in the Balkans, perhaps involving Albania and neighboring Macedonia, which also has a sizable ethnic Albanian popula-

Albanian government authorities were virtually nonexistent in this northem region. And the Albanian military, devastated in last year's civil unrest, was nowhere to be seen. Local police and community leaders organized convoys of four-wheel-drive vehicles to bring people down from the mountains. The bulk of the relief effort was being left to international organizations.

Reaching the border region from Tirarduous six-hour journey by ferry and then car -- and demanded careful planning. The ferry, a rusty vessel, runs once a day up the Adrianc coast to northern Albania. The region's roads are narrow and crumbling, more dirt than asphalt.

ganization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, which began monitoring the border three months ago, beefed up its.

The UN agency began unloading three truckloads of blankets, flour, cooking oil, sugar and ready-to-eat meals. Many refugees climbing down the treacherous foot-wide paths, slippery from brooks and donkey dung, appeared people had been left behind. Conversations with some refugees revealed a pattern of forced expulsion that is familiar in the strife-ridden region of Yugoslavia.

to be in shock. They often broke into tears, warning that sick and elderly

Refugees here said they found tele phone and electricity lines cut about two weeks ago, and then late last week Serbian forces began shelling their communities.

'We didn't wait for the soldiers to ana, the Albanian capital, required an come," said Syliman Hajdergjonaj, 38, a father of three, while he rested on a dirt path as 14 relatives and friends listened. We know they shell first and then massacre.

"We hadn't planned on coming here but then we saw them burn the village," ?? Representatives from the Internationhe added. "If you see the burned houses," al Committee of the Red Cross arrived in you know this is a war.

Plato Cacheris, one of Monica Lewinsky's new lawyers, talking to able to find alternative flights. The comreporters while taking out the garbage at his Alexandria, Virginia, home.

STRIKE: Threatened Walkouts in France Target the World Cup

Continued from Page 1

The airline managed to operate about one in six international and intercontinental flights Wednesday and about one in three domestic flights. Although the company substituted wide-bodied aircraft on some routes to absorb demand, tens of thousands of passengers faced uncertainties and delays, and hundreds of international travelers were un-

"The strike is continuing," said Jean-Air France management on Tuesday that apparently got nowhere. "It will probably be long, it will probably be tough. Its effects will probably be devastating for the accounts and the image of the ations would continue late into the night Wednesday.

"I feel sad and almost ashamed," said the interior minister, Jean-Pierre Chevenement, who accused the pilots of holding the World Cup hostage and spoiling the global image of France. Michel Platini, co-president of the World Cup organizing committee said "The image of France is at stake." Rail workers threatened to walk out between June 9 and June 11. The World Cup, which will take place in 10 geographically dispersed cities, was scheduled to open June 10 and last more than a strike in Nantes and Lyon, two cities that will be host to World Cup games. Rail to be heavily disrupted Thursday after workers in Marseille walked out Wednesday night. In Paris, workers on the Metro and regional express railroad said they would go on strike Thursday, but the city transportation authority said it would manage to operate most trains. Unions at private security companies also are threatening strike action during the World Cup. And passengers at Charles de Gaulle Airport were forced to pick up their luggage from planeside on the second day of a baggage handlers' strike over a pay dispute. All this is within a tradition of using a major event to squeeze extra money and benefits out of employers, and governstrike threats would evaporate as the earnings.

But many of the 3,200 Air France

Charles Corbet, the chief negotiator for the pilots after a first round of talks with power, seemed determined to push their action to the limit, even if it meant imperiling the soccer tournament. Mr. Corbet spoke in more conciliatory terms about the union's willingness to engage in a dialogue as it and the Air France management met Wednesday, but he Officials said the resumed negoti- made it clear that the pilots were not backing off one iota from their position, which opposes any reduction of their earnings.

Mr. Corbet said he could understand Mr. Spinetta's demand to control salary costs, but insisted that this could be done _ without touching the pilots' pay pack-

Air France seeks to economize 500. million francs a year on pilots salaries to help pay for a 40 billion franc ($6.6) billion) investment plan that would in-clude the purchase of 70 new aircraft and the hiring of 600 pilots. Mr. Spinetta said that the means of introducing the savings were open to discussion, but he said Railroad workers also threatened to there could be no going back on the company's overall economic objec-'-tives.

In exchange for a pay freeze or reduction, it is offering the pilots shares in the state-owned company when it is partly privatized later this year. They have refused, alleging the company is trying to make them give up the equivalent of two months' pay a year.

Air France made more than 1.8 billion francs in profits last year after years of thefty losses and 20 billion francs in cash infusions from the French taxpayer. Its president, Jean-Claude Spinetia, insists that future investments must come out of the company's earnings rather than by " increasing debt. The company also maintains that its pilots are better paid than at rival airlines such as Lufthansa." and British Airways...

Air France estimates the strike is costment officials clearly were hoping the ing it 100 million francs a day in lost of

BRIEFLY

Sudan Insurgents Capture Garrison

NAIROBI - Sudan's southern rebels said Wednesday that they had captured a major garrison town in the west of the country, clearing the way for an offensive on strategic government and foreign-operated power projects and oil fields.

The Sudan People's Liberation Army said its forces had taken Ulu, a government-held garrison town in southern Blue Nile province near the Ethiopian border, early Tuesday.

"It was captured yesterday early in the morning," a rebel official, George Garang, said in Nairobi. "It took some

The 34-nation OAS was composed hours, there was heavy fighting."

He said there were 72 government casualties and many wounded, while around 25 rebel fighters were

Turkish Rebels Kill 8

TUNCELI, Turkey — Kurdish rebels killed eight civilians when they sprayed bullets into a minibus in the eastern province of Tunceli on Wednesday, Turkish security officials

The officials said that at least eight people were wounded in the attack near Salman village. The wounded were taken by helicopter to hospital in the nearby town of Elazig. Kurdistan Workers Party rebels have renewed attacks on soft targets, Alvaro it following recent Turkish claims July 12.

to have largely defeated the

Continued from Page 1

tention of humiliating Mr. Botha, as Mr.

Botha has claimed, said Archbishop Tutu. Nor did the commission wish to put Mr. Botha on the spot as a loser of the battle over white-minority rule. "There is no gloating," Archbishop Tutu said.

Security Council clearly showing that the president had approved a policy to "eliminate" and "neutralize" state enemies, Archbishop Tutu said the truth body had to question Mr. Botha directly.

Mr. Botha's lawyers, as well as several other political officials of his era, have claimed that the words "eliminate" and curity officials, who wrongly assumed

Council or not, people were killed."

'neutralize'' were misinterpreted by se-

But with minutes of the Botha's State

"I don't gloat."

they meant to kill.

No on Cuba Initiative

CARACAS - The United States has shrugged off an attempt by other American nations to debate the return of Cuba to the region's main forum, and U.S. officials said there was no consensus for it.

Despite calls by several foreign ministers at an annual conference of the Organization of American States for a discussion of Cuba, Secretary of State Madeleine Albright dismissed of democracies, Mrs. Albright told a news conference, "and I think that everybody would agree that Cuba does not meet those credentials." (Reuters)

Ecuador Favorite

QUITO, Ecuador - Jamil Mahuad, the mayor of Quito, became the favorite to win the second round of Ecuador's presidential election in July when the country's third-biggest political force threw its weight behind him.

The Democratic Left added its support to that pledged by the Christian Socialists after Sunday's first-round victory for Mr. Mahuad, the 48-yearold candidate for the centrist Popular Democrat party.

Mr. Mahuad faces a businessman, Alvaro Noboa, in the second round on institutionalized truth-telling and reconciliation that has taken hold here since the first all-races election in 1994.

Mr. Botha has called the truth-telling a process a "circus" and an attack at the Dutch-descended Afrikaner people who ruled the country under apartheid. He has vowed never to testify before it.

If he is found guilty, Mr. Botha could face two years in jail, a fine or both, though few expect that the aged and infirm former president will do time behind bars.

BOTHA: An Apartheid-Era Killer Brands Ex-Leader a 'Coward'

Mr. Botha's lawyers allege that the truth body has treated Mr. Botha with bias, and that Archbishop Tutu reneged on a deal that would have allowed Mr. Botha to answer truth body questions in writing only.

"I am surprised at that assertion be-Archbishop Tutu said, "Whether that cause I did not give such an under-taking," Tutu said in his testimony taking, was the intent of the State Security

Mr. Botha is the only apartheid-era president to stand trial. Though the Mr. Botha also has claimed, in correspondence with Archbishop Tutu, that charge against him is the relatively the only case in which he has been minor one of contempt, the case has directly implicated, the 1988 bombing, become a political test between the old did not amount to a gross human rights South Africa and the new, with Mr. violation and therefore was not within the truth body's mandate.

But Mr. de Kock testified that his team of secret bombers were fully prepared to kill should they encounter any done.

Botha attempting to defy the brand of opposition during their mission. Indeed, he said, they were under orders even to kill fellow police officers should they encounter any. He also said they expected there could be fatalities from the blast, but that in his line of work "that sometimes would happen. The order to blow up the church headquarters, known as Khotso House, month. in central Johannesburg, was rare, he said, because it targeted property on South African territory rather than abroad, as had been the previous pattern traffic in southern France was expected of targeting anti-apartheid organizations in exile. Because of that, he said, he asked his superior who had ordered the operation. During his trial for murder and other crimes in 1996, Mr. de Kock testified that his superior told him the order came from Mr. Botha himself. But in Wednesday's proceedings, the prosecutor, Bruce Morrison, did not raise the question directly.

The attempt to bomb Khotso House almost did not happen. The first time around, the bombers carried cylindrical limper mines in plastic shopping bags, but the bags broke and the mines rolled down the Johannesburg street. The mission was aborted.

For the second try, Mr. de Kock was asked, he said, because of his special expertise at getting covert operations to enter the United States at the same low tariff rates enjoyed by all but a handful of countries, which include North Korea and Cuba. Helped by those low rates. U.S.-China trade has risen steadily. Last year, the United States imported nearly $63 billion in goods from China, while selling $13 billion to it.

CHINA: Citing Stability, Clinton Calls for Renewing Most-Favored Nation Trade Status

Continued from Page 1

Since the May 4, 1989 massacre by Chinese troops of democracy advocates in Beijing. Congress has held heated debates each year on renewing the trade status. U.S. objections about Chinese human rights abuses, trade practices and sales of military technology have added fuel. Last year's debate took place under a cloud cast by the uncertainty surrounding Hong Kong's handover to China. While the fears of many in the former British colony have eased, and China in the past six months has released some prominent dissidents, the debate this year promises to be one of the more vigorous since presidential certification was first required in 1980.

Allegations that the Chinese military channeled money to the Democratic National Committee have outraged many in Congress, as have suggestions that a U.S. company received a waiver to have a Chinese missile launch its satellite because the company's owner had donated money to the Democrats. The bridge. administration has denied that the donations influenced its waiver decision.

Some critics of the administration have said the Indian nuclear tests, which precipitated the tests by Pakistan, confirmed occurred. But police and railroad of- service in 1991, none of the 104 aerotheir fears about U.S. policy on China. By dealing too casually with Beijing, these critics have said, the United States has strengthened and emboldened China, fanning a sense of insecurity among In-dians. China, a staunch ally of Islamabad, helped Pakistan develop its bomb. Congress now has 90 days to debate and possibly seek to overturn the ex- dia and Pakistan. tension of favored-nation trade status.

But while debate could sour the atmosphere as Mr. Clinton prepares for a China visit late this month that is intended to confirm an improving relationship, his will is unlikely to be thwarted. Both houses of Congress would have to summon an almost unobtainable two-thirds

In Geneva on Thursday, Mrs. Albright and foreign ministers from the other Security Council permanent members - Britain, China, France and Russia, all of them declared nuclear powers will seek a common approach to lowering the sharp tensions between In-majority to override a Clinton veto.

"Right now," Mrs. Albright said Thursday, "the most important thing both sides can do is to cool it and take a deep breath and to begin to climb out of the hole they have dug themselves into." She listed these objectives for

'Geneva and the days ahead'': an end to nuclear testing;

 agreement by both not to deploy or test missiles;
• an end to "inflammatory rhetoric"

and to "provocative military activity." Longer-term goals, Mrs. Albright added, include easing the Indian-Pakistani conflict over Kashmir; urging both countries to sign unconditionally the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty, or CTBT, and to halt production of fissile materials, and engaging both in a process. for regional arms control.

The Senate has yet to ratify the treaty, which has been signed by 149 countries, and Mr. Clinton said that "if we're call --ing on other nations to act responsibly, America must set the example."

TRAIN: 100 Are Killed in Worst Postwar Rail Crash in Germany

Continued from Page 1

on survivors while others were taken to hospitals in Hamburg, Hannover, Bremen and elsewhere.

"There was a loud noise, like a helicopter, a crashing, and then there were rail cars in front of my door," said a woman living near the tracks. Seats and suitcases had been thrown clear of the train along with splinters of metal and chunks of concrete from the The high-speed ICE trains can travel at speeds of up 380 kilometers an hour and routinely travel at 200 kilometers an hour on the stretch where the accident

ficials said they could not confirm early reports that a car atop the road-bridge had somehow swerved through safety barriers to land on the tracks in the path of the train or on the train itself. 'As far as the cause of this accident is concerned, we are still in the area of speculation," said Joachim Lindenberg, a police spokesman. He confirmed that the ruins of a car had been found in the wreckage, but said it was unclear whether the car finished up there after the bridge collapsed when the train plowed into it. "The train is regarded as the safest in Germany," a German Railroads spokesman said. Since the ICE trains came into dynamic trains in the fleet had been involved in a fatal accident, he said. The ICE trains have airline-type seats, restaurants and telephones and are regarded by many travelers as luxurious.

■ 94 Were Killed in '67 Crash

In what was previously the deadlies German rail accident since World War II 94 people were killed in 1967 near Mag deburg, in what was then East Germany The Associated Press reported. A cross ing barrier closed on a rail tanker filled with gasoline, causing it to explode and spreading fire into passenger cars. The worst accident in western Germany was: in 1971, when a passenger train collider with a freight train, killing 46 people.

حكذا من الاحل

Raises Fears of a Rider

Separatists No Fair, Say No-Frills Airlines, as BA's Enfant Terrible Joins Sky War. Union opened the door in April 1997 to increased competition. The idea was to increase and by provide an increased competition. The idea was to increase and by provide and in the increased competition. The idea was to increase and by provide an increase and by provide an increase and by provide and in the increased competition. The idea was to increase and by provide an increase and by provi into the subway at Piccadilly Circus inance and deep pockets to subsidize Go nounced last year that it intended to enter these days cannot help but see the giant to drive them out of business. advertisement for Go. British Airways PLC's new no-frills carrier. Not far away is a considerably smaller, brightorange poster for Easyjet Airline Co., a European bargain airline. It reads: "Fly the Real Thing. GO

The size and juxtaposition of the two ads say a lot about the war over the growing low-cost, no-frills European airline market now that British Airways has pushed its newborn into the fray.

Go, which began serving Italy on May 22 with flights to Rome and Milan, has a lot of muscle behind it. But it has come under fire from Britain's four other no-

"I am absolutely disgusted," said Stelios Haji-Ioannou, founder and chief executive of Easyjet. He has taken British Airways to court here and is expecting to go to trial in several months.
"It's impossible to compete against someone who is trying to lose money."

For its part, Go, which has been set up as a wholly owned subsidiary of British Airways, says it is completely independent of its owner and is simply interested in finding a profitable niche in the lowcost market created by the deregulation of European airlines.

frills carriers operating in Europe — executive of Go, said last month. "We They exist largely because the European

احكذا من الاعل

the no-frills airline business, executives from competing carriers have been on the attack.

"BA has done a lot of anti-competitive things over the years, said Richard Branson, chief executive of Virgin Branson, chief executive of Virgin Group Ltd., which operates Virgin Express along with Virgin Atlantic Airways, his original airline, which competes with British Airways on several international routes. "I think they are determined to get rid of low-cost carriers and subsidize Go to make it happen.'

While low-cost carriers like Southwest Airlines Co. have been part of the "Being owned by BA is a double-edged sword," Barbara Cassani, chief carriers are relatively new in Europe.

which began as state-sponsored air- at below-market rates.

The London hub is the most hotly contested. Round-trip tickets on a British Airways flight to Rome, for example, typically cost £189 to £538, depending planes. But he also refused British Airways request to throw out the suit. Upon The London hub is the most hotly chase. But a no-frills round-trip flight to Rome on Debonair, part of Debonair Holdings PLC, costs as little as £119 ($194.83). Now Go is charging only

The sharp drop in prices has caused a surge in passengers, but competitors of Go say its fares are too low for anybody to make money.
Easyjet, in its lawsuit, contends that Go will unfairly benefit from subsidies by its parent, arguing that British Air-

A week before Go started service, a judge denied Easyjet's request for an hearing the ruling, both companies claimed victory.

"All I want from the ultimate outcome of this whole thing is for them to play fair," said Mr. Haji-Ioannou said. But some outsiders say the fight is as much for publicity as for legal victory.
"I don't think BA has an agenda to drive Easyjet out of business," said Steve Clapham, a travel industry analyst at Robert Fleming Securities in London. "Easyjet is just looking for publicity."

"I can show you they have predatory... pricing." said Franco Mancassola, chief < executive of the no-frills airline. "Our objection is that their prices are unsustainable." Ms. Cassani of British Airways dismissed the accusations.

"We have never said we plan to main-tain these prices," she said. "Like any introduction, they are promotional later in the year."

For all the backing of its parent, Gohas started modestly. In addition to flights to Rome and Milan, it will begin. service to Copenhagen Friday. The only other no-frills carrier that operates direct .. flights on those three routes is Debonair, with its London-to-Rome service.

Eritrea-Ethiopia Conflict: New Fighting Erupts

By James C. McKinley Jr. New York Times Service

ASMARA, Eritrea — Heavy fighting broke out early Wednesday between since Eritrea became independent in Ethiopian and Eritrean troops along the 1993, but until recently they had disagreed neacefully about their border. dealing a serious blow to diplomatic efforts to avert a full-scale war between the former allies, Eritrean officials and

Eritrea said the Ethiopian troops crossed the border and attacked at 5:30 A.M. on Eritrean positions in the Ambesete Geleba region, just west of the border town of Zala Ambessa, about 150 kilometers southwest of this capital. The Ethiopian troops used tanks and heavy artillery in the assault, a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry, Andemicael Kahasai, said. The fighting continued into the late afternoon, Eritrean border town of Badame, officials said. No casualty figures were

"This attack represents a new and dangerous escalation of the crisis be-tween Eritrea and Ethiopia," Mr. Andemicael said.

There was no immediate confirmation of the fighting from the Ethiopian government. Instead, the Ethiopian Foreign Ministry released a statement saying Eritrean forces had tried once again to take the towns of Alitena and Ayga, which lie about 25 kilometers west of Zala Ambessa and were the focus of another clash last Sunday.

177

7.1

2.6

-

The fighting has dampened hopes for a peaceful settlement to the crisis, dip-

who were trying to bring the two sides to nine months, Eritrean officials said, said Eritrea was still calling for both the negotiating table remained in the Ethiopian officials in Tigre have tried to countries to pull their troops back from Ethiopian capital, Addis Ababa.

The two countries had been allies Ethiopia maintains it has jurisdiction over a number of areas that used to be part of the Ethiopian administrative province of Tigre, but Eritrea claims those regions are now within their ter- the fighting was the fifth time in the last ritory and has produced turn-of-the-century treaties between the Italian colonizers and the Ethiopian emperor The outbreak of as proof of their claims. fighting has raised The dispute turned violent on May 6 when Erfears of a fullitrean troops clashed with Ethiopian forces near the scale war. southwest of Asmara.

Each side accuses the other of invading. Since then, both governments have sent tens of thousands of soldiers, backed by tanks and artillery, into the disputed regions, while U.S. diplomats and regional leaders have shuttled between the capitals in a frantic attempt to find a peaceful solution to the conflict.

But Ethiopia has insisted Eritrea withdraw its troops from what it considers Ethiopian territory before talks can begin. Eritrea, meanwhile, has refused to withdraw, claiming its soldiers had never crossed what it considers the border.

Eritrea has also said its troops in Badame only took back land the Ethiopians sending settlers into Eritrean territory and setting up administrations.

A full-scale conflict would be disastrous not only for the two countries, border once and for all. who are still trying to rebuild after decades of civil war, but also for the sta-bility of the region, diplomats say. Mr. Andemicael said Wednesday that week that Ethiopian troops had attacked Eritrean positions along the border.

Three of these atweek. The most recent occurred Sunday near the town of Alitena. about 25 kilometers east of the current fighting.

In the clash Sunday, Ethiopian officials say Eritrean troops crossed the border and fought Ethiopian militia at the town of Dalgena. The militia later withdrew. Ethiopian troops then engaged the Eritreans and pushed them back into Eritrea, these officials said. Eritrea's version of the clash near Alitena is radically different Eritrean military officials deny invading Ethiopia and maintain it was the Ethiopian troops who penetrated nearly 20 kilometers into Eritrean territory.

Despite the renewed fighting, Mr. An-demicael said Eritrea remained comlomats said. A team of U.S. diplomats had occupied last year. For more than mitted to finding a peaceful solution. He extend their influence northward by the border and create a demilitarized zone. Eritrea has also called for a third country or for the United Nations to arbitrate the dispute and demarcate the

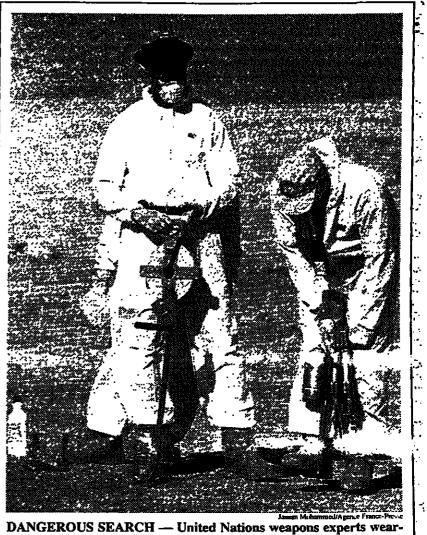

"Unfortunately," he said, "the Ethiopian government persists in its intransigent position of launching a fullscale war unless Eritrea withdraws unconditionally from territories that are indisputably Eritrean.'

Earlier this week, Ethiopian officials said the Eritrean actions around Badame and Sheraro amounted to an invasion tacks, he said, took and to start negotiations before Eritrean place in the region troops withdrew would be to surrender around Badame last Ethiopian sovereignty over the region.

Ethiopian sovereignty over the region.
"Unless you draw the line here, nobody will be able to know what the Eritreans might do tomorrow," the deputy foreign minister of Ethiopia, Tekeda Alemu, said Sunday.

Eritrea has a regular army of about 35,000 men, most of them battlehardened veterans from the 30-year war for independence that ended in 1991 with the defeat of Ethiopia's Marxist dictator, Mengistu Haile Mariam. It has also called up at least 10,000 reservists and sent them to the frontier.

For its part, Ethiopia has about 120,000 men under arms, though it is unclear how many of them are in Tigre. Many of the top commanders and enlisted men in the Ethiopian Army are former rebels from Tigre who fought with the Eritrean rebels to overthrow Mr.

ing protective gear as they probed the desert north of Baghdad on Wednesday with sensors, looking for missile parts Iraq says it buried.

A HOPE IN THE UNSEEN Inner City to the Ivy League

By Ron Suskind. 372 pages. $25. Broadway. Reviewed by Jonathan Yardley destructive lives.

THIS is the story, at once heartening and discouraging, of a young man named Cedric Jennings, a student at Frank W. Ballou Senior High, "the most troubled and violent school in the blighted southeast corner of Washington, D.C." The good news is that through dedication, hard work and commitment, Jennings moved on from Ballou to Brown University; he was "on a mission to get out of here, to be the one who makes it. " The bad news is implicit in that statement; too few other students have followed similar paths, too many have drifted along into sad, stunted, self-

"A Hope in the Unseen," like the story it tells, is a risky undertaking with its strong and weak points. Ron Suskind is a white journalist, and most of the people in this narrative are black; he has made a tremendous empathetic leap, and his effort seems to have succeeded, although only black readers will be able to say with real authority whether that is so. He has also, in the manner of the new" journalism, tried to work himself into the minds of the people he writes about; he claims to have done this with the cooperation and endorsement of those involved, and there is no reason to doubt him, but since any attempt to get inside another person is always doomed to failure, we do well to read these passages with friendly skepti-

Cedric Jennings graduated second in his class at Ballou in the spring of 1995. This in itself was no mean achievement, for it was done against financial privation - his mother is a low-level federal employee and his sole support — and, riding out the many obstacles he had to even more important, in a culture overcome or making the hard, painful dig Resteeled against academic success. This adjustment to being a ghetto black kid at was Mr. Yeltsin's second crisis. is an old and familiar story. At Ballon, a "Wall of Honor" established to celebrate students of academic distinction was an object of contempt and derision, and for Jennings his place on that wall was a decidedly mixed blessing:

"Cedric's 4.02 grade point average virtually ties him for first in the junior class with a quiet, studious girl named LaCountiss Spinner. Pride in such accomplishment is acceptable behavior for sterling students at high schools across the land, but at Ballou and other urban schools like it, something else is at work. Educators have even coined a phrase for it. They call it the crab/bucket syndrome: When one crab tries to climb from the bucket, the others pull it back down. The forces dragging students toward failure - especially those who have crawled farthest up the side flow through every corner of the school. Inside the bucket, there is little chance of rare escapees as much because of a sense of mission as because of the more practical qualities he brought to the task. In the words of a classmate and friend who encouraged and admired him in one of his many times of uncertainty and despair: "You've worked too long, too hard, to give up now. ... You're a special person, Cedric. It's not like you're so much smarter than everyone else, necwhose support was essential to Jennings: his mother, a friendly teacher, his essarily. It's just that you know in your heart that you're gonna make it - and that's the kev. That girl was one of several people

Cedric Jennings, "an angular, al-mond-eyed boy," became one of the

In the end, though, he had to make it on his own; no one else could take those SAT tests or endure the tensions of a rich white kid's Ivy League university. crisis this spring. The first he Not merely that, but Jennings had—and created himself in March Not merely that, but Jennings had - and presumably still has — a healthy skepticism about the benefits of affirmative action. Though he has been the beneficiary of some of its outgrowths, he understands that he is a discrete individual whose success or failure is tied to his own strengths and weaknesses rather than to his identity as a member of a "victimized" group.

In this he was encouraged by Justice Clarence Thomas of the Supreme Court, who takes an interest in ambitious black youths and invited Jennings to his chambers. Counseling him about the prospect of an Ivy League education, Thomas said: "No doubt, one thing you'll find when you get to a school like Brown is a lot of classes and orientation on race relations. Try to avoid them. Say to yourself, I'm not a black person, I'm just a person. You'll find a lot of so-called multicultural combat, a lot of struggle between ethnic and racial groups - and people wanting you to sign on, to narrow yourself into some group identity or other. You have to resist that, Cedric. You understand?" The counsel proved wise. At Brown, Jennings found it "tiring to always be talking about race, about black views of this or white views of that, but at least it was talking." There must be times when he wonders if the university cares more about him as a black person — a jewel in its crown of diversity — than as Cedric Jennings. But after a slow start there, he has found his pace and now seems on track to graduate, a year hence, and begin his life in the real world. Though it is tempting to describe his passage there as a miracle, in fact it is a story of sheer human grit that should be read by others as example and inspiration.

Washingson Post Service

RUSSIA: Yeltsin Once Again Stirs Into Action to Deal With a Crisis Continued from Page 1 office to the all-out effort to with Mr. Yeltsin complimen- of the Russian Credit Bank, when he fired his long-time Chernomyrdin, and muscled more ambiguous phraseology head of the SBS-Agro Bank, his young new nominee, of his last prime minister, suggested that Mr. Yeltsin's Sergei Kiriyenko, through a recalcitrant Parliament.

away, the jockeying for political position has already begun, and not only in the Kremlin. As some observers noted, the bankers and businessmen who assembled around Mr. Yeltsin's table on Tuesday were there not only to help sort out Russia's finances, but also to resume a relationship that will be key if Mr. Yeltsin chooses to run

With Russia's next pres-

Much has changed in Russia since the presidential elections of 1996, when Mr. Yeltsin was able to summon the nearly unanimous support of the country's business tycoons and their privatelyowned media outlets. Several of those tycoons - including Vladimir Gusinsky, the media mogul who was at the Kremlin on Tuesday, and Boris Berezovksy. a powerful financier who was not invited --- have stated publicly that they are looking for alternative candidates to back in the next elections. But Mr. Yeltsin, whose career has been a string of remarkable comebacks, cannot be counted out, particularly now that he has no obvious political heir Most analysts see his performance over the last few months as evidence that he is keeping his options open, hoping that his new government will give him a record he can defend before the voters two years from now.

"He strongly believes that Mr. Kiriyenko and his young team will promote economic said Sergei growth," Markov, director of the Institute of Political Studies. That is why he chose them - also because they are young. That way, his rivals don't know whether to accuse him of being too old, or the government of being too young." As for himself, he wants to

As the father figure of a new government, Mr. Yeltsin had no choice but to commit the power and prestige of his dig Russia out of its financial ted the president on his per- and "Kiriyenko said he has been helped by the perterviews in the Russian press and television, has come across as a sober-minded. clear-spoken technocrat - in stark contrast with Mr. Chernomyrdin.

goals and terminology as his toward the end. own — leaving aside the whose views and experience main purpose in calling the as a Soviet era manager had acted as a brake on Russia's idential elections two years radical reformers.

In published interviews

Smolensky, Alexander businessmen together was to 'share responsibility. "Perhaps," he said, "it is President Yeltsin's task the system of checks and balances that the president is so right to consult with oth-But the participants also formance during the 90 agreed, didn't agree, we are That in turn has required minutes of talks - but some going to do that, we have him to adopt their economic noted that he seemed to tire already done it, we are going to pass this or that law."

"Yeltsin understands nothing about economics,"; said Mr. Markov. "Now, he has the next wave of new reformers. He. has to trust them, because he chose them. Mr. Yeltsin's job is to keep power, and to run the country. He is good at the formance of Mr. Kiriyenko fond of — as in, Here sits the first, and not so good at the himself, who in various in- prime minister but I keep the second, so he chooses the people who will run the country on his behalf."

And while he has emacknowledged that it is braced the Kiriyenko governmostly Mr. Kiriyenko who in ment and its deficit-cutting the course of the conversa- program during these weeks tion, who provided answers to of crises, there is nothing to. Wednesday in the newspaper the businessmen's questions. stop Mr. Yeltsin from later Kommersant, several of the Someone would propose distancing himself if the retop businessmen who met something, said Vitali Malkin sults are not successful.

BRIDGE

By Alan Truscott

accident. It happened because sounded like a cue-bid, askbidding boxes were in use, ing East to bid, so West deand he was required to make cided that a discreet pass was his bid by placing the appro-indicated. He was astonished priate card face up on the to find that the bidding table. He reached for the one-ended. heart card, placed it on the red. He had bid one spade.

to Pogran later, the same as playing a enter the fray. West led the six for minus 300 was a top is not the same as playing a spade lack Pogran nervously is not the same as pulying spade jack, Pogran nervously score for North-South. At card by mistake. A bidding card by mistage. A played in error can be exposed his dimmy, and every other table East-West retrieved immediately and replaced without penalty. But he was in shock, and

THE diagramed deal does sat there silently while East and explained the auction to not, as might appear, have passed and South bid one no official ears. Everyone stared not, as might appear, nave passed and south of the place of the passed and passed and at Pogran.

a misprint in the bidding diature. West assumed, not unativally that North held the "Of course, I meant to pull gram. When it was played in a naturally, that North held the gram. When it was pure at Honors other five spades and that East out the one-heart ticket," he stammered. "Maybe my fin-Pogran, sitting North, had an two spades would have

North was tempted to bid neart card, practed in horror his hearts but feared a disone else, won the first trick table, then really as black, not astrons preference to spades. With the spade king and led a He passed, wishing he was at club instead of cashing two As the director explained home watching television, heart winners. This made no As me cure to Pogran later, the simation and East saw no reason to difference at all, since down disbelief. "Director!" bellowed West, accident." "It's a perfectly legal bid," announced the director. "Continue to play." He walked away, leaving West grinding his teeth. South, in shock like every-three players gazed at it in scored 450 for making four spades with an overtrick. It is believed that West is still muttering. "Why did he have to have his accident against ME?"

NORTH (D)

VAK543 0 J 8 3 ◆ A J 1086542 ▲ 97 VJ9862 ♣ A K SOUTH ΑKQ ♣ J 9 6 5 4

create an image of a president who is not a "sleeping li-East Pass

Intervene in Kosovo

The Clinton administration has said time and again that it will not permit the Serbian leader Slobodan Milosevic to extend his brutal ethnic cleansing tactics to the independence-minded province of Kosovo. Now his troops are conducting precisely such atrocities in Kosovo, and the administration's response so far is more talk.

Kosovo is part of Serbia, which in turn is part of what is left of Yugoslavia. But only 10 percent of Kosovo's 2 million people are ethnic Serbs; 90 percent are ethnic Albanians. For a quarter of a century the province enioved considerable autonomy, but Mr. Milosevic revoked that in 1989 to fuel his nationalist rise to power. Ever since, and under the lash of Serbian repression, a Kosovo independence movement has gained strength. The movement has been largely nonviolent. But recently, as ethnic Albanians have become convinced that the West has abandoned them, an armed resistance has rapidly gained support. U.S. policy on all this has been pretty clear — at least in words. The United States does not support Kosovo independence, but it does support legitimate aspirations for more autonomy. It favors peaceful dialogue and opposes armed conflict. President George Bush warned in 1992 that the essary to block ethnic cleansing in Kosovo. The Clinton administration embraced that warning in 1993. And as recently as three months ago, Secretary of State Madeleine Albright said the United States would not "stand by and watch the Serbian authorities do in Kosovo what they can no longer get away with doing in Bosnia."

But that is just what Serbian authorities are doing right now. In a wide swath of borderland along Albania, Serbian police and soldiers have been destroying villages, killing civilians and turning thousands of men, women and children into refugees. An Austrian defense attaché who spent two days tour-ing the isolated region said, "All the signs are that the Serbs are going on with ethnic cleansing in the Kosovo area."

U.S. policy in the past three months has been a confusing mixture of sanctions threatened, imposed and withdrawn. Such sanctions are in any case mostly beside the point; only the credible threat of force, and the use of force if necessary, can deter Mr. Milosevic. The United States can intervene now, as it has said it would. Or, as in Bosnia, it can be forced to intervene later, after much damage has been done and any solution is far more difficult.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

Courting North Korea

Since becoming South Korea's to Cold War sanctions but by expand-president earlier this year, Kim Dae ing economic and diplomatic links. Jung has brought a new tone to diplomacy with the Communist North. Instead of emphasizing historic grievances, Seoul now tries to draw Pyongyang toward cooperation. Just days before departing for a state visit to the United States, Mr. Kim is calling on Washington to reinforce his efforts by ending American trade sanctions against North Korea that date back to the Korean War. His plea deserves a serious hearing, especially from congressional Republicans inclined to treat any American overture toward Pyongyang as a mortal threat to the security of South Korea. Mr. Kim is a better judge than anyone in Washington of South Korea's security needs, and by championing a less confrontational approach to his northern neighbor he effectively erases the argument that an adjustment in American policy would undermine Seoul's interests.

Mr. Kim understands well enough that North Korea remains a harsh dictatorship and a potential military threat. But he recognizes that the best way to promote positive and peaceful change in the North is not by clinging

The Clinton administration partly agrees, which is why it negotiated the 1994 agreement to close down North Korea's bomb-fuel-producing nuclear reactors in exchange for international assistance in building alternative power sources in the North, including two safer nuclear plants.

But such efforts at engaging the North brought complaints and occa-sional obstruction from the previous South Korean government. The nuclear agreement has also encountered funding problems in the U.S. Congress, where Republicans have resisted paying for some of the fuel oil promised to North Korea while the new reactors are being built. North Korea, in turn, has said it might repudiate the whole nuclear deal those oil supplies are interrupted. Congress should have the good sense to avoid a dangerous round of nuclear roulette in the Korean Peninsula.

Closely coordinated efforts between Washington and Seoul will be required to steer North Korea toward a safer path. Kim Dae Jung comes to America offering a more constructive and effective partnership.

—THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Needing Disaster

Watching a disaster movie is a little like imagining your own funeral. You would not be able to witness your own funeral, of course, but in your mind's eye you can. And no matter what happens to Earth in the final reel of a disaster movie, when the popcorn has all been eaten and the audience is feeling a little salty, the observer's eye persists.

You would not have made it to high ground if a comet splashed into the Atlantic and sent a half-mile-high tsunami cantilevering over New York, but in "Deep Impact" you do. In a real epic of global destruction, you would be one of the extras, incidentally squashed by Godzilla's tail as it gouged an office tower in passing. But in the movies especially now that the megatonnage of disaster films seems to be increasing you watch with an omnipotent eye, an effect that does not diminish when you walk back into the city streets and the night is still sticky and scented, the way it was two hours earlier.

The threat in recent disaster movies seems to be nothing less than global extinction or the demise of the human species. The emotion in a horror movie is intimate, because the audience is asked to imagine the detailed slicing and dicing of its personal flesh. But the emotion in a disaster movie is somehow more social and more diffuse. Its origin is not just giant lizards or unrepentant comets or, in the upcoming Armageddon," an asteroid the size of Texas. Its origin is human nature.

That explains why makers of disaster movies love the scene in which the whole population, fleeing the city, causes a traffic jam the size of New Jersey. The audience is asked to imagine in each stalled auto the flicker of personal fear. But what is really being shown is the breakdown of civilization, echoing, in a summer drive-in kind of way, the darker vision of Jean-Luc Godard in "Weekend."

The only subject that Hollywood has ever had is redemption. What ratchets up the scale of destruction in modern disaster movies is the sense that the redemption we Americans really need these days is national or global. The whole edifice is flawed, and so it takes a colossal threat to restore perspective, or the destruction of the edifice itself, in order to clear room for a new beginning. Night after summer night, we go to the movies and watch a hero rise up, among the unheroic little people, to save the planet, or Manhattan. Night after night, we are that hero, wandering through the cinematic wreckage toward the promised land.

--- THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Other Comment

Spirit of the Berlin Airlift

Relations between Europe and America seem very far from being as close as they were half a century ago. But there have always been tensions in the trans-Atlantic partnership, even during the Cold War. Such disagreements are natural and inevitable in any relationship. The American acquiescence in acceptance of new members in the NATO alliance is an encouraging sign that in the trans-Atlantic relationship there is still something left of the spirit of the Berlin airlift. Neue Zürcher Zeitung (Zurich).

Herald Tribune

ESTABLISHED 1887 KATHARINE GRAHAM, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER Co-Chairmen of the Board KATHARINE P. DARROW, Vice Chairman

PETER C. GOLDMARK Jr., Chairman and Chief Executive Officer RICHARD WOOLDRIDGE, President and Chief Operating Officer MICHAEL GETLER, Executive Edito

 WALTER WELLS, Managing Editor • PAUL HORVITZ, Deputy Managing Editor
 KATHERINE KNORR and CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors • SAMUEL ABT and CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editors • ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editorial Pages JONATHAN GAGE, Business and Finance Edito

> • RENÉ BONDY, Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer DIDIER BRUN, Circulation and Development Director
> Directeur de la Publication: Richard McClean

International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France.
Tel.: (1) 41.4393.01. Fax: Subscriptions, (1) 41.4392.10; Advertising, (1) 41.4392.12; News, (1) 41.4393.38.
Internet address: http://www.iht.com/ E-Mail: iht@iht.com/

Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson, 5 Canterbury Rd., Singapore 119800 Tel. (65) 472-7768, Fax. (65) 274-2334

Ming. Dir. Asia, Terr. Damer, 50. Glouvester Rd., Hong. Kong. Tel. 852-2922-1188, Fax. 852-2922-1190

Gen. Mgr. Germany, T. Schlüter, Friedrichstr. 15, 60123 Frankfurthl. Tel. +49 69971250-0. Fax. +49 69971250-201

Pres. U.S.: Ann Binishern, NO Thard Ave. New York, N.Y. 10022. Tel. (212) 753-3900. Fax. (212) 753-8785

U.K. Advertising. Office: 63 Long Acre. London WCZ. Tel. (171) 836-4802. Fax: (171) 240-2254

S.A.S. au capital de 1.200.000 F. RCS Nunterre B 732021126. Commission Partiaire No. 61337

© 1998, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

The Lone Superpower Is Falling Behind the Curve

WASHINGTON — India and Pakistan have redrawn the map of global power and ambition with their competitive nuclear tests. Their defiant blasts call into question the nature and durability of American leadership in world affairs, a few years after the United States appeared as an unprecedented world colossus.

The Clinton administration has abruptly stopped fretting about the risks of becoming an overbearing global super-power. Instead it scrambles after a strategy to accommodate a set of foreign policy crises that have spun out of Washington's control in a matter of weeks.

The nuclear tests in South Asia arrive

as Bill Clinton's Middle East diplomacy is dead in the water, as Russia's fledgling free market economy threatens to go under, and as Asia wrestles with the wrenching social and political consequences of the collapse of its eco-nomic "miracle." The long U.S. confrontation with Iraq, on a back burner at the moment, has not gone away.

This state of affairs is not the stuff of successful legacy. Inadvertently, President Clinton is helping bring into being a multipolar world in which the overwhelming American power displayed during the

By Jim Hoagland

Gulf War is sharply diminished, as rival nations have hoped since 1991.
This is not wholly, as his Republican critics assert, the fault of Mr. Clinton's notorious ambivalence toward and neglect of a strategic approach to world affairs. It is also a consequence of the stalemated nature of power in the post-Cold War international system.

Today power — military, economic and political — can be amassed and displayed as in the past. But rarely can it be used with significant positive effect. The checks and balances of the many interdependencies created by the global revolution in technology, finance, communications and transport frustrate the sustained unilateral use of power by a single actor. The problem is not just Bill Clinton's well-known dislike of inflicting punishment, it is also the double-edged nature of punishment in the era of globalization.

The harsh economic sanctions imposed on India and Pakistan demonstrated that Washington possesses a global reach and power that no other nation can contest. But the Indians and Pakistanis did their nuclear thing, leaving Washington to sputter angrily about betrayal and folly and to watch as the punishments it has inflicted make the situation worse.

To be fair, Mr. Clinton never aspired to U.S. domination of the world. And his frequently inept or negligent diplomacy would have kept it at bay in any event. But his chief failure in foreign policy lies precisely in his failure to act on the consequences of his own distrust of U.S. global power and to work consistently for an effective multinational alternative.

He has now fallen so far behind the direction and pace of political change abroad that he risks never being able to catch up. The India-Pakistan challenge makes that indelibly clear. A senior U.S. official puts it in kinder but revealing terms, in discussing a direct request to Mr. Clinton from Pakistan to appoint a U.S. mediator and get negotiations with India started over the disputed territory of Kashmir and the nuclear impasse that the two na-tions have created: "We are trying to figure out how to exercise leadership. It is not clear how deep we want to get into this. The president is in fact wary of deep U.S. involvement." The intelligence and analytical failures of the administration prior to India's initial atomic test on May 11 are well known. Perhaps more disturbing is the floundering in search of a strategy since then. Feeling burned by the deceit and defiance that both India and Pakistan have shown toward him, Mr. Clinton has instructed the State Department to emphasize publicly how little the United States can do in this situation.

le Incentive

To Head Off a

- Art

- 4- 3

فالمائة تجانيدا جنجران

.. y . '2: 325

محمدة عمر برا

1. 法分益费

II (IER)

Imerica the Deli

10 2 -

2 (10 m)

2.57

.:.=

===

Mr. Clinton has always pursued ad hoc diplomacy that downplays clear choices about big principles, relying instead on his congeniality with fellow leaders to shape events. With a few exceptions (Bosnia and Northern Ireland among them), he has subordinated leadership to extending a circle of orderly markets and elections as self-cures for the world's problems. The shortcomings of that approach are exposed by the nuclear tinderbox that the Asian subcontinent has suddenly become.

An American president cannot avoid making clear and strategic choices on safeguarding U.S. national interests. Time grows short for this presidency. Mr. Clinton will have to start making those choices, or accept leaving them for his successor and for America's rivals abroad to make.

The Washington Post.

One Set of Elemental Labor Standards for All the World

GENEVA — While heads of state, trade ministers and others gathered in Geneva two weeks ago for the second ministerial conference of the World Trade Organization, thousands of demonstrators, shadowed by police in riot gear, marched under banners denouncing unemployment and environmental degradation, banks and multinational corporations, globalization and the WTO itself.

The sound and the fury outside had little visible impact on the conference, held in celebration of 50 years of GATT-induced trade liberalization and to set the agenda for its future expansion. But few of the participants can have missed the point. The message from the streets reflects genuine and widespread anguish.

Globalization is hardly new. It is as old as travel and trade. But among the lessons of history, one which stands out is that no automatic link exists between economic growth and social progress. As President Nelson Mandela pointed out in his speech to the WTO, "Trade does not of itself and in itself bring a better world."

Another lesson is that exclusion and injustice breed in-

Technological innovation and globalized markets have whether trade issues are settled been formidable engines of growth. The challenge, dramatically highlighted by the crisis still unfolding in Asia, is finding the way to harness these forces for the benefit of the greatest number, and thus to make such growth sustainable. There is no reason to believe that it cannot be done. In the four years since con-clusion of the Uruguay Round, the dehate on the social dimension of liberalization of trade that is, on the relationship between expanding international commerce and the rights and interests of working men and women — has made significant Initial attempts, by several leading industrialized countries, to include a "social clared, "when one nation chal- his past trade policies: "We clause" in the sanctions-based defined by the international WTO system of dispute resolution foundered in the face of determined opposition by the great majority of developing countries. What the former presented as a moral imperative was rejected by the latter as an attempt to erect new protection-

By Michel Hansenne

While reiterating their hostility to protectionist strategies two years later in Singapore, the member states of the WTO affirmed a commitment to respect the fundamental rights of workers, and explicitly underlined their support for the International Labor Organization's efforts to promote them worldwide.

Just what these fundamental rights are had meanwhile been community as a whole at the "social summit" held in Copenhagen in March 1995. They are based on four essential

 The right of workers to join freely in associations of their choice and to bargain collectively. The prohibition of slavery and all forms of forced labor. • Equal pay for men and women for work of equal value, and the barring of all forms of discrimination in employment and the workplace. A commitment to eliminate mediately its most abusive It is now time to turn these child labor and to eradicate im-very basic social standards into adhered to the corresponding inuniversal values. The striking ternational labor conventions. convergence of so many speeches delivered at the WTO conference suggests that a consensus is within grasp.

in the same hall, labor ministers, together with leaders of trade union confederations and employers' organizations from around the world, will have before them a draft declaration of principles concerning these fundamental rights. Its adoption by the International Labor Conference (the supreme deliberative body of the ILO) would mean that the ILO's 174 member states, including all members of the WTO, recognize their duty to observe these principles whether or not they have formally

The declaration and its follow-up mechanism would represent a capital breakthroughthe first universal recognition Meeting this week and next that the globalized economy must rest on ground rules designed to promote social justice and human dignity, and that these rules must be backed up by an effective monitoring system.

The challenge for the international community today is to turn globalization from a source of fear and resentment into a catalyst for social and democratic development.

The writer is director-general of the International Labor Office, the ILO's secretariat. He contributed this comment to the

Clinton Seeks Leveling Up Instead of Down

By E. J. Dionne Jr.

WASHINGTON — Some of what happens in politics is hidden in plain sight. On May 18, President Bill Clinton announced a major shift in America's approach to global economics. His ideas would afstability and, ultimately, revolt. fect how workers and the environment gain protection, and in the open or in secret. Almost nobody paid attention. Mr. Clinton's announcement came in a speech before a conference of the World Trade Organization in Geneva. There was a time when the address would have been front-page news. It was, for one thing, a direct response to critics of the WTO who accuse it of bowing to the wishes of powerful international companies and making its decisions without any public accountability.

Mr. Clinton said that on the matter of secrecy, at least, the critics are right. "We must modernize the WTO by opening its doors to the scrutiny and participation of the public."

"Today," Mr. Clinton de-

lenges the practices of another, must do more to ensure that the proceeding takes place behind closed doors. I propose that all hearings by the WTO be open to the public." He promised that the United States sumer protections or labor stanwould open any proceeding that dards. We should be leveling with offsets for inequality." it is part of, and challenge other countries to do the same.

For good measure, Mr. Clinton proposed that private citizens be able to present their views before the WTO meaning that business and labor people, Raiph Nader and Pat Buchanan, environmentalists and anyone else could raise a ruckus when they thought vital issues were at stake.

Since international organizations now play such a big role in every nation's economy, how can the basic right to petition and air grievances be denied? Calling on the WTO to work more closely with environmentalists and the International Labor Organization to lift standards, Mr. Clinton directly borrowed rhetoric from critics of spirited economic competition

Thus the importance of Mr.

Thus the importance of Mr.

Clinton's "leveling up" thetorrace to the bottom — in en-up, not leveling down. He acknowledged with unusual bluntness that without such protections "we cannot build the necessary public support for the expansion of trade." Working people would assume the risk of a free international market only "if they will work for them.'

That Mr. Clinton's speech got so little coverage may reflect the muffling of his voice by scandal news. But it demonstrates for certain the eclipse of trade as a major public issue after last year's defeat of authority for the president to negotiate trade deals on a "fast track." In fact, Mr. Clinton's new proposals are a direct response to the defeat of fast-track. They grow out of continuing discussions between Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin and a group of House Democrats.

Some of Mr. Rubin's interlocutors — David Bonior of Michigan, for example — were sharply critical of Mr. Clinton's old approach to trade. But many of them, including Nancy Pelosi of California and Barney Frank of Massachusetts, are also interested in a "third way" that accepts global markets as a reality but seeks, as Mr. Frank put it, globalization plus civility."

On trade, says Mr. Frank, the president and the Democrats realize there's a fundamental intellectual tension — we're not for trickle-down domestically, why should we be for trickle-. down internationally?"

ic. "We're not saying no to in-ternationalism." Mr. Frank says. "We're saying you have to do it

Clinton's past trade policies see him responding to their views came from AFL-CIO President John Sweeney. He praised the Geneva speech as "a dramatic turning point in the debate over the rules of globalization." Commerce Secretary William have confidence that the system Daley, a free trader who served as the administration point man on the North American Free Trade Agreement, said in an interview last week, referring to the WTO and the IMF: "If we're going to depend on international organizations, we'd better not only start defending them but also deal with the legitimate problems that have come up. ... We're trying to get this debate on a different level. Forging a new consensus around global growth with equity would be a major achievement. But the resounding silence that greeted the president's speech suggests that the road there will be long and that there may be limits on Mr. Clinton's ability to lead the journey. Washington Post Writers Group

Letters intended for publication should be addressed "Letters to the Editor" and contain the writer's signature, name and full address. Letters should be brief and are subject to editing. We cannot be responsible for the return of unsolicited manuscripts.

So Much for the Peace Process

JERUSALEM — Ever since Benjamin Netanyahu took office, there have been ques-tions about whether he can move past his own family history to make peace with the Palestinians. He has now given the answer. There is no peace process, he recently told a gathering in Jerusalem of foreign ambassadors.

The peace, he said in his impeccable English, collapsed more than two years ago because of Palestinian terrorism.

The experienced diplomats managed to maintain their poker faces, but Israelis and Arabs reacted with anger. Although many doubted that Mr. Netanyahu was ever sincere in his vow to follow the Oslo path, the extraordinary scene of him calling his own bluff in public stunned even the less naive.

Mr. Netanyahu's spokesnen rushed to control the lamage. A few days later, the rime minister, meeting Newt Gingrich and his delegation in Jerusalem, tried to "clarify" what he meant. Too late.

To me this came as no surprise. Two years ago, when Mr. Netanyahu took power, I resigned from my job as director or the Israeli press office. Working with the late Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin for three years, and watching his transformation from a tough warrior to a peacemaker, had opened my eyes.

By Uri Dromi

staunch opponent of the Palestinians. He refused to talk to the PLO, preferring to try the Svrian venue first. Then he realized how tough and inflexible Syrian President Hafez Assad was, while in the meantime the Palestinian uprising known as the intifada was raging in the Israeli-held territories. Worse, much more serious threats were surfacing: the wave of Islamic fundamentalism in the guise of the Hezbollah and Hamas, backed by Iran, a growing menace itself. bin, ever the realist, chose not

Facing such odds, Mr. Rabetween good and bad but, as with all choices in the Middle East, between bad and worse. Begrudgingly, he went to Washington and made peace with the Palestinians, because he understood that the alternative to shaking Yasser Ara-fat's hand might be dealing

For Mr. Rabin, reconciling with the Palestinians was not only a moral issue but a strategic necessity as well: Israel had to make peace with its immediate neighbors in order to prepare for the greater risks looming over the horizon.

Terror undermined Mr. Ra-bin's efforts, and he eventually paid with his life for his

even in the darkest hours of buses torn apart in the midst of our cities, did he waver in his conviction that peace was the only viable option. Then came Mr. Netanyahu.

I had read his book, "A Place Among Nations," and I knew right away that peace was not found in his vocabulary. Forget about his strict father, about his reactionary ideology. Just read the text. simple content analysis will tell the story: It is about conflict. Israel against the Arabs — all the Arabs. It is about war, struggle, endurance, attrition and the like.

Peace, coexistence and mutual respect are rare commodities in his book. Am levadad vishkon, as the Bible saying goes people that dwells alone. When I resigned two years ago, hardly did I believe that it would take Mr. Netanyahu such a short time to fulfill his own prophecy. And now it is official, from his mouth. In his perfect theatrical touch, he even managed to choose the most appropriate timing to announce the death of the Israeli-Palestinian peace process: precisely when the whole world is rejoicing over the birth of peace in Ireland.

The writer was director of the Israeli government press office from 1992 to 1996. He contributed this comment to Mr. Rabin was for years a courageous effort. But never, The Washington Post.

IN OUR PAGES: 100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1898: Silver Comage

PARIS - [The Herald says in an Editorial:] Senator Wolcott has taken advantage of the war to get a silverite proposition voted by the United States. The measure consists in an amendment to the Revenue Bill providing for the coinage of silver. All the white metal is to be coined at the rate of four millions a month. The object of the measure is ostensibly to provide war funds, but coinage at the rate proposed would require two years.

1923: 'Dry' Edict

LONDON - America's determination to enforce the "dry" edict against foreign shipping may lead to an international challenge. Nothing short of an international conference can deal with the matter satisfactorily. In the opinion of some authorities on international law. such a conference becomes necessary to definitely decide how far any Power is entitled to go in imposing its own domestic sumptuary laws upon the crews or passengers of foreign ships.

CHENGTU - The Chinese are

1948: China's Firsts

fond of telling you that they did it or had it first, and they are usu-ally right. One important China first is the sidewalk cafe, generally associated with Paris. There are hundreds of them in Chengtu, Szechwan Province's capital. All the standard reference books explain that China had gunpowder and printing first, but they don't usually mention the Sunkist orange. It is supposed to have come originally from Chungking, also in Szech-wan Province. Then, too, there is Italian ravioli. Marco Polo picked up the idea during his stay in North China and took it back to Italy. Ravioli was developed from the Chinese "jaodze."

حكذا من الاحل

احكذا من الاعل

Behind the Cun

ds for All the T

p Instruction

OPINION/LETTERS

Use Incentives, Not Sanctions, To Head Off an Arms Race

PARIS — In order to avoid a slide into nuclear anarchy after India and Pakistan's nuclear tests, ma- link between the possession nuclear regional powers that jor policy initiatives are of nuclear weapons and called for. These must involve membership. the five "official" nuclear powers as well as the vast is that the two categories have majority of states that have, until now, renounced the possession of nuclear weapons. Such measures are required both at the global and the re-gional levels. They should emphasize incentives rather than sanctions: Rewarding the virtuous many will be more effective than sanctioning the wayward few.

Global initiatives should build on two realities that the India-Pakistan tests have underscored.

First, it is necessary to rec-Ognize that it is unhealthy for the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council to also be the five declared nuclear powers. This was not always the case. Indeed, none of the "permanent five" — including the United States - were nuclear powers when the Se- not benefit that handful of curity Council was created in states - including India and June 1945, and it is therefore Pakistan - that have refused

The political fact, though, become identical. Precisely because of India and Pakistan's nuclear gate-crashing,

It is unhealthy for the permanent members of the UN Security Council to also be the five declared nuclear powers.

this would be a good time to proceed with the long-delayed broadening of the permanent membership of the Security Council.

Such an extension should wrong to establish a causal to sign the Nuclear Nonpro-in East Asia and the Middle Conversely, major non-exercise international responsibilities, such as Germany, Japan, Brazil, South Africa or Egypt, should be counted in.

clear powers should set an example by engaging in vigorous arms control measures: deeper cuts in the still over-abundant American and Russian nuclear arsenals along with an international attempt to stop the production of all nuclear material destined for India appears to have expressed an interest in such a would have the political virtue of not discriminating among the five official nuclear powers

(Britain, China, France, Russia and the United States) and those three states that have military nuclear programs (India, Pakistan and Israel).

tests not lead to similar moves 'cutoff convention," which military use.

Second, the declared nu-rea were to proceed with nu- on the need to limit nuclear clear testing, both South Korea and Japan could engage in destabilizing countermoves that would in turn be seen as threatening by China and the United States. Beijing and Washington, whatever disagreements they may have on matter of absolute urgency that the Indian and Pakistani chain reaction.

President Bill Clinton's visit to China at the end of the month offers an opportunity If, for instance, North Ko- to achieve a new consensus proliferation. This would imply a quid pro quo: China would have to renounce in a verifiable fashion its technology transfers to Pakistan; and the United States should contemplate the easing, if not the lifting, of economic sanctions At the regional level, it is a other issues, have a common imposed after the Tiananmen interest in preventing such a It remains to be seen whether the American president will sort out his priorities. Nuclear nonproliferation, human rights, respect of international property rights, reduction of the U.S. trade deficit with China, self-determination for Tibet - all are important, but it would be irresponsible to pretend that they can all be pursued without any trade-offs.

Most disturbing, it is unpresident can strike a grand strategic compromise with China while reports accumulate about Chinese involvement in Democratic Party campaign funding and alleged favors to aerospace companies operating in China.

As for the Middle East, Iran will have been watching the Pakistani nuclear tests particularly closely. There has already been a fair amount of cooperation in the field of missile technology among Iran, North Korea and Pakistan. This could extend to nuclear affairs. Such an evolution will rael's own nuclear ambitions. The United States imposes sanctions on Pakistan and India, but nothing similar applies to Israel. It must be added that the Israeli government displays little gratitude to the United States for applying this double standard.

KH THE

After the Pakistani tests, an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman was quoted as stating that the East Asian arms race "has been caused by the weakness of the five nuclear powers' political will because they have failed to agree to the international community's wish for complete nuclear disarmament.

Last but not least, the U.S. administration needs to convince Congress not to tie the president's arms with automatic sanctions.

India and Pakistan have not been deterred from testing by such sanctions, and the newly imposed sanctions will definitely not lead Islamabad and New Delhi to abandon their nuclear prize. The sanctions will simply impede the opening of these countries to economic liberalization and pri-

The writer is director-designate of the Graduate Insti-tute of International Studies in Geneva and was the director of the International Institute for Strategic Studies in London from 1987 to 1992. He conbe all the more probable if no tributed this comment to the efforts are made to curb Is- International Herald Tribune.

The Call of Night, The Pull of Inside

By Verlyn Klinkenborg

NEW YORK — For the last few evenings it has been almost impossible to come inside before dark. The shadows deepen and converge, the breeze shuffles the leaves in the sugar maples and an unappraisable sweemess slips down from the woods — all of it with such careful modulation, the entrance of one player after another, that to call it artful sounds

I sit and watch from civil twilight until astronomical twilight. Or, to put it another way, I watch from the time the bats first fly, cutting across the bay of light between the trees that outline the pasture, until the bats can be seen only when they eclipse the stars.

MEANWHILE

But no matter how perfect the night, there is always that voice in my head saying "Come inside." I'm not the only one who hears it. I drive along the farm roads of New York state and I can see that everyone else is listening for it, too.

The dairy cows, freed from their stanchions, drift into the udder-deep pastures where they will spend the night, but the farmers have measured the day out in chores, which are nearly always finished under the glare of a yard light, whose growing intensity is itself a reminder to go

A softball game at a rural school is only a way of postponing the dispersal that will come before long, when the last car door thumps shut in the night and the last driver follows his headlights to the highway.

in small rural towns, the voice saying "Come inside" is painfully insistent. It is written into the architecture, the landscaping, the principled neatness of the walks leading The azaleas bloom with undimmed ferocity, even in twilight, and the porches are carpeted in plastic turf and set with plastic lawn chairs. In fading light, unoccupied, they seem to point to the darkness behind the screen door, an opacity broken only by the visual stuttering of a television in another room.

Where the houses end there is nearly always a cemetery. The streetlamps never illuminate that precinct of town, and there the good medieval word "curfew" comes to mind, marking the time at night when hearth fires were covered and darkness became

But on nights as cool and quiet as these have been, why come inside at all? The temptation is to lie out all night listening to the horses, who stand together, head to tail, in their favorite corner of the pasture.

"Rigor now is gone to bed," says the spirit Comus in John Milton's masque, "And Advice with scrupnlous head, Strict Age, and sour Severity, With their grave saws in slumber lie.

Who would choose to join such company? But if you are a mortal reader of Milton, and if you stay outside late enough, you realize that "Comus" is a poem about the real pleasure of coming inside, about fleeing the entanglement of the night, whose otherness feels especially strong the very instant you turn for

The New York Times.

America the Delusional: Who's Listening?

L CONDON — America, which has conducted more than 1,000 nuclear tests, is "shocked" by the Indian and Pakistani underground explosions.

We Americans proclaim the most cynical and hypocritical nonsense about our stewardship, God-given we think, of the right to destroy any other nation that does not meet our own unquestioned standards of morality and good

We also project truly charming selfdelusion about our role and image in what we like to see now as the global tribe yearning for the benefits of American-bestowed consumer democracy.

Unfortunately, there is some truth to this. Most nations, at least the big ones, do want at least one of the things that the United States has: the official symbol and reality of modern national adulthood, nuclear weapons.

Can there really be anyone in the United States — including the entire State Department and our comic Central Intelligence Agency (more central to our delusions than intelligent about other realities) - who was surprised by the recent big bangs? Well, perhaps our ambassador to India, a former governor of Ohio, was a bit taken aback. Or maybe he actually did know something. What better place to be than vacationing in Hawaii when India blew off a big one just 70 miles (105 kilometers) from the border of its ever-adversary, Pakistan?

range missiles in Cuba when we were seum. What are we going to do with

By Richard Reeves

ready to go to world war over the possibility that those wobbly rockets could accommodate nuclear warheads?

The East Asian tests have been coming for a long, long time — and we have been foolishly or deliberately looking the wrong way for decades. Fifteen years ago, we — the Reeves family were living in the district called E-7, the best neighborhood in Islamabad, the capital of Pakistan. (My wife was doing work involving refugee camps in the northwest of the country, across the border from the Afghan-Soviet war.)

Like everyone else around there, including American diplomats, we knew why military cars arrived each morning to take the fellow around the corner, Abdul Kaheer Khan, to his office - or laboratory. Mr. Khan was in charge of building an atomic bomb out in the Pakistani desert at a place called Kahuta. This was the so-called "Islamic bomb," ready for use against India, which had conducted its first test in 1974. Whatever we thought, Pakistanis believed nuclear weapons were essential to checkmate the chance of being overwhelmed by India, their huge neighbor.

children for a tour of the city one day, showing the sights. "There is the sta-By the way, isn't that 20 miles closer dium the Chinese gave us," said the than the Russians got with mediumstadiums and museums? We want the bomb!"

So now it is time for American preaching about hellfire to come. But clear whether the American only Americans will listen closely to such bluster from the bully's pulpit. The rest of the world has heard it all before. They are laughing at it again in India and Pakistan as they celebrate their own advances.

From the very beginning, back in 1945, U.S. nuclear policy has had a single goal: nonproliferation.

Nonproliferation --- think about it! meant monopoly. It meant then that only America would have the bomb. It means now that the nuclear club, headed by the United States, wants the bomb only for those who already have one. We and the other acknowledged nuclear powers advocate nonproliferation but always vote, in the United Nations, against "elimination" of the weapons.

Our policy is not stupid — hypocritical and delusionary, yes, but not stupid. What was stupid was to actually believe that countries like India, Pakistan and China, and Iran and Israel, too, would act on American words and illusions rather than on their own national interests and fears.

This American blunder of intelligence, and intellect, is not another in-A student leader took two of our side the Beltway, Ken and Monica joke This is an affair of state - a failure of state. Officials should not be subpoenaed or mocked; they should resign or be fired.

Universal Press Syndicate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Credit China

Regarding "China Grapples With Aging of Its Population" (May 21): We used to see articles on the world's increasing overpopulation. Most countries are at least considering ways deleterious effects on our planet.

Now we have a report on the effects of China's population reduction program. Any nation that controls its numbers will undergo a transition period with a disproportionate percentage of older people. The larger the percentage of young people, control population growth of us. and the more painful the transition period. However, once

Follow your funds

a population is balanced at a Tojo Film comfortable level, the proportions of young and old will come back into balance. China has elected to con- IT (Features, May 27):

front the relatively minor the very real dangers posed by problems created by an aging the world's increasing over-population today instead of those posed by an overstressed environment tomormust choose between a belt- woefully out of step with the tightening problem today rest of the world.
and a civilization-threatening, collapsing environment

tomorrow. for a crisis to do something. Can't we go one step further by anticipating a problem and taking steps to avoid a crisis? China has done so and dethe bigger the effort needed to serves credit from the rest

Regarding "Film Shines a Japanese Light on World War

The article about the enthusiasm with which Japanese audiences are greeting "Pride, the Fateful Moment" is the most recent manifesto cope with overpopulation's row. They - and all of us - tation that Japan remains

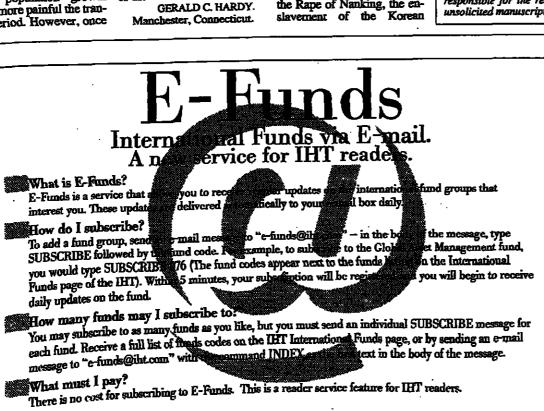

> The bestiality of the Japanese high command and the soldiers of the Imperial Jap-Man has a tendency to wait. anese Army, both before and during World War II, can certainly no longer be a secret from the people of Japan. So it is inconceivable that they still cannot bring themselves to offer a sincere apology for their perpetration of such horrors as the Rape of Nanking, the en-

"comfort women" and the appalling Bataan death march. To learn that a Japanes movie is attempting to whitewash the heinous war crimes of Tojo will surely further enrage all those countries that suffered so much at the hands of the Japanese invaders. One wonders what it is in their culture that blinds the Japanese to the truth, and what makes them fear an apology so much.

M. MAXTONE-GRAHAM Port-Grimand, France.

Letters intended for pub-lication should be addressed "Letters to the Editor" and contain the writer's signature, name and full address. Letters should be brief and are subject to editing. We cannot be responsible for the return of unsolicited manuscripts.

THE WORLD'S DAILY NEWSPAPER

The New York Times Original News Coverage

A 32-Page Keepsake

ighty-six years ago, the unthinkable happened. The world's newest and largest luxury cruise liner, the "unsinkable" Titanic, struck an iceberg and sank on its maiden voyage, killing 1,517 on board.

For the first time ever, The New York Times has published highlights of its initial week of coverage, which many consider one of the greatest accomplishments in journalism. Within hours of the event, The Times was able to piece together the tragedy and report that the liner had sunk - providing details to our readers well before other newspapers.

Titanic: The New York Times Original News Coverage is a 32-page keepsake printed on newspaper stock and specially priced at just $19.12. It includes a firsthand account of the sinking from Harold Bride, surviving wireless operator of the Titanic, as well as the definitive rescue report from Harold Thomas Cotter, wireless operator on the Carpathia - both stories exclusive to The Times. You'll also relive the saga through the moving accounts of survivors.

To order by mail: Enclose a check or money order in the amount of $29.07 ($19.12 plus $9.95 shipping & handling) payable to The New York Times, Mail to: The New York Times Titanic Offer, P.O. Box 176, Orangeburg, NY, 10962, U.S.A. Allow six weeks for delivery.

To order by phone: Call 201-767-0562. Visa, American Express and Mastercard accepted.

The New York Times

By Sarah Schafer

ASHINGTON — Hal Woodward, an inventor, had a trick that brought several U.S. Army officers to attention when he met with them in 1995 to show off his latest creation, a "digital dog tag."

Mr. Woodward had designed a prototype in response to an army request for a small but rugged device containing a computer chip that would hold a soldier's medical information for quick access in the field. A skeptical general asked Mr. Woodward why his product should be the standard.

Instead of answering, people at the meeting recounted, Mr. Woodward took up his freshly poured cup of coffee and plopped the plastic gizmo right in. He added milk and sugar, then talked to the general for about 15 minutes as the small audience stared in disbelief.

Mr. Woodward then fished the device out of the coffee with a spoon, inserted it into an electronic reader and watched along with the others as a computer screen filled with text.

There could be a contract to put such tags around the necks of millions of soldiers, and Mr. Woodward's four-person company, Data-Disk Technology Inc. of Sterling, Virginia, is determined to grab it.

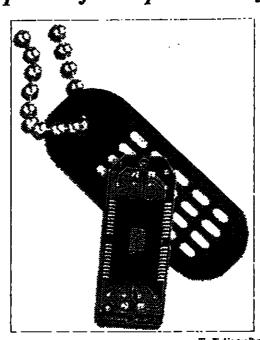

Dog tags have been standard issue in the army since 1906, according to the U.S. Army Center of Military History. Traditionally, they display just a soldier's name, Social Security number, religion and blood type. But through microchip technology, soldiers could carry around their entire medical histories — X-rays, electrocardiograms, a list of past allergic reactions and much more.

Mr. Woodward's version, called Medi-Tag, is shaped almost exactly like a regular dog tag. Mr. Woodward baked the plastic prototype in a friend's oven; the current model is made of a material called Zytel, a hard nylon made by Du Pont Co.

The firm's work to create Medi-Tag was financed in part by the U.S. Army Medical Research match in interests, while red means there's a and Materiel Command. Major Paul Zimnik of the Lovegety next to you, but you've got the wrong setting. If you're timid, you can keep the beeper off so only the lights will flash.

command said he originally secured nearly $3 million to back Data-Disk's research, but that the company used only about half that and finished million to back Data-Disk's research, but that the company used only about half that and finished nearly a year and a half earlier than planned.

According to Major Zimnik, the invention so impressed Department of Defense higher-ups that they gave the go-ahead to launch a full-fledged program, known as the Personal Information Carrier project, with the goal of settling on a standard.

The Medi-Tag, by Data-Disk Technology.

But here is the catch: Though Mr. Woodward's invention helped fuel the department's desire for a digital dog tag, this does not guarantee Data-Disk will be the supplier.

'I'm looking to identify technology that would be worn by every soldier, sailor and airman in the military," Major Zimnik said. "The fact we worked with Data-Disk early on in no way means they're a front-runner.

In addition to the military funding, Mr. Woodward, Tom Clark, a friend, and a few other people together invested roughly $500,000 to start the company. Data-Disk has also taken in money from several licensing agreements with Xybernaut Corp., a company based in Fairfax, Virginia, that makes "wearable" computer devices.

An organization called the Telemedicine and Advanced Technology Research Center is looking at five companies that offer some form of personal information-carrier technology.

The center has issued a list of specifications. such as durability requirements, storage capacity and operating system compatibility. The companies have submitted products that will be tested next month at the army's Electronic Proving Ground at Fort Huachuca, Arizona.

Sometime this fall, the agency will put out a more formal request for proposals, which will probably attract even more companies to the personal information-carrier front. Mr. Clark says he is confident his company will triumph. For one thing, he said, "None of the other companies can meet the durability requirements." His competitors are not so sure. "I would not be bragging too much to say our products are infinitely more rugged than Data-Disk's," said Bill Wehr-macher, director of technical services for Datakey Inc., of Burnsville, Minnesota, another contender.

atakey makes the Memory Key, an electronic information storage device, and the Soldier Data Key, which also contains a microcontroller that organizes the data in a directory similar to that of, say, the Windows op-

Another Data-Disk competitor is Tecsec Inc. is a Vienna, Virginia, company with 30 employees that specializes in encryption technology.

Privacy is one concern the Pentagon has with issuing personal information carriers containing medical details. Tecsec is offering a dog tag made from a "smart card," a commercial technology that stores data in a credit-card-size device. Its version has built-in encryption that would grant varying levels of access.

"I'm quite confident that regardless of who makes the tag, I'll provide the security," said Tecsec's president, Jay Wack.

Mr. Wack and others in the industry predict that the military most likely will lean toward what is known in the procurement business as a "COTS" solution, something using commercial off-the-shelf technology. "Smart cards are going to be the preferred" product, Mr. Wack said, because the equipment already exists for reading them.

The other companies participating in the dog-tag program are SanDisk Corp., of Sunnyvale, California, and Ichor Corp., of Monroeville,

The Defense Department contract they are competing for could be sizable, so big it would be "almost ludicrous," Mr. Clark said. But for his partner at Data-Disk the money would represent something more: To date, says Mr. Woodward, he has never seen any significant payoff for his in-

Small Phones Getting Big

Naomi Okada, left, and Takeya Takafuji showing off the Lovegety beeper.

In Japan, Would-Be Lovers

Have a Yen for Love Beepers

Company Has Sold 400,000 Matchmaking Gadgets

Added Features Increase Their Size and Heft

By Thomas Crampton ional Herald Tribune

By Chisaki Watanabe

The Associated Press

but with the ultimate matchmaking tool of the electronic age: the love beeper.

Called the Lovegety — a rather straightforward mix of "love" and "get" — it is an oval disc that fits in your hand. It is carried into crowded places and sends out various signals, depending on the setting.

When someone of the opposite sex carrying a Lovegety comes into range, the two machines beep or flash. Then the would-be lovers can seek one another out — or run the

The device, which came out in February and has been bought by 400,000 people, has three settings for favorite activities:

"karaoke" for romantic crooners, "chat" for

OKYO - Lonely hearts are prowling

the streets of Japan, armed not with romantic haiku poems or sultry looks ☐ INGAPORE — After years of shrinkage, mobile phones have started growing again.

We're getting to the point where some phones are so small people just don't feel comfortable using them," manager at Qualcomm Inc., a communications technology company.

'Now that we can make them that small and more people are using them. there's going to be an increased seg-mentation of the market," she said. "We're now looking at phones for children with brighter colors and fewer buttons, as well as phones with more features for technology-driven users."

Miniature phones remain a major feature among the new products on display at this week's CommunicAsia telecommunications conference — including NTT's prototype wristwatch phone — but many of the latest models aimed at high-tech users have grown in size relative to earlier models.

The larger size is not a concession to comfort, but a means to cram a new range of technology into mobile phones and take them beyond voice communication, the companies say. The peasized buttons and squint-inducing screens remain, but the heftier models incorporate digital diaries and allow communications via the Internet. According to Nokia, which sells a brick-sized phone featuring Internet software, the World Wide Web will play an integral part in the future of cellular

"As the Internet becomes more part of people's leisure-time activity, it will be more important to make it portable," said Janne Jormalainen, a general manager of wireless data and technology at Nokia. "It is not going to be a revolution overnight, but it will be a slow evo-

TECHNOLOGY

821.51

560.03

To reach TribTech editors or to comment on IHT technology coverage, send

A glance at technology stock indexes around the world

Others, however, are taking a dif-

Pacific Stock Exchange

Technology Composite

Disney's Head of Cable Group

Jacen Chiomakers Suffer From

Hubble Image: A Possible Extrasolar

GE and Pratt Team Up for Airbus. May 29

to Form Firm. May 29

Low Prices, May 29

Planet, May 30-31

Standard & Poor's

Morgan Stanley

Eurotec

North America

Technology

ferent tack with the Internet.

Alcatel's latest high-end cellular phone, the One Touch Com, includes access to e-mail, but no Web browser or ability to send faxes.

those who want to talk and "friends" for Takeya Takafuji, executive planning director for the manufacturer, Erfolg.

Erfolg, a small company that makes modems, reports a backlog of more than 200,000

orders, and as a result, the company increased of $22, can pick up signals from five meters (15 feet) away. A flashing green light means a

Encouraged by brisk sales, the company plans to introduce an upgraded version in

'drink" and "dinner." The new version will

August with more choices, such as "movie,"

also pick up signals from a far greater distance

The beeper, which retails for the equivalent

'It's just one way to meet people," said something, well, more intimate.

production this month.

'The few times people really want to browse the Web on their mobile phone do not justify the extra size and weight added when you include a keyboard." of sales, consumer channels at Alcatel. 'E-mail is really the main important Internet feature for most people.

Like several of the latest high-end phones, the One Touch Com also includes the features of a personal digital assistant: an electronic phone book, an agenda and a notepad that can all be backed up on a personal computer.

The makers of the highly popular Palm Pilot personal digital assistant, 3Com Corp., are jointly developing a phone with Qualcomm that will go on sale next year, Ms. Jorgensen said.

For users of Japan's cellular network, NTT's DoCoMo division is introducing a full range of phones that can send and receive electronic messages.

The Dialo, which is to go on sale next month, is about the size of a paperback book and has a touch-sensitive screen that can accept Japanese, Chinese or Roman characters. The phone has the features of a personal digital assistant, an Internet browser and e-mail and fax transmission. Although it can be held like a conventional phone, the Dialo is designed for use with an earpiece and microphone.

At the bottom end of DoCoMo's line is the hardcover book-sized Pocket Board message sender that resembles a child's toy typewriter with a large plastic keyboard and small screen. On sale since February for less than $100, the Pocket Board plugs into an NTT mobile phone and can send and receive short messages. "It is popular for students and good for young businessmen to give their girlfriends," an NTT sales-

INDEX

+241

-1,48

5.15

Address Your Search With Care;

Sprint Offers Phone, Fax and Net

on 1 Line, June 3

Sites Benefit From Surfers' Typos, June

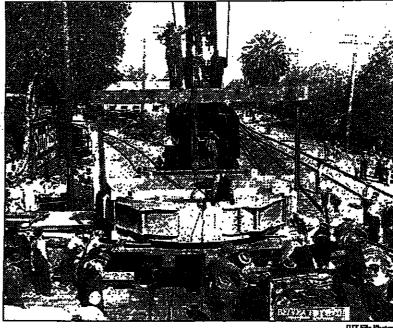

Net Providers in Germany Decry Ruting, June 1

Intel Stock Falls Over Delay in New Chip, June 2

ALT /Commentary

The Hale: Cutting-Edge Astronomy's Venerable Tool

By Richard Preston New York Times Service

TEW YORK — Fifty years ago Wednesday, about 800 astronomers and VIPs gathered under the new Hale Telescope on the summit of Mount Palomar, near San Diego. California, to celebrate the telescope's 'first light," as astronomers call the moment when a new telescope is opened to the night sky for the first time.

The Hale Telescope, named for George Ellery Hale, who proposed it in 1928, was the largest and greatest working telescope on earth. For more than a generation after that, the world's leading astronomers have used the Hale to make fundamental discoveries that changed our views of the universe.

Allan Sandage spent 20 years using the Hale to explore the size and age of the universe, a project that seems to have a grandeur beyond almost any other quest in science. In 1963, Maarten Schmidt was using the Hale to examine quasars when he discovered that quasars are not the nearby stars astronomers had assumed them to be, but powerful, brilliant objects in the distant reaches of the universe, a discovery that revealed that the universe contains objects of almost incredible energy.

• BIG DAY FOR KIWIS: As the

few years before they become obsolete, but the Hale is a striking exception to that rule. Astronomers have installed advanced electronic sensors on the Hale that have kept it competitive with larger ground-based telescopes. In 1995, Shrinivas Kulkarni used the Hale Telescope to discover the first known brown dwarf star — a faint star that resembles a glowing version of the planet Jupiter. Last fall, Philip Nicholson of Cornell University used it to discover two new moons orbiting the planet Uranus.

The Hale was probably the most famous scientific instrument in history even before starlight had graced its mir-

Mr. Hale, a solar physicist, had a vivid imagination and a talent for fundraising. His imagination seemed to overpower him at times, and he suffered from frequent nervous breakdowns. He apparently sometimes thought that an elf was sitting on his shoulder, talking to

His telescope project took on immense importance when the astronomer Edwin Hubble, of the Mount Wilson Observatory, discovered that the universe was expanding. The great ambition of the 200-inch (508-centimeter) project was to explore the meaning of that discovery and determine the overall

Scientific instruments normally last a structure of the universe. Financed by a coins, using the finest jeweler's rouge and we wears before they become obsolete. $6 million grant from the Rockefeller powdered walnut shells. In the end, they Foundation, the telescope took 20 years to build, until the project become the scientific equivalent of a cathedral, Mr. Hale died before it was finished and never saw its full majesty.

> THE HALE, managed by the California Institute of Technology, is seven stories tall and consists of at least 250,000 parts, though not even Hal Petrie, chief engineer of Palomar Observatory, is sure of the number. It is so beautifully balanced that only a single grapefruit-sized electric motor is needed to drive the entire 530-ton behemoth as follows the stars across the sky.

The main mirror is a waffle-textured disk of Pyrex glass 200 inches (nearly 17 feet, or 5 meters) across, and it weighs 14 tons, making it the heaviest piece of glass in the world. It was cast in 1934 at Corning Glass Works, in Corning, New York. The glass spent a year cooling and then it was carried across the country to the Caltech optical shop in Pasadena. Crowds gathered along the tracks to watch the "Telescope Train" pass.

Polishing the glass took 13 years. During that time, Caltech opticians ground away 7 tons of powdered glass. They gave the mirror its final shape by hand, rubbing it with polishing disks the size of stroked the glass with their bare thumbs. Will the Hale Telescope be working 50 years from now? Maybe. Mr.

Kulkarni said that the best place for a telescope is in outer space, where the view is clearest. "Assuming there are no major wars, and rocket flights are routine, then I can imagine all astronomy being done in space," he said. But, he added, "I can also imagine an alternative world, where we'll have our usual problems, and space will remain an expensive endeavor. Then the Hale will still be part of astronomy. In that case, Mr. Petrie has collected a large shelf of engineering textbooks dating from the 1930s for future Palomar engineers to use as reference manuals.

Richard Preston is author of "First Light," about astronomers and the Hale Telescope.

SITES

Information about the Palomar Observatory and the Hale Telescope is at: astro caltech.edulobservatories/

palomar/public/index.html www.mtwilson.edu/Tour/Museum/ Exhibit A/m 200inch.html

BRIEFLY

first country to see the dawn on Jan. 1, 2000, New Zealand is set to be a global . 2.20 Topix Electric early-warning station for the so-called Source: Morgan Stanley, Bloomberg News millennium bug.
Just west of the international dateline For technology articles from the past week, see the Technology Index on in the South Pacific, New Zealand's farthe IHT's World Wide Web site at http://www.iht.com. Articles include: flung Chatham Islands will be the first to see the sun rise on the new century. MCI to Sell Internet Business to C&W, May 29 Mir Gets New Computer After Faiture, June 1 Government officials see New Zea-DNA Testing Helps Police In Germany, June 1

International Herald Tribune

% change

+12.26

+45.38

land as a radar post for detecting millennium problems, giving other countries a few hours' warning of what might be in store. "You might not be able to recode all your programs in 12 hours, but you might be able to put in a contingency plan." said Reg Hammond, information technology manager at the Commerce Ministry. But some believe any lessons learned in New Zealand will come too late. John Good, author of a guide to surviving Year 2000, said, "I know some of the gurus will be watching New Zealand to see what happens, but I would think that is a fatuous activity." (Reuters)

 GLOBAL PHONING: Audiovox Corp. and the Bosch Telecom unit of Robert Bosch GmbH of Germany say they will offer a wireless telephone that can operate on different continents without modification. The new phone is based on a digital technology known as global system for mobile communications, or GSM, GSM is the dominant digital wireless technology outside the United States, especially in Europe.

The GSM Alliance, a group of 13

North American GSM wireless companies, said the new phone could be used in more than 110 countries.

Omnipoint Corp., which provides wireless service in the New York area using GSM technology, said the phone would probably cost $299. (NYT)

• ENTERPRISING IDEA: Britain's chancellor of the Exchequer, Gordon Brown, has announced the birth of three venture capital funds to provide £240 million ($393 million) to support British small and medium-sized hightech enterprises.

Mr. Brown said, "Too few of our ideas come to market, too few of our entrepreneurs realize their potential." European Union finance ministers are to discuss further measures in Luxembourg on Friday, he said. "We are looking to do more to allow access to equity finance across the EU.' (Reuters)

• JUST RIGHT FOR SONY: Sony Corp. will buy a 6.7 percent stake in Justsystem Corp., the developer of one of the top-selling Japanese-language word-processing programs, the companies announced in Tokyo.

Under the arrangement, Tokyo-based Sony, the world's second-largest maker of consumer electronics, will spend 1.27 billion yen ($9.1 million) to buy 2 million new shares in Justsystem, developer of the "Ichitaro" word processing program. Sony and Justsystem will develop software for Sony's home digital audiovisual appliances. (Bloomberg)

حكذا من الاحل

westors Ca

Chainsaic II L.

W Mergers M.

Idahs to Bur Cirus

Investors Cast a Vote of Confidence in Russia's Battered Economy

MOSCOW - Betting that Russia will salvage its economy with foreign help, investors snapped up more than $2 billion of short-term government debt

The Ministry of Finance raised 5.83 billion rubles ($945.7 million) in three Treasury bill auctions at yields below 60 percent, after yields topped 74 percent this week. The government also sold $1.25 billion of five-year Eurobonds.

The debt sales provide Russia with immediate cash to repay $1.2 billion in Treasury debt maturing Wednesday. easing a cash shortage that threatened to lead to a devaluation of the ruble. The government still must make another $3.9 billion in debt payments this month and a total of $33 billion this year.

Investors are betting that the Group of there is this talk about a $10 billion loan Seven industrialized nations, or other foreign lenders, will give Russia an emergency financing package of as much as $10 billion to help it through a cash shortage that last week forced the central bank to raise benchmark interest rates to 150 percent to protect the ruble. While the International Monetary Fund has said Russia does not need emergency funding if it successfully implements planned reforms, the United States and others have said they would back a bailout.

Top officials from the G-7 countries will meet in Paris next week to discuss how a new international rescue for Russia could be structured.

There is a growing confidence that a ruble devaluation is quite unlikely, and package that Russia is going to request" from international lenders, said Sonja Gibbs, an economist at Nomura International in London.

Prospects for a bailout of some kind sent the stock market soaring. The benchmark Russia Trading System stock index rose 8.5 percent, to 209.07

Finance Minister Mikhail Zadornov said the government did not intend to formally ask G-7 countries for help but was considering various extra financing sources, including the International Monetary Fund, syndicated credits from foreign banks and further Eurobond is-

Prime Minister Sergei Kiriyenko said Wednesday during a trip to Paris that he had no plans to discuss borrowing funds from the G-7.

Speaking after meeting with President Jacques Chirac of France as part of a long-scheduled visit, Mr. Kiriyenko said the support Russia principally needed from the G-7 was free access to their markets.

Russia's foreign exchange reserves have fallen to $14.6 billion as it struggled with high interest rates to defend the ruble. In its previous three weekly debt auctions, the government failed to sell enough bills to roll over maturing debt.
The dollar was at 6.1660 rubies Wednesday, up from 6.1650 rubles Tuesday. While demand at the bond sale Wednesday reflected stronger investor confidence, Russia has locked itself into high borrowing costs on ruble-denominated debt. The government assumed borrowing rates of 25 percent annually in this year's budget.

"By raising long-term money in this way they are increasing the amount of refinancing that will be necessary next year," said Eric Kraus, chief strategist at Regent European Securities. "We should not lose sight of the fact that over the longer term, 54 percent rates are aberrant in a noninflationary environment."

Russia "has a short-term liquidity problem," said Bill Browder, a manager at Hermitage Fund. "Nobody in America or any other developed country can afford to have Russia turn hostile for the sake of a $10 billion ruble-stabilization package that probably wouldn't even need to be drawn down.

The U.S. Treasury secretary, Robert Rubin, warned Tuesday that unless Russia's financial crisis is resolved, its economic troubles "could spread to Central Europe," placing two major regions -- The Burden of Debt Russia's revised budget, which was released last week, shows that about one-third of its spending covers interest payments on the debt. In the U.S., it is 14 percent.

Money Collected

289.6 billion rubles

Money Spent ...

...Qn programs and interest personnel 137.6 295.1 billion billion rubles, or $47.9 billion rce: MFK Renaiss

Asia and Europe - in simultaneous

In his first statement since President Bill Clinton said Sunday that Washington would support an international bailout of Russia, Mr. Rubin chose his comments carefully to avoid worsening the flight from Russian and Asian currencies.

"I think it would be fair to say that the situation facing the world today with respect to financial stability is unprecedented," Mr. Rubin told a group of executives on a presidential export "Russia's a difficult situation. We have an obvious national security interest. There is also the risk, once again, of contagion that could spread to Central Europe."

The Eurobond that Russia sold Wednesday matures in June 2003 and yields 650 basis points more than five-year U.S. Treasury bonds, which currently yield 5.57 percent. That means Russia will pay about 12.25 percent. "This is good news, as it will help offset the redemptions this month," Ms. Gibbs and. "It's a strong signal of confidence that the strong signal of confidence fidence that investors are receptive.

The government also sold 4.12 bil-lion rubles from an offered 9 billion rubles of 343-day Treasury bills at an average annual yield of 54.02 percent, down from 56.48 percent in the secondary market Tuesday. It raised 522.9 million rubles in one-week Treasury bills out of 2.5 billion rubles offered at a yield of 39.93 percent, down from 47.95 percent Tuesday. It sold 5.823 billion rubles of 126-day bills from 5 billion offered at a yield of 54.28 percent, down from 65.45 percent.

Without a bailout, Russia could be forced to devalue the ruble as investors pull out of the market.

If that happens, "you've got a much more dramatic situation," Mr. Browder said. "Then you have ordinary Russians losing their savings for the second time in a decade. And you probably have the ruble going through successive rounds of devaluation, instead of one, not settling at a particular level."

A devaluation could damage the fortunes of Mr. Kiriyenko's month-old cabinet, seen by investors as the govemment most committed to free-market reforms since the 1991 collapse of the

(Reuters, Bloomberg, NYT)

Chainsaw Al Loses Buzz on Wall Street The Shredder and Rambo in Pinbefore making clear it was everyone's fault but his. He blamed the weather. By Floyd Norris

New York Times Service

WALL STREET WATCH

NEW YORK - Chainsaw Al is getting cut up by Wall Street, which is beginning to suspect that there is more to corporate success than a willingness Chainsaw Al is the nickname given some time ago to Al Dunlap, who became a corporate legend after he was hired as chief executive officer of Scott Paper Ltd. and dismissed thousands of employees in the course of turning around the company, which eventually was sold to Kimberly-Clark Corp.

"Most CEOs are ridiculously overpaid," he wrote in his memoir, "Mean Business." "but I deserved the $100 million I took away when Scott merged with Kimberly-Clark."

never been among his prime virtues. So in 1996, when a struggling Sunbeam Corp. turned to him as a savior, there was cheering on Wall Street. Sunbeam's stock price leaped 49 percent

Modesty and understatement have the day the move was announced. Mr. Dunlap, whose memoir notes stripes, set about dismissing bosses and workers. And it seemed to work.

For 1997 the company reported sharply increased sales and profit, and in February its board rewarded Mr. Dunlap with a 100 percent pay increase, guaranteeing him an annual salary of $2 million. He also got a grant of 300,000 shares and such management perks as financial planning advice and country club dues. The company's stock price, at $18.63 after the leap following Dunlap's hiring, soared to $53 in early March.

Then the bad news arrived. It turned out that the profit for the final three months of 1997 had gotten a big lift from the sale of barbecue grills — not normally a big winter item. Sunbeam had offered phenomenal terms to customers such as K mart Corp. and Wal-Mart Stores Inc. to buy grills early. That had the effect of making 1997 profit look better and of taking sales away from the first half of 1998. Results this year are dreadful. On Wednesday, the stock closed at $22.50, up 12.5 cents.

Mr. Dunlap met with analysts last month to explain what had happened.
"I take full responsibility," he said, He blamed a retail chain for messing up grills that had to be recalled. He explained that because he had been working on a series of acquisitions, "I left a marketing guy in charge of op-crations. Mistake."

As for the grills being sold in December, he denied it was an effort to "artificially pump up" profit for 1997. It was, he explained, "a wellintentioned market-driven strategy that simply didn't work."

Sunbeam is now integrating the acquisitions Mr. Dunlap made — First Alert, Coleman and Signature Brand - and promises to make big savings through plant closings and the dis-missals of 5,100 workers. Mr. Dunlap has also fired some of his top aides.

But burned investors no longer seem to trust him. Sunbeam's stock price has dropped 58 percent, and Wall Street analysts who once lionized Mr. Dunlap now seem unimpressed.

The good news for Mr. Dunlap, who declined to be interviewed, is that he appears to be in no danger of losing his iob. His new contract guarantees his salary for at least three years.

Big Mergers Making for Banner Year

By Tim Smart

to reprogram the calculators.

A flurry of deals over the past week — including the $34 billion acquisition Monday of Monsanto Co. by American Home Products Corp. — has pushed the value of worldwide mergers and acquisitions past the $1 trillion mark. And it's only June.

The number of deals announced so far this year is running about even with last year's pace, but the dollar volume is almost double. That has pushed the total value of such combinations, including debt assumed, far higher than the $571 billion tally last year at this time.

Analysts predict that such corporate "supersizing" will continue as long as equity markets remain at lofty levels and interest rates stay low. If they are right and the furious pace of global acquisitions continues, dealmaking will easily surpass $2 trillion — well above last year's record of $1.6 trillion.

WASHINGTON — It may be time question not only how long the buying can continue, but how large an individual company can realistically become. Robert Joffe, a partner at the New York law firm Cravath, Swaine & Moore, said the ceiling was being effectively set by the value the stock market places on a company.

companies that can merge to create a $400 billion company." Mr. Joffe said, noting that two that qualify are General Electric Co. and Microsoft Corp.

One dealmaker said he was aware of deals being discussed that would exceed the record $70 billion combination of Citicorp and Travelers Group

Inc. announced in April. "A $100 billion transaction may become, I won't say commonplace, but they are being talked about," said Hal Ritch, who heads the merger and acquisitions practice at Donaldson. Lufkin & Jenrette. "I don't think there The merger binge has led analysts to are any limits, as a practical matter.' Government policy does not appear to be putting much of a brake on the activity. Although the Justice Department is embarked on antitrust cases against Microsoft and Lockheed Martin Corp., both focus on concentrations of economic muscle rather than bigness.

"The antitrust laws don't deal with "There's not a lot of $200 billion size, they deal with market power," manies that can merge to create a said Mr. Joffe, who is defending Lockheed Martin in its battle with the Justice Department over the company's proposed $12 billion purchase of Northrop Grumman Corp.

Though the Citicorp-Travelers deal

stmned the market when it was announced, analysts say there are other large finance companies that could merge in a deal of equal, or greater size, with speculation in recent weeks focusing on Chase Manhattan Corp. and Merrill Lynch & Co.

A SHOT OF HYPE — Ronald LeMay, president of Sprint, left; William Esrey, chairman, center, and Kevin Brauer, head of National Integrated Services, playing up an innovation that was lost on Wall Street. Page 14.

Tellabs to Buy Ciena in $7.1 Billion Stock Deal

NEW YORK — Tellabs Inc. agreed Wednesday to buy Ciena Corp., the top maker of products used to beef up phone networks, for $7.1 billion in stock to better compete with Lucent Technologies Inc. in the fast-growing equipment market.

Tellabs' products direct traffic on the networks of Baby Bells and other phone companies while Ciena helps those networks carry more calls and voice, video and data from a conventional phone line.

Under the deal, each Ciena share will be exchanged for a share of Tellabs stock. The combined company will retain the Tellabs name. Ciena stock closed Wednesday at $61.75, up $4.1875, while Tellabs closed at $63.625, down $2.25.

Bell Atlantic Corp. and other phone providers are buying more equipment to handle the data traffic that is far outpacing traditional phone calls.
Tellabs, which has strong relationships with the Bell local phone companies, needs to offer a full line to persuade them not to leave for Lucent, Northern Telecom Ltd. or other bigger

"It positions both companies better relative to Lucent," said Joseph Noel of Hambrecht & Quist.

The purchase is good news for Ciena investors, who watched shares fall as much as 30 percent to $37.25 in February after the company said WorldCom Inc. would delay orders

Paris-Bonn Tussle Moves to New Venue

By Alan Friedman International Herald Tribune

ROME — After months of sparring between Germany and France over whether Europe's politicians should be allowed to create a political counterweight to monetary policymakers at the embryonic European Central Bank, the moment of truth will arrive Thursday.

That is when finance ministers of the 11 nations taking part in Europe's single currency will meet in Luxembourg for the so-called Euro-every second month in order head of the Euro-11 visiting to "explain the situation of the central bank "nonsense," the Euro-11 countries to the central bank." But in Bonn, an official preparing for the meeting said, "Nobody has agreed yet that the Euro-11 will meet every month." The official. speaking on condition of anonymity, called the idea of the saying the role was reserved for the head of Ecofin.

OLYMPUS

Behind these seemingly procedural issues lies a continuing German fear that France is trying to transform the Euro-11 into an "economic government' that could challenge the independence of the central bank. The French, said a German official, "may try to push and see how far they can get, but they will not get very far.' An aide to Finance Minister Rudolf Edlinger of Austria, who will chair the Euro-11 Council, said Wednesday that Mr. Edlinger was prepared to mediate

Very briefly:

 AT&T Corp. plans to take a bigger-than-expected secondquarter charge of more than $1.2 billion because more managers than predicted are taking early retirement. Some 14,000 managers will leave the company, up from the 11,000 expected when a plan to cut 18,000 jobs was unveiled in January.

• Handleman Co. plans to sell its video, book and software distribution businesses to focus on supplying music to retailers, and it sees substantial losses for the first quarter and year as it cuts 900 to 1,000 jobs or about 30 seesent of its work forms.

How Sprint Hyped Its New Technology cuts 900 to 1,000 jobs, or about 30 percent of its work force. • Atlantic Richfield Co. will sell 49 percent of its stake in Arco Chemical Co. for about $2.15 billion in a move to finance the expansion of its oil and gas business and lower its debt. • A U.S. District Court judge denied Lockheed Martin Corp. and Northrop Grumman Corp. access to more than 2,000 Pentagon documents in the U.S. government's antitrust review of Lockheed's acquisition of Northrop.

• CEI Citicorp Holdings SA, an Argentine media and telecommunications company, delayed indefinitely plans to sell an $300 million of shares because a decline in Argentine stocks curbed investor demand.

Boeing to Cancel MD-11

SEATTLE — Boeing Co. said Wednesday it would phase out its MD-11 jetliner because demand for the aircraft in- cutaway replica of a technologyherited from the McDonnell-Douglas Corp. was not sufficient to continue production.

Boeing said it would dismiss some of the 3,750 workers who build the MD-11 Trijet at plants in Long Beach, California; Salt close at $72.4375. Lake City, and Toronto. The MD-11 is one of four passenger models that Boeing acquired when it bought McDonnell Douglas Corp. for more than $16 billion last year. Boeing said in November it would phase out the MD-80 and the MD-90. The final MD-11 delivery is scheduled for February 2000.

Cleaning Up County Finances

Merrill Settles Case Over Biggest Municipal Bankruptcy

By Leslie Wayne New York Times Service

NEW YORK --- A $400 million settlement between Merrill Lynch & Co. and Orange County, Cali- curities - including risky instrufornia, is a significant milestone in Late Tuesday, Merrill Lynch agreed to pay $400 million to Orange County to settle claims that the recovered to $620 million. leading Wall Street brokerage firm The bankruptcy of (helped push the affluent county into bankruptcy four years ago with reckless investment advice.

The settlement will largely close the book on the largest mufinance such public services as justify the battle.

largest stemming from the 1994 Orange County bankruptcy, which set off a storm of litigation as the county sought to recover some of the $1.69 billion it suffered in losses

By Seth Schiesel

New York Times Service

Corp. decided to whip up attention for a planned new communications network, it followed a careful plan.

lysts and members of the news media to come the next day to the

Richard Rodgers Theater in Times

Square for an announcement about change the way businesses and homes use telecommunications."

a revolutionary capability that will

Once at the theater, Sprint's guests were treated to a dazzling multimedia display that included a

Despite the buildup, Sprint's stock rose just 50 cents Tuesday, to energized house on stage.

On Monday, it invited stock ana-

NEW YORK - When Sprint

from risky investments.

Orange County officials had sued Merrill Lynch and other advisers for $5 billion. The county began an effort to clean up the municipal finance market that is only now beginning to pay off.

"The Orange County bank-

said Merrill Lynch had sold sements known as derivatives -- that efforts, now years in the making, to were outside its investment change Commission had just unclean up questionable practices in the $1.3 trillion American municipal finance market.

Late Tuesday, Merrill Lynch other financial firms, brings the fice of municipal securities. amount of money the county has The following has been accom-

> The bankruptcy of Orange County, one of the richest in the country, was striking in the scale of the loss and now for the magnitude of the settlements.

Merrill, which has consistently nicipal bankruptcy in U.S. history, maintained it did nothing wrong, which shook the foundations of the said Tuesday that it decided to municipal bond market, a basic settle because the costs and disway that U.S. towns and cities traction of the litigation did not

For years, municipal finance The settlement by Merrill is one had been considered a backwater of the largest for any securities of Wall Street. Poorly informed related litigation and is by far the local financial officers were easy prey for any Wall Street firm that might peddle risky and wildly inappropriate securities to be bought with taxpayer dollars.

But in late 1994, regulators run-up this year, rising 24 percent to trade at 41 times estimated earnings.

mainly on speculation that Sprint

At the presentation, Sprint held would soon be acquired, perhaps by up its new system as the telecom-

Cuisinart, the essential tool of the phone, send and receive video images, surf the Internet and get high-speed data access through a single sumers would reach this technological nirvana (in the second half of next year, when the company plans to make the service available to

The underwhelming response It did explain how it is upgrading off to Sprint's marketing team. from investors largely reflected the its long-distance, or "backbone," Frank Ianna, who runs A

But it said little about how con-existing connection.

homes).

missing details, in terms of tech- network to use an advanced tech-

a local telephone company.

ruptcy drew national attention to the municipal debt markets at a time when the Securities and Exdertaken efforts to improve the municipal market overall," said Paul Maco, head of the SEC's of-plished in the intervening years: Efforts have succeeded to eliminate "pay to play" practices. Wall Street firms are now prohibited from making campaign contributions to local politicians that hand out bond underwriting business. · More disclosure has been required of municipalities when they issue bonds to investors.

• Fraud charges have been leveled by the federal government against several firms, bankers and municipal officials.

The amounts Orange County is expected to collect — around $800 million or so when all the lawsuits against Wall Street professionals are settled - and the amount the county will lose itself will ultimately be about equal.

network that actually reach into their homes and offices. And Sprint

People close to the company say is negotiating with the regional

Bell companies, in particular Bell

Atlantic Corp. and SBC Commu-

Group, a high-technology consult-ing firm based in Boston. "Well, it's not really an announcement. It's a cations stock analyst in Marietta.

around a pre-announcement since Windows 95," he said "My hat's

Frank Ianna, who runs AT&T

Corp.'s national network, said,

"Our basic reaction is that a lot of Jeffrey Kagan, a telecommuni-

"I haven't seen this much hype explained little about that.

speed local connections.

statement of direction."

Georgia, put it differently.

Intel Profit Warning . Brillill But Pulls Down Tech Issues

Compiled by Our Staff From Disputches NEW YORK - Stocks fell Wednesday, led by technology stocks, after analysts lowered their earnings expectations for Intel, a beliwether for the semiconductor industry.

Intel was the most actively traded U.S. issue, falling 3 to 661/4 after an analyst at Hambrecht & Quist cut his profit estimates for the world's leading chipmaker.

"We've seen a slowdown in Europe and we continue to see that PC manufacturers cutting inventory levels," the analyst, Robert Chap-linsky, said. "With this kind of environment, it's going to be difficult for component suppliers like Intel to achieve their unit sales."

U.S. STOCKS

The warning sent a shiver through the technology sector, helping pull the Nasdaq composite index down 19.77 points, to close at 1.742.02. The Dow Jones industrial average finished down 87.44 points at 8,803.80 and the Standard & Poor's 500 index ended 10.53 points lower at 1.082.69. Declining issues outnumbered gaining ones by a narrow margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Investors are trying to gauge how much corporate profit growth will slow this year and which industries will show the greatest earnings growth. That has left the market insceptible to profit predictions like Hambrecht & Quist's for Intel.

"This seesawing price action among the different groups just reflects this reassessment by investors," said R. Lynn Yturri, a fund manager at Banc One Investment Advisors Corp.

Applied Materials, a manufacturer of chipmaking equipment, fell 11/4 to 29 5/16; Cisco, a networking products maker, fell 2 at 74 7/16. Compaq lost 1/16 and Dell fell 1 5/16 to 81 5/16.

America Online rose 11/2 to 781/2 as the Internet-services provider announced a multiyear, multimillion dollar exclusive partnership with Allou Health & Beauty Fragrance Center. The alliance will enable AOL subscribers to buy brandname fragrances and cosmetics products on-line.

Treasury bond prices were held back by concern that government employment statistics scheduled for release Friday could show the labor market is tight enough to quicken inflation. Alan Greenspan, the Federal Reserve Board chairman, said Wednesday that the U.S. labor market was 'remarkably resilient' at a meeting with central bank chiefs from Germany, France, Britain and Austria.

R

Mr. Greenspan is attending a banking conference in Vienna, and central bankers who heard him speak said they did not come away with a message that he was signaling a change in U.S. interest-rate policy.
The price of the benchmark 30-year issue rose 2/32 point, to 104 25/32, leaving the yield at 5.79 (Bloomberg, AP)

Fear of G-7 Slows Dollar Against Yen

NEW YORK — The dollar struggled Wednesday against the yen, pulled down by speculation that the Bank of Japan would intervene to support its currency as the dollar approached 140 yen.

Investors also are worried that leaders from the Group of Seven industrialized countries might show support for the yen after officials meet next week. 'We're seeing a bit of profit-

taking into the meeting because of uncertainty that something

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

might be said," said Jim Powers, vice president for foreign-exchange sales at West-deutsche Landesbank. "If nothing's said after the G-7, we'll try for 140 again," he said.

Many dealers said the yen's stability Tuesday and Wednesday was natural after the dollar hit a seven-year high Monday. In 4P.M. trading Wednesday, the dollar slipped to 138.600 yen from 138.695 yen Tuesday. Signs of new investor confidence in Russia, amid hopes for an international aid package, pushed the dollar down against the Deutsche mark.

The dollar fell to 1.7693 DM from 1.7805 DM, to 5.9345 French francs from 5.9700 francs and to 1.4747 Swiss francs from 1.4800 francs. The pound rose to $1.6390 from $1.6384.

AMEX

Wednesday's 3 P.M. The 300 most traded stocks of the day.

Sales High Low Lotest Cinge NYSE

明明《日刊》,以此《《为其代》的《中华》,并从《中华》,是一个《日本》,

nology and business plan, from the nology called asynchronous transfer company's presentation. Besides, mode. But everyday users see not what he said is nothing new.' U. S. STOCK MARKET DIARY Most Actives Previous Today High Low Close 4P.M.
1278-S8 1827-40 1272-25 1259-74
681-36 669-10 671-87 677-23
245-57 243-28 24365 244-04
133.65 122.46 133.01 131.46
1098-71 1089-87 1093-22 1082-89
531-38 526.62 528-92 523.06 -19.77 -19.23 -19.29 -19.29 -18.10 -19.20 Noos 1916 1689 1754 5279 37 123 TREGULAR

[red b 7.446 6-11

E 52.4246 6-12

S b 15.68 6-19

5 15.68 6-19

5 1234 6-17

1 b 4012 6-12

5 b 7824 8-28 Abilibi Consol g
Bk United A
Benefton Grp ADR
Berry Petrol A Block Drug A
Burnham Pocific
Casses County
Jaco Inc.
Kranzco Rity
Amyllower Co-op
MSD Bloch Co-op
MSD Bloch Co-op
MSD Bloch Co-op
MSD Bloch Block Drug
Sterling Fin PA
Some SI Broch
Ven Kom Adv Mu
Work Kom Adv Mu
Work Kom Adv Mu
Work Kuti
--amonada B-oppmy .10 6-17 .16 6-12 .18 6-19 .10 6-12 .315 6-15 .2625 6-23 .18 6-30 .15 6-30 .42 6-10 .42 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .43 6-15 .44 6-23 . 10% 6-16

the shares had already had a strong backbones but the small tendrils of a munications equivalent of the nications Inc., to cooperate on high-future that could do just about any-thing. The company said the service nouncement," said Howard Ander-would allow people to talk on the son, managing director of Yankee

June 3, 1998 -1.60 -2.30 -2.50 -2.60 -2.90 -3.00

Toe's open for 134,741, up 320

SOYBEAN OIL (CBOT)

64,000 Rbs- camba per lb

Jul 99 26,24 25,96 26,27 4

Aug 98 26,42 26,12 26,41 4

Sep 98 26,55 26,27 26,53 4

Oct 98 26,55 26,20 26,50 4

Dec 98 26,45 26,15 26,16 4

Jun 99 26,45 26,25 26,40 4

Est. solves N.A. Tue's solves 31,519

Tue's open int 145,794, off 39

WHEAT (CBOT)
5.000 to infinitum-cents per bushel
Jul 98 290 281 2814
Sep 98 30014 292 2924
Dec 98 3159: 30774 3054
Mar 99 328 329: 3291; 4
Est sales 17,500 Tuers sales 15,779
Tuers open int 112,316, off 221

INTERNATIONAL FUTURES

Tues open int 171.27s, up 5.74p
HI GRADE COPPER (NCAX)
25,000 lbs. cents per lb.
Jun 19 74.40 74.95 74.20
Jul 19 77.20 74.45 74.40
Aug 98 77.20 74.45 74.40
Cet 98 77.80 74.30 77.45
Nou 19 77.80 74.30 77.45
Nou 19 77.80 74.30 77.45
Nou 19 77.80 74.30 77.45
Jun 19 78.10 78.10
Est. solies N.A. Tuers solies 5.545
Tues open int 68,150 up 431

Tue's open and 68,150, up 4,31

SILVER (NCAMX)
5,000 inoy 02- cands per broy 02Jun 98
510 510,00 517,80
Aug 98
521,00 510,00 57,80
Aug 98
522,00 514,50 521,00
Dec 98
526,50 518,00 524,30
Jun 99
525,10
May 99
525,50 525,00 525,80
May 99
525,80 525,00 525,80
Est. soles N.A. Tue's vales 12,892
Tue's open int 93,721, up 1,488

Turs open for 4.44. up 89

5 YR TREASURY (CSOT)
$100,000 prin- pris 8.64ths of 100 pct
Jun 96 107-17 109-08 109-12 - 04 101,449
Sep 98 107-17 109-08 109-12 - 04 171,049
Dec 98 109-13 - 04 185
Est, sales N.A. Turs soles 73,138
Turs open art 772-094, up 1,236
10 YR TREASURY (CSOT)
$100,000 prin- pris 8.27346 at 100 pct
Jun 98 112-04 112-27 113-00 - 01 185,949
Sep 98 112-09 112-31 113-04 - 02 339/495
Dec 98 113-00 112-39 113-00 - 01 13,285
Est, sales N.A. Turs sales 200,303
Turs open art 528,924, up 1,435

Turs open Inf 47,791, off 463

EUROPOLLARS (CMER)
SI million-pits of 100 pct.
Jun 98 94,32 94,30 94,30 -6
Jul 98 94,30 94,29 94,30 -6
Jul 98 94,30 94,29 94,30 -6
Aug 98 94,30 94,29 94,30 -6
Oct 98 94,25 94,25 94,20 -6
Dec 98 94,25 94,27 94,23 -6
Dec 98 94,27 94,23 94,30 -6
Jun 99 94,28 94,21 94,23 -6
Jun 99 94,28 94,21 94,21 94,50 -6
Jun 99 94,28 94,21 94,21 -6
Dec 99 94,11 94,08 94,09 -0
Mer 00 94,16 94,14 94,15 -6
Est, soles N.A. Turs soles 270,516
Turs open inf 3,159,170, up 7,512

Turs open inf 3.197.130, up 7.512

BRITISH POUND (CAMER)
43.500 pounds, $ per pound
Jun 98 1.6400 1.6301 1.6302+0.0004 47.715
Sep 98 1.6430 1.6230 1.6321-0.0004 42.86
Dec 98 1.6330 1.6230 1.6312+0.0004 184
Est, sales N.A. Turs soles 6.415
Turs open inf 52,167, off 996
CAMADIÁN DOLLAR (CMER)
100.000 doltars, $ per Cdn. dr
Jun 98 4970 4890 4.0007 1.990
Est, sales N.A. Turs soles 19,799
Turs open inf 70,537, up 162
GERMAN MARK (CAMER)
Jun 98 5697 5618 5653+0,0032 113.579
Turs open inf 70,537, up 162
GERMAN MARK (CAMER)
Jun 98 5657 5618 5653+0,0032 113.579
Dec 98 5711 5699 57711+0,0034 363
Est, soles N.A. Turs soles 23,0022
Turs open inf 172,164, up 1.241
JAPANESE YEN (CAMER)

JAPANESE YEM (CMER)
12.5 millon yen. 5 per 100 yen
Jun 98 . 7290 . 7207 . 7220 -0.0002 117.019
5ep 98 . 7290 . 7313 . 7315 -0.0002 12.319
Occ 98 . 7470 . 7410 . 7411 -0.0002 717
Est. soles N.A. Tue's solice 29,390
Tue's open Int 131,550, up 602

Akzo and PPC Deal on Con

. =. 5

THE CONTRACTOR

A

. . . .

HEATING OIL (MAER)
4,000 gal, cents per gal
Jul 98 97.59 32.30 32.72 40
Aug 98 44.80 39.85 40.16 40
Sep 98 44.80 39.85 40.16 40
Sep 98 44.50 44.61 44.61 44.61 40
Dec 98 44.71 45.90 42.71 40
Dec 98 44.71 45.90 42.71 40
Est, sales 32.593 Tuers sales 19,148
Tuers open let 181,424, off 3,413

UNLEADED GASOLINE (NMER)
42,000 gal cents per gal
Jul 78 50.31 49,10 49,75 J.
Aug 98 50.85 50.80 50.49 4,75 J.
Sep 78 50.90 50.20 50.89 4,00
Cei 98 50.96 50.20 50.89 4,00
Cei 98 50.96 49.55 50.00
No 98 49.65 49.50 49.65 4,0
Jan 79 50.85 50.85 50.65 4,0
Est. sales 24,570 Tue's sales 24,969
Tuers open int

حكدًا من الاحل

The second secon

A Marie Control

100

A MARIE TO A

The second

19 a. .

$4.5 P. Toronto.

THE STATE OF THE STATE OF

1994 1994 1994

ರ್ಮಾಟ್ ಕ್ರಮ

Action to the server

7

State of the state

 $\ll \frac{1}{2}$

احكذا من الاعل

Britain Backs New Plan for Channel Tunnel Link

By Tom Buerkle International Herald Tribune

LONDON — After years of in-Idecision and one abortive attempt, - the British government Wednesday endorsed a new plan for a highspeed rail link to the Channel Tunonel but stopped short of guaran-teeing that the entire 68-mile (110-'kilometer) link to central London

The plan calls for constructing the £5.4 billion ($8.84 billion) highspeed line in two streets.

The plan calls for constructing the £1.8 billion.

More significantly the government of £1.8 billion. would be built any time soon. More significantly, the government will guarantee £3.7 billion of debt for London & Continental to

for the full link.

speed line in two stages, starting with a stretch from the tunnel through mostly agricultural land to the outer limits of London, which is ensure that the company can raise private finance. It was a radical dedue for completion in 2003. The second portion, which involves parture from the policy of the presecond portion, which involves vious Conservative government, costly tunneling under London to a which denied guarantees for the link renovated St. Pancras station, would and the tunnel itself. ultimately depend on strong growth The debt guarantee highlighted in passenger traffic and would not be

Akzo and PPG Strike

A Deal on Courtaulds

Industries Inc. agreed Wednesday to another major Courtaulds division, divide Courtaulds PLC between fibers, into its own and sell or spin it pence to close at 444, as traders Akzo Nobel's offer for Courtanids lysts said, it will control nearly 15 value-added products as specialty percent of the $40 billion worldwide paints and chemicals. Fibers and paint and coatings market. Akzo commodity chemicals are less in said the two businesses to be sold to favor as returns tend to be lower.

LONDON - Akzo Nobel NV of the Netherlands and U.S.-based PPG them rather than get involved in a

Akzo will go ahead with its £1.83 billion ($3 billion) offer, ending up with more than 90 percent of Cour-taulds, the world's biggest marine

PPG will abandon its bid but will buy the two units it most wanted — Courtaulds' U.S. production of paints for buildings and beverage

Shares in Courtaulds fell 21.5 concluded that no third bidder was likely to emerge with only five working days to go before Akzo's

If Akzo acquires Courtaulds, ana-

450-pence-per-share offer closes.

PPG account for less than 9 percent cans — for £175 million after Akzo completes its acquisition.

and aerospace coatings maker.

costly trans-Atlantic bidding war.

the difficulty the government faces completed until 2007 at the earliest. in forming so-called public-private That is four years after the initial partnerships to overhaul the countarget and fully 13 years after the try's creaking transportation net-

of Courtaulds total sales and less

Akzo has said it plans to bundle than 7 percent of operating profit.

off the combination by 2000. A successful Akzo bid for London-based Courtaulds "lifts their critical mass in fibers so they can have a fairly clear exit from the business," said

Courtaulds' units is contingent on Akzo's bid succeeding. If the bid fails, PPG may consider another bid

sider its options with regard to Cour-taulds in the unlikely event that lapses or is withdrawn," PPG said.

organization in the European chemical industry, as companies compete

(Reuters, Bloomberg)

to build market share in such higher

The bid comes at a time of re-

"PPG reserves the right to con-

for the British company.

PPG said its agreement to buy

Philip Morrish of Nikko Europe.

tunnel itself was opened.
"Well, at least we've started,"

said a relieved John Prescott, the deputy prime minister, who spent

The plan also will transfer the opdeputy prime minister, who spent the last four months working to reeration of the Eurostar train service vive the plan after the contractor, to a consortium that includes British London & Continental Railways, Airways PLC. The consortium plans was unable to raise private financing to run direct trains from London's Heathrow Airport to Paris beginning Under the plan, the government in 2001, transforming Europe's will inject £140 million on top of its busiest airport into a multimode transport hub along the lines of Paris' Charles de Gaulle Airport.

Mr. Prescott, who announced the plan in the House of Commons, called it a model for an integrated transportation strategy for the 21st century that will relieve road congestion and pollution and help rehabilitate rundown areas of East and Central London, The link to Heath-

Battle Rages For Control Of Generale

Compiled by Our Staff From Departeurs

BRUSSELS — The battle for control of Generale de Banque SA of Belgium heated up Wednesday, and analysts said the increasingly bitter bid-ding between ABN-AMRO Holding NV of the Netherlands and Fortis AG, the Dutch-Belgian conglomerate, could mean that even in victory there will be no winner.

Jan Kalff, the AMRO chairman, said the bank had lowered its rate of unconditional acceptance for its offer to 50 percent plus one share from the 60 percent threshold it had originally sought. Mr. Kalff also said AMRO would consider sweetening its bid for Generale, although he did not think that would be necessary.

Rudi Aerts, a fund manager at Cordius, said that Mr. Kalff's moves "indicate that he's ready for a war."

Shareholders of Belgium's largest bank will decide the winner after the Belgian financial-services industry regulator gave the go-ahead for both AMRO's $12 billion bid and Fortis's roughly $11 billion of-(Reuters, Bloomberg)

the viability of the project, he said. "We will join the fast track to Europe," he said.

Mr. Prescott also expressed confidence that the second stage would be built. Two-thirds of the government's investment in the project is tied to the second stage, he said. The plan assumes that passenger numbers on the Eurostar will rise to 9.5 million in 2004 from the current 6 million, eliminating the service's annual operating loss of about £140 million. The original tunnel link plan fell apart because it was based on traffic of 9 million passengers this year. The arduous process in Britain, where the first feasibility studies decision is expected to hinge on a date from 1987, stood in stark contrast to the Continent, where govemment backing enabled France to have its high-speed link completed one year before the tunnel's opening. Belgium finished its link to Brusseis last year.

work, a strategy that is vital to the row in particular would generate

Labour Party's commutation to repassenger growth that would ensure investment would be better spent on upgrading rail lines for freight and improving urban mass transit than on cutting 35 minutes off the current three-hour time to Paris.

A crucial element of the new plan is a prominent role for Railtrack Group PLC, the recently privatized company that owns and operates Britain's existing rail lines but does not offer passenger service. Railtrack will help build the first stage of the link and then buy it from London & Continental, a consor-tium that includes the U.S. construction company Bechtel Group Inc. Railtrack has an option but no commitment to buy the second stage. Its government review in the coming year of fees that passenger rail companies pay to Railtrack. The implication is that the full tunnel link will depend on a subtle shift of funds from British rail passengers to the link's builders.

Sony Weighs Brussels Base Very briefly: For PC Foray Into Europe

Sony Corp. said Wednesday that it planned to sell personal computers edit applications for motion pictures in Europe by next year and that it and Sony's audiovisual technolog. might pick Brussels as a regional production center and headquarters but media reports have put sales of for its PC business.

a plan by Sony to build an empire in leader NEC Corp., which aims to the lucrative digital home network sell about 3 million units this year. area by linking PCs with its mainstay home audiovisual products, rather than seeking a larger share of the PC market.

"Having introduced our personal Europe in fiscal 1998-99," a Sony curities Co. spokesman said.

"Since we have our own infrastructure in Brussels, we are currently considering whether we can use it's for a headquarters and production center, the spokesman said. He did not say when Sony would decide. Sony, which abandoned the PC market in the late 1980s, returned to the business in the United States in September 1996.

Sony started selling its Vaioseries notebook PCs in the United The notebook PCs feature easy-to-

Sony has not disclosed sales data, its PCs so far in Japan at some Analysts view the move as part of 100,000 units. far behind market

'Given the current low output volume, it's obvious that for Sony its PC business is merely a stepping stone to the more lucrative area of integrated PCs and home audiovisucomputers in the United States and al products," said Masayuki Yonez-Japan, we plan to launch them in awa, an analyst at New Japan Se-

• Travelers Group Inc. and Citicorp filed for European antitrust clearance of their planned combination amid signs that the European Commission would investigate the wave of mergers and takeovers in the banking industry.

 The Netherlands' gross domestic product expanded 4.2 percent in the first quarter, its biggest gain since the end of 1990, as commercial services and goods output gained. • NFC PLC, a British distribution company, said it would return £307 million ($502.7 million) to shareholders as first-half profit rose 7 percent, to £34.1 million. • Chorion PLC paid Booker PLC £10 million in cash for 64 percent of Agatha Christie Ltd., giving the leisure company access to royalties from the world's best-selling novelist. · Crewe Motors, a group of Rolls car fans hoping to buy Rolls-

Royce Motor Cars Ltd., said it would not publicize its bid. Jenoptik AG will become the fifth East German company to emerge from the communist era to trade on Germany's stock exchange when the technology concern goes public June 16. • The European Union will continue paying 480 European currency units ($530.70) per hectare to farmers who either do not harvest hops or dig them up by 2002. Bloomberg, Reuters

Insurer Targets Homosexual Males

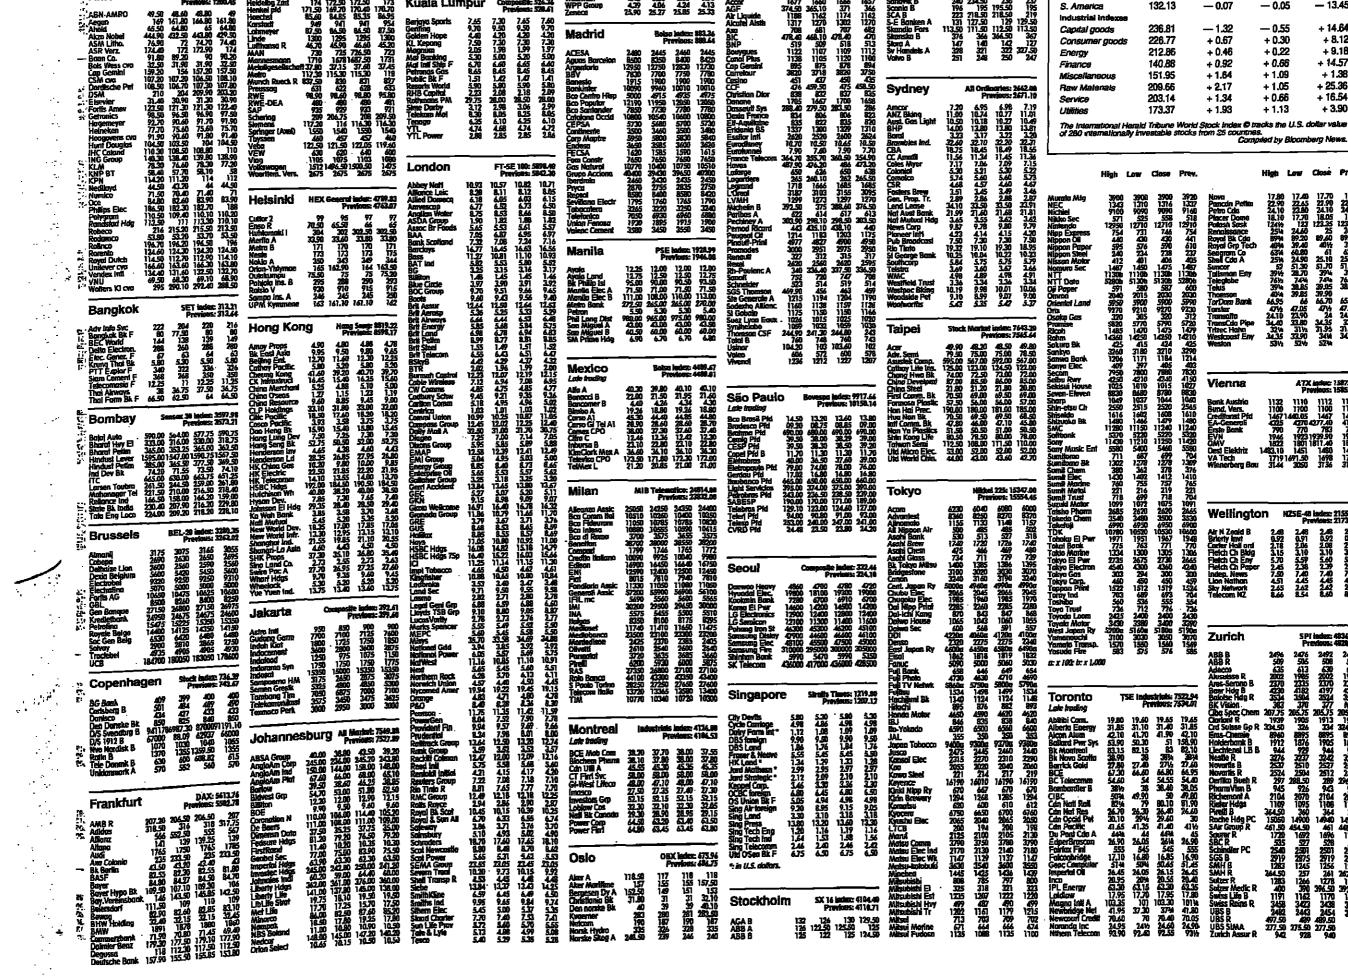

LONDON — A London-based insurer is targeting homosexual men as a niche market with what it says is a first — an income-protection policy that includes coverage for HIV or AIDS. high disposable income, who also have great high disposable income, who also have great the policy.

don, offers coverage for gay men contracting own mortality," Simon Burgess, Grip's man-HIV, AIDS or sexually transmitted diseases, aging partner, said Wednesday.

according to Goodfellow Rebecca Ingrams Pearson (Grip), the underwriting agency that is mar-

The policy, underwritten at Lloyd's of Lon- concerns, because of fears over AIDS, for their

WORLD STOCK MARKETS The Trib Index Prices as of 3 00 PM. New York time. Jan 1, 1992 = 100 Wednesday, June 3 | Douby prices in local currencies: | Telekums | Teleku + 12.11World Index Regional Index Asia/Pactfic — 12.80 + 2.56 +1.09+ 22.93 Europe — 1.00 -0.41+11.43S. America -0.07-0.05— 13.45 $\frac{1}{269}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{941}$ \quad \text{942}$ \quad \text{94 Industrial Inde 7.30 9.50 7.30 5.00 6.45 1.40 5.00 2.00 2.00 8.15 2.00 8.10 4.68 4.68 2.85 131 127-50 129 129-50 113.50 111-50 112.50 113.50 376 366 366-50 367 147 140 142 127 328 321 322 327-50 251 248 250 247 Capital goods Consumer goods Energy Finance

CARESSING THE DAMASK COVERLET

he reflected misty-eyed on times past. Fifty years it had been since he had slept with his beloved wife in this very same suite. It had been their wedding night. How he wished she were there now. Half a century ago, and yet it seemed like yesterday. Tears sprang unbidden as recollections of their honeymoon, fresh as the Orchids on the bedside table, bloomed in his memory. The scent and soft colours of the room captured his reminiscences causing time to stand still. A gentle knock at the door roused him from his reverie. Opening it, he found a Bell Boy laden with shiny the lady in question, as girlishly as she had some fifty years before.

NYSE

Wednesday's 4 P.M. Close The 2,600 most traded stocks of the day.

24. 16th Desired

24. 227 280-287 280-enquired. Just thinking

1914 From ALOW 1918

28 Va. 1914 From ALOW 1918

11 Va. 945 Friddin J70 7.4

10 Vi. 846 Friddin J70 7.4

10 Vi. 846 Friddin J70 7.4

10 Vi. 846 Friddin S. 20 .4

10 Vi. 846 Friddin S. 20 .4

10 Vi. 847 Friddin S. 20 .8

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 87 Vi. 8

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 8 Friddin S. 20 .1

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 8 Friddin S. 20 .1

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 8 Friddin S. 20 .1

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 8 Friddin S. 20 .1

10 Vi. 87 Vi. 8 Friddin S. 20 .1

10 Vi. 8 Vi. 8

all right, sir?' he gently

150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 150 | 15

Continued on Page 19

Seall Tells B. Doomed Cha. Reak Operations. Face !

مكذا من الاجل

FOR INTE

اصكنات الاعل

42

2+1 the World

44-

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1998

ASIA/PACIFIC

Seoul Tells Banks to List Doomed Chaebol Units

Weak Operations Face Cash Cutoff and Death

By Don Kirk International Herald Tribuni

SEOUL - South Korea moved closer to an economic "survival of the fittest" policy Wednesday, ordering banks to include subsidiaries of the country's five largest conglomerates on a hit list of companies that will be refused cash and allowed to die.

The Financial Supervisory Commission, formed during the economic crisis to monitor South Korea's beleaguered banks and companies, issued the order while attacking the banks' the order while attacking the banks' after Hyundai, also is reported to be preliminary list for failing to include any companies in the biggest conglom Officials of both Samsung Electronerates, or chaebol.

"The banks' death list of companies is a joke," said Del Ricks, head of research at the Seoul office of ABNAMRO Asia. "Why did it take them so chips on world markets.

The commission's decision, which marks a significant policy shift, forced Monday the news of which companies would not be eligible for loans.

determination of President Kim Dae Jung to bolster foreign confidence in down. his reform drive before a weekend trip to the United States.

One example of a company in trou-ble but not cited by the banks was Hyundai Electronics Industries Co., a core member of Hyundai Group, the cious cycle." nation's largest chaebol in terms of Hyundai Electronics, saddled with a percent, suspended production for a components for their products. week Wednesday, closing its plant south of Seoul and sending all 7,000 workers home until June 11.

'We're reducing, not stopping pro- companies.

hathir bin Mohamad and Finance Minister Anwar Ibrahim, sources said.

hathir returns Friday from a visit to

Mr. Anwar, the anointed successor to Mr. Mahathir, said Monday that interest rates should be determined by market forces and the central bank, considering such factors as inflationary pressures and the weak ringgit.

His remarks, effectively endorsing the tight approach taken to monetary policy following the currency's collapse and rising prices for imported goods, were in direct contrast to weekend comments by Japan, the source said.

duction," said Park Young Man, a manager in the company's memory chip division.

But analysts said the company might be among a number ready for extinc-tion as the largest chaebol face up to the problem of their unprofitable entities. Samsung Electronics Co., the world's largest manufacturer of memory chips and a mainstay of Samsung Group, the second-ranking South Korean chaebol, was not believed to be in trouble, but LG Semicon, the country's third largest chip manufacturer ics and LG Semicon, part of LG Group, the fourth largest chaebol, said they,

long to come up with such a list?"

He suggested that banks were reluctant "to pull the plug" on clients who would then never repay enormous bit and 16-megabit chips have dropped by 50 percent since January. by 50 percent since January.

Dozens of other major companies in sectors including construction, petrothe banks to postpone to June from chemicals, iron and steel, and motor vehicles are equally distressed, in the view of industry analysts, who say the The move also appears to show the chaebol seek to defer either restructuring the operations or shutting them

> Shin Bok Young, chairman of Seoul Bank, in trouble for having extended far too much credit to unprofitable companies, acknowledged that "bad companies are being helped in a vi-

One result, he said, is that the banks do not have the funds to lend to healthy companies, which then lack the cash debt believed to exceed equity by 900 they need to import raw materials and

Mr. Shin said the major chaebol were responsible for making matters worse by supporting their own weak

Interest Rates Cause Malaysian Rift

Differences Emerge in Government Over Direction of Monetary Policy

KUALA LUMPUR — Cabinet min- marks, Mr. Anwar said that the prime ringgit is quoted elsewhere" — a clear isters were deeply split over monetary minister was "only expressing the gen-reference to the higher offshore rates.

athir bin Mohamad and Finance Minser Anwar Ibrahim, sources said.

Dank Negara Malaysia, the central bank implicitly backed Mr. Anwar by interest rates during the weekly cabinet as Malaysia grapples with its worst eco- worsen, pressure within the government ensuring that productive activity is not undermined," it said.

11 percent, up from 7.5 percent in July,

when the Asian financial crisis erupted.

Offshore rates are even higher, at around 20 percent for three-month deposits.

r nearly two hours.

"Interest-rate policy continues to aim questions within, asking whether they to balance the need to maintain price have done the right thing. There is a

Three-month interbank rates exceed Economists said that while Mr. An-

Mahathir could create serious polit-

During his comments to reporters

Monday, Mr. Anwar said it was "very war's view appeared to be holding sway for now, the growing differences with ical friction, particularly if the economy worsens in the months to come.

policy Wednesday after apparent dif-ferences between Prime Minister Ma-about high interest rates."

ministers had a "heated debate" over rify the current monetary policy stance" his capacity as deputy prime minister, stability and a stable exchange rate while deferred the issue until after Mr. Ma-

Ameeting, adding that the argument lasted nomic downturn in at least 13 years.

of "clarifying" Mr. Mahathir's re- interest rates know the rates at which the STRIKE GOES ON --- A striker against Kia Motors Corp. at a rally Tuesday, holding a photo of a worker who set himself on fire in protest.

'The obstacle is cross-guarantees,' he said, referring to arrangements under which companies guarantee loans other companies within their

That's the biggest stumbling block to mergers and acquisitions," he ad-

Sohn Byung Doo, executive vice chairman of the Federation of Korean Industries, made up of the chairmen of the chaebol, said banking institutions were the ones responsible, saying they had impeded imports of basic sup-

"Many companies have received orders from abroad, but they are having a very difficult time importing raw materials." he said.

He warned, however, against attempting to force the chaebol to abandon companies that seemed to face too much competition.

"It doesn't make sense if we say one company must concentrate on this sector, another on that sector," he said. There should be many different teams in competition. Only then will a company succeed."

Eddie Lee, an economist with Vickers

But if the economy continues to will mount," he said. "There will be possibility of political friction at the top about Mr. Anwar's succession and the senior management at the central bank that," said Simon Flint, a regional economist for IDEA. "The biggest risk at this point over and above the economic specter is a political split that is already Separately, Mr. Anwar said he would hold a news conference Thursday to give details about the country's plan to set up an agency to manage banks' bad debts,

If the differences persist, questions

Malaysia cannot afford to have as the economy gets worse."

could arise.

Ballas in Singapore, said Mr. Anwar was

Singapore Layoffs Climb to a Record

SINGAPORE—The numlost their jobs reached a record high in the first quarter amid Southeast Asia's economic slowdown, the Ministry of Labor said Wednesday.

The ministry said there was also less work available. The entire job picture, it said, worsened "significantly in the first quarter of 1998 as impact of the regional economic and currency crisis sank in."

The report is the latest sign that the nearly year-old Asian economic turmoil is taking a heavy toll on this usually prosperous city state. The report said 7,131 people were laid off in the quarter, while the number of job openings dropped to 26,148, a 44 percent decline rate by the end of the year. In its bleak outlook for the The outlook is not any better for the next quarter, the ministry warned. It said that demand for new workers was likely to fall further and unemployment would rise as local graduates enter the work force in the next few months.

About 11,000 local graduates enter the job market every year from May to July. In addition, overseas graduates return home looking for work. The unemployment rate rose to 2.2 percent in the first quarter from 2 percent the previous quarter. That is still lower than the 5.7 percent nnemployment rate reached in other parts of Asia. 1986, the report said.

have lost their jobs were from ber of Singapore workers who the manufacturing sector, with 66 percent of them in production work, the report said. The job losses follow cutbacks by electronics makers.

A union leader said this week that layoffs in Singapore this year would likely rise to an all-time high as the country edges toward the eco-nomic doldrums.

Lim Boon Heng, chief of the National Trade Union Congress, said the number of workers losing their jobs would probably exceed the peak of 20,000 during the 1985-86 recession.
Prime Minister Goh Chok

Tong said this week that some private analysts had predicted a 4 percent unemployment In its bleak outlook for the current quarter, the ministry said expectations were "less favorable especially in the manufacturing sector," with further declines in the electronics and engineering.

The work force totaled nearly 1.9 million people last year, out of a total population of 3.1 million, according to government statistics.

The economies of Indone-sia, Malaysia and Hong Kong contracted in the first quarter. and all three are among Singapore's largest trading partners. About 40 percent of Singapore's total trade is with

(AP, Bloomberg)

Foreign Cash Flees India

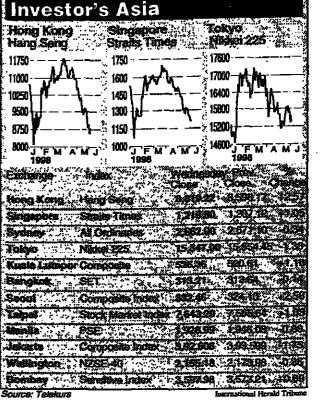

BOMBAY - Foreign investors pulled a record amount of money out of India last month, officials said Wednesday, as the country's nuclear tests triggered economic sanctions and shook confidence.

they bought in May, the Se-India said. That is the largest growth in India. The uproar foreign investment in 1992.

about how the sanctions will affect the economy," said Jyoti Jaipuriaof DSP Merrill Lynch in Bombay.

Indian stocks have fallen 10 percent and the rupee has weakened 5 percent, with the dollar hitting 41.78 rupees Wednesday, since India first Foreign investors sold Wednesday, since India first $215.7 million more worth of tested nuclear devices May Indian stocks and bonds than 11. Sanctions by the United States and Japan are threatcurities Exchange Board of ening to hobble economic monthly net withdrawal since over the nuclear tests has India opened its markets to made it more expensive for the government and compa-"Investors are concerned nies to borrow money.

Very briefly:

• Indonesia's chief negotiator said talks aimed at rescheduling the $80 billion debt of private companies would likely finish by Thursday. Officials said the discussions with international banks were edging toward at least a partial deal.

• Nippon Telegraph & Telephone Corp. said the Finance Ministry would sell part of its 65.49 percent stake in the company by the end of March. NTT also plans to make an initial public offering of NTT Mobile Communications Network Inc. within 10 months.

 Nippon Steel Corp., the world's biggest steelmaker, Kawasaki Steel Corp., Tokyo Steel Manufacturing Co. and Sumitomo Metal Industries had their long-term credit ratings cut by Moody's Investors Service Inc

• Philippine export growth slowed in April, dropping to 10 percent on an annual basis from 24 percent in March, the National Statistics Office said.

 China's total number of laid-off workers hit 10.1 million at the end of March, according to the Hainan Daily.

• PT Bimantara Citra posted a first-quarter loss of 38.84 billion rupiah ($3.3 million), or 38 rupiah a share, against a profit of 36.45 billion rupiah, or 26 rupiah a share, in the first quarter of last year. Reuters, Bloomberg, AP

Japan to Get Discount Trading

TOKYO - Softbank Corp. will set up an on-line securities company in Japan this month with E*Trade Group Inc. to take advantage of deregulated trading commissions, the companies said Wednesday.

Softbank, the Tokyo-based flagship enterprise of the bil-lionaire dealmaker Masayoshi Son, will own 58 percent of the venture. E*Trade, a California-based on-line securities company, will own 42 percent, executives said. The joint venture will be aimed at individual investors, Mr. Son said.

Mr. Mahathir calling for lower rates. important that people who talk about Bloomberg News reported. In what has become his trademark role Mondays, Wednesdays Fridays and Saturdays days.

THE INTERMARKET

The IHT's Intermarket regularly features two pages of classified advertising for the following categories:

MONDAY WEDNESDAY Recruitment, Education, Secretarial, Internet Services. Business Opportunities, Franchises, Commercial Real Estate. Telecommunications, Automotive, Entertainment.

FRIDAY SATURDAY Holidays, Travel, Residential Real Estate, Dining out. Arts, Friendships, International Meeting Point, Nannies & Domestics

A great deal happens at The Intermarket. Call Sarah Wershof on +44 171 420 0348

FOR INVESTMENT INFORMATION Read THE MONEY REPORT

every Saturday in the IHT. Herald Eribune

- The theme of the competition is "Asia Rising". Plays must address the modern Asian identity.
- · Submission deadline is September 1, 1998.
- · Entries must be full-length plays in English and not previously produced.
- Plays must have relevance for a broad, Pan-Asian audience.

Finalist judges include Sheridan Morley, drama critic; David Henry Hwang, playwright; Philip Kan Gotanda, playwright, and Chin Woon Ping, writer and associate professor of literature

Fax Sangeeta Razu at (65) 221 1936 or email: singrep@cyberway.com.sg for a guideline

Singapore Repertory Theatre is a professional company drawing on an international pool of SITEAR OLE Asian talent to present a wide-ranging repertoire of English-language theatre.

MI ARC INVESTMENT A SURVICES OF P.C. SOURCE Referred Growth of Control of C	DA 1542-177 W UBAM FOR Bend CHF 95 1341-94 UBAM GB Bends CHF 95 1341-94 UBAM GB Bends CHF 95 1341-94 UBAM GB Bends CHF 95 1341-94 UBAM Exercising Security 1044-95 1341-94 UBAM EXERCISING SECURITY 1044-
To receive free daily quotations for your funds by E-mail: 10.07 1	S 1946 S.177 DM 1547 177 DM 1
S STANDARD CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROP	AND PROPERTY OF THE STATE OF TH
CAAN Production Feb	2 1975 1976
d Abh Ankie in Ob-150 3 data of Secretary Control o	FG Econtum Err USD 3 102.00 179 US GLOBAL SEVENT SIGE COLEMNSEY 178 US GLOBAL SEVENT SIGE COLEMNS SIGE COLEM
	SHIPTON I LAGRICON TO THE STATE OF THE STATE
The state of the s	The state of the s
AGE CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY	reg Addr Crist Control of the Contro
ALFED BERG (TH): 44 5721 SI 809 C COMPORATE HIGH INCOME PTFL S. 100 C C COMPORATE HIGH INCOME PTFL S. 100 C C COMPORATE HIGH INCOME PTFL S	THE STATE OF THE S
Allence US Gr. Street 6 1913 # Cornel Control Contro	開始版 5 割 999 Other Funds
PACA Research Fd S 1377-A C 18045	Selection XEU Sci 1140 Alianor law Holdings A 1060.93 Selection XEU Sci 1140 Alianor law Holdings B 30 1160.93 Selection XEU Sci 1160.97 Alianor law Holdings B 32 1160.93
After Sentent Evenos And Part 154 15 154 15 154 15 154 15 15	Selection Cities of the Committee of t
Apply States 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 1	Founds State of the State of th
d George Australization of the State of the	The Fund may be a seried of the seried of th
d Selection Filld $ 124.05 d Selection Filld $ 1	Allond DAN 12:16 J. White Wild Wise M 7:1 10924.60 to EPZ Inc. QA 5 12:18 w DAN 12:16 TO THE COLUMN
After Air Architecture for the Control of the Con	10.66 d Emil France
d BBL Liment Belghart Cap BF 36/97/20 of CS Bond For CL Lin A Li 298/36/20 of CS Bond For CL Lin A	DPS Filiab SICAY
d del Di Invest Novici Cop. Le 433.00 d' C. Bonno H. 10.1 Stant PAM B. DAN 1971 in Bully Trung Global, Fund Lat 11677.00 in Bully Trung Fund Lat 11677	### FLORE FUNDS 1: 899 393 57.7 ### FORMARISE IVEN FUNDS 1: 899 393 57.7 ### FORMARISE IVEN FUNDS 1: 899 393 57.7 #### FORMARISE IVEN F
Washington State	of Hedge 162.76 m Global Star Client Held 5 120.24 m Global Star Client Held 5 120.24 m Global Star Client Held 5 120.24 m Global Star Client Held 5 120.25 m Global Star Global Star Client Held 5 120.25 m Global Star Globa
SECT SURFORD SC SALLIANCE SECTION SC SALLIANCE SECTION SC SALLIANCE SECT SURFORD SC SALLIANCE SECTION SC SALLIA	Del turt PIC S. 286.51 C. 286.51 C
w Prictor Dollar Records S 172.7 m Deline Brasil Fe List S 12.16 w GSAM Citical S 179.7 m Large and Citical S 179.	Global SF 14409 m Schoole Groten Falla C A 11546 m School SF 144 C A 11546 m SF 144 C A 1
d Chain (PRC) (2000) $ 2,770 m Wentwell group (Life Prt $ 4,771 m) 3000 Fee 4 (17) 20	Francis FF 160 250 m Section 1972 M
LTD ISTR RECOGNITION DAY 1990 Wash File 1990 And File 1990	USA Subsectional SF 151.679 m Macros Global hard 1 5175.00E lay Subsectional SF 151.679 m Macros Lawrooded Had 1 120.10
SOM Middle East Strong 1985 Middle East	Ter Satterstand SF 197-507 m searned (merced) in 197-506 (197-50) m searned (merced) in 197-506
d US Defer Community Form S 10/300 INSECTION INT L W SQL-1989 Personal Business S 20/300 Final Business S 20/300 Fin	d min - AD C 151. Apy 151. Ap
To Control of the Con	Term FDM T DM 117.047 m SC Fundern Ver RV1 14
Gibber Birth Richard Giber Birth Richard Gibber Birth Richard G	at Tomin Caster Fig. 1984 of the control of the con
The Substant State of	THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O
Special part and spec	200 G 01 T T I 12072100 a T T 10 Band Separate Date 8 12.05
W Control and Cont	Tender Sept. Sep
285 CHELTON MAIL Commodity Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 or World Propagin Fund 5 11/20 of Cost Super High Inc. Bond 1 19/20 of C	Win Good 10 22 60 0 10 22 60
W CH SHAPE PLACE MANAGEMENT S OF SHAPE PLACE	ME ASSET MET CUBAM) ASSAU S 2001 Arr. S 2001
GORDAT AND STREET PROPERTY FOR THE STREET PROPERTY FOR	TOO. 107 TOO
Comment of the control of the contro	The state of the s
The data in the list above is the nax supplied by the fund groups to Micropal SA. It is collected and selected and selecte	price. E estimated price; y: price calculated 2 dept price is the price. The marginal symbols inclinate 2 dept price is publication; is left price. The marginal symbols inclinate temperacy of quotations supplied; (in - delity; (in) - seesit; (in - bi-marging; (ii) - levice monthly.

MSF

فكذا من الاحل

Div Yld PE 1005High LowLotest Chrys

صكدا من الاعل

NASDAO Wednesday's 4 P.M. 77 Marith High Low Stack 12 Month High Life Stock 12 Meets 14 i.e. Such The 1,000 most traded National Market securities Die Viel PE Willerige Low Lowert Corps in terms of dollar value, updated twice a year. | CHAPTER | CHAP ASERTATION OF THE PROPERTY OF The Associated Press Charles Control of Con APRIL PROPERTY OF STATES OF STATES AND STATE 15th VLSI
11th Vyndchi
25th Venter
15th Ve 《新闻》中,"《《《《《《《《《《》》》》,《《《《《》》,《《《》》,《《《》》,《《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《《 《《《》》,《》》,《《》》,《《》》,《》》,《《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《《》》,《》》,《《》》,《》》,《《》》,《》》,《》》,《《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》,《》》 Sing to Sing t ではない ははられる 3445174565 1745174565 1745174565 1745174565 1745174565 1745174 1745174 17451 NYSE 12 Month High Low Stock Dry Yki PE 1005 High Low Latest Cirge 12 Month High Low Stock Div Yic PE 100s High LowLatest Cirga High Low Stock Div Yid PE 1005 High LowLates Cings Wednesday's 4 P.M. Close

Wednesday's 4 P.M. Close

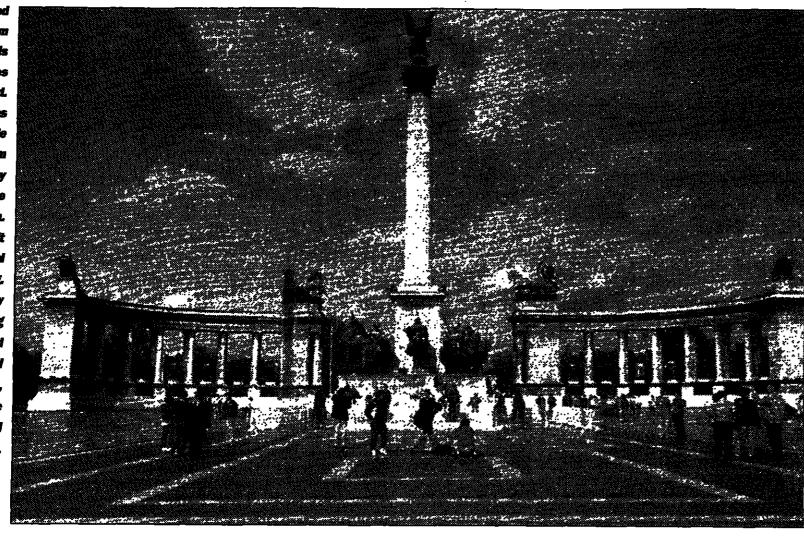

(Continued)

| Individual Continued)
| Individual Continued Co

HUNGARY FINANCIAL SIG

HUNGARY

Hungary celebrated back in 1896, when this lore recentiv. it has difficulties to transform a once troubled economy igto arguably the strongest in the region. Inflation and the deficit keep falling, while real vages are increasing vide, the country boasts a strong banking system, a well-regulated stock market, solid infrastructure. an educated worldorce and a largely privatized industrial base

FACTS AND FIGURES

THE REPUBLIC OF HUNGARY

Area: 93,000 square kilometers (37,200 square miles)

Population: 10.25 million

Capital: Budapest (1.93 million)

Other major cities: Debrecen (210,000) Miskolc (182,000) Szeged (169,000) Pecs (163,000) Győr (131,000)

A CHANGE IN THE GOVERNMENT, BUT NOT IN ECONOMIC POLICIES

Hungary's belt-tightening over the last few years has paid off and the economy is clearly picking up, but where does the country go from here?

nomic policies. That's the financing. message coming from Vik-ister Gyula Hom's em- Baltic "tigers."

thousand faces of Budapest will certainly be Yours.

ungary is facing a phases on fostering invest-tor Orban, head of the Hun- probably the strongest in the an improvement of nearly own version of "shock thering a center-right coalition. centage points below that of cent. The party's platform repre- longtime growth champion sents no major changes Poland and about half that from those of Prime Min- of Estonia and the other garian Civic Party. or Central and East European one percentage point over apy." Its key elements were F Jesz, the winner of the region, its 4.4 percent rate 1996. This trend has conthe slashing of public-sector second round of parliamen- of gross domestic product tinued in 1998. During the budgets and payrolls, an in- ing the period. Spectacular tury elections in late May. growth in 1997 notwith- first three months of 1998, crease in the prices of con- though these figures are, Fidesz is expected to be standing. This was more the foreign trade deficit decommissioned with form- than two and a half per- clined by another 12 per-

Keeping the lid on

OPEN DOORS. OPEN HEARTS. OPEN MINDS. Visitors to Hungary experience friendliness and cordial hospitality all along, also in the capital situated on the banks of the river Danube. Budapest is composed of several towns. Buda, on the Unlike these countries, high deficits in other coun-policies won it kudos from quarter of 1998, exports try's building sector as a change in govern- ment and maintaining a however, Hungary has its tries has been under tight the rest of the world. The were up 26 percent over the whole to a 7 percent rise ment but not in eco- hard line on public-sector trade deficit firmly under control in Hungary since results have been impressed as a period in 1997, with during the period. control. In 1997, the deficit 1995, when the Horn ad- sive. Hungary's economy is came to 4.5 percent of GDP, ministration instituted its sumer essentials, a tighten- they seriously understate ing of the money supply and the scope of the industrial the fostering of growth in sector's growth. the export sector.

The Horn government's The runaway consumer ability to implement and spending that has caused stick to these painful

Industrial production has showing a 37 percent rise. The bigger picture grown 15 percent over the last two years, causing ex- ferential is rapidly growing. ment's steadfast adherence the slashing of public-sector ports to rise 48 percent dur- The total amount of to its economic policies

The most advanced industrial sectors have shown More positive indicators 510.7 percent over the same period in 1996. Telecommunications products rose 5 percent in 1996, rose an 248 percent, with the auto- equivalent amount in 1997. motive and electronics sec- causing household contors showing increases of sumption to rise by 2 per-respectively. These rates of growth allowed the Hungarian economy to reach a very special of the turnaround in per-milestone in 1997. In a first sonal income were the for the entire Central and country's banks. Showing East European region, advanced industrial products Hungarian households in-selling their products manufacturers are able to accounted for more than 50 creased their total savings abroad—so successful that compete—and compete: percent of Hungary's exports to the European Union.

The Hungarian government shows no signs of 1997 was housing. During which 73 percent of these swerving from these the first nine months of exports registered by Figure 1997, a year in which 73 percent of these swerving from these the first nine months of exports went to the Euro-

those of industrial products

Large though it is, this difcompanies abroad in March than it was a year previously.

the fastest growth. The total The country's industrial Eastern Europe can hope value of computers and oth- strength is having a positive for? er office equipment manu- impact throughout the econ-

136 percent and 133 percent cent, reports the First Hungary Fund in its 1997 annual report.

The prime beneficiaries great financial prudence, by 24 percent in 1997.

A main object of increased consumer con-

The Hungarian govern-

products sold by Hungarian raises the question: Is this pattern of strong if not spec-1998 was 41 percent higher tacular growth and low rates of trade deficit as good as it's going to get for Hun-factured or maintained in omy. After years of auster- Hungary's minister of in- with the ongoing pickup in Hungary during the first ity-caused pain, consumers dustry, trade and tourism: domestic demand in formquarter of 1997 was up are experiencing the pleas- "Thanks to our industrial Real wages, after falling achieve an internal balance, growth at — at least — 4 our economy has ample popercent to 5 percent over the tential for greater growth years to come. This figure over the medium term. By could rise above the 5 per internal balance, I'm refer- cent mark in 2000 and be ring to the fact that other yond." sectors are now joining our manufacturers of industrial equipment and systems in recording very high rates of expansion.

they alone accounted for 82 percent of the large rise in exports registered by Hun-

Viktor Orban, head of Fidesz

export sector will continue gary? Is Hungary's perfor- to turn in very high rates of mance the best Central and growth in the years to

He concludes: "The ex-Says Szabolcs Fazakas, port sector will combine ing a platform sustaining community's starting to Hungary's rate of GDP.

While refraining from commenting on Hungary's position vis-a-vis the other countries in the region, the minister does have this "These manufacturers point to make: "The exporthave been successful in figures show that Hungary's very successfully - for business in the EU's various markets. This fact has important implications: that; Hungary's industrial community - and with it, our policies. Nor would it seem 1997, expenditures for new pean Union. The greater entire economy—stands to to have reason to do so. The dwellings, or for renovating contributions from such country's GDP is expected existing ones, were up 30 areas of production as auto-links among markets resultcountry's GDP is expected existing ones, were up 30 areas of production as autoto grow at a 5 percent rate in percent over the previous mobile parts, computers ing from our country's actogrow at a 5 percent rate in percent over the previous mobile parts, computers ing from our country's acand the like mean that our cession to the EU."

Budapest is probably one of the most beautiful cities in the world

west bank of the river rises on hills with magnificent views. The ancient edifices of the Castle District tell stories of the past. In Pest, on the opposite river bank, there are vibrant boulevards, avenues and impressive monuments situated almost side by side. Between the two, lies the spectacular Danube spanned with graceful bridges connecting both parts of the city. Budapest is one of the most important cultural centers of Europe. In its many museums, galleries, concert halls, in one of the most beautiful opera bouses of the world, and at the many festivals throughout the year, everyone can find something to their liking. Wherever you come from, you will encounter beartfelt hospitality in Hungary. One of the

A WEALTH OF PLAYERS IN TELECOMS

Telecommunications providers are jockeying for position before Matav loses its monopoly.

or a country in which the national telecommunications operator -- Matav -- still enjoys a government-ordained monopoly on operating the country's master network, or standard telecommunications grid, Hungary has a lively communications sector.

At latest count, no less than 19 major providers were competing for business in the local, mobile, dedicated lines and paging segments. The range of value-added and special-purpose services offered by these providers shows a scope rivaling that of any country in Western Europe.

The reason for the greater number of providers: Each of them is being positioned by its backers to be Matavs in the making. Matav's monopoly will expire on Dec. 31, 2001. and each of the 18 others is busy preparing to hit the ground

LIVING IN HUNGARY? In Budapest, Budaörs and Törökbalint, you can now receive the International Herald

Tribune at your home or office on the day of publication by hand-delivery at no extra cost.

Postal delivery of your subscription elsewhere in Hungary.

FOR INFORMATION AND EASY ORDERING

CALL THE IHT OFFICE IN VIENNA:

+43 1 891 36 3830 OR EAX: +43 1 891 36 3840

THE WORLD'S DAILY NEWSPAPER

running. In doing so, they are availing themselves of the ample resources of their largely non-Hungarian backers.
All told, telecommunications providers with headquarters in 14 countries hold stakes in Hungary's sector, either directly from abroad or through their Hungarian sub-

Matav itself has been busy preparing for 2001. In 1997. the company increased the number of telephone lines it has installed in Hungary by 250,000, bringing the total to more than 2.4 million. This has given Hungary a ratio of 32 lines per 100 residents. Matav plans to increase this to 38 per 100 by 2000. The company's master network is now 70 percent digitalized — by far the highest percentage in Central and Eastern Europe.

Its heavy investments in new lines and other links notwithstanding. Matav has also been busy making money. Its net income for 1997 was up 56 percent over 1996, outpacing its 30 percent rise in turnover. The company's strong results help explain why its initial public offering, which took place on Nov. 14, 1997 on both the Budapest and New York stock exchanges, was such a

The sale of 26 percent of Matav's equity raked in a cool $1 billion. It was the largest stock-related transaction in. Hungary's history, and it made Matav Hungary's biggest company when ranked by market capitalization.

The improvement and extension of services have helped Hungary's Internet sector, which is currently growing at a monthly rate of 15 percent to 20 percent. By the end of 1998, this number should have risen much further. That's when the Sunlinet program, initiated and implemented by the country's Ministry of Education, will be completed. The program will put all of Hungary's secondary and postsecondary schools on-line.

Growing at a similar rate is the country's mobile communications sector. By mid-1997, the number of mobile telephone subscribers had broken the 600,000 mark. meaning that 10 percent of the adult population in Hungary already owns one of these telephones.

صكنات الاعل

SPONSORED SECTION HUNGARY

FINANCIAL SECTOR GETS FINE-TUNING

Banks have profited from fiscal restraint.

one of the hardest and most dependent agency dilithankless jobs in the country. The Central Bank's try's financial institutions. president was involved directly or indirectly — in and beyond are even brighte Hungarian public and and interlinked problems.

HUNGARV

FACTS AND FIGURE

The Remains or Handle

Area of the state areas

A Company

Programme Street

To handle these onerous responsibilities, NBH President Gyorgy Surányi and his predecessors tirelessly preached and practiced the gospel of tight money and fiscal restraint. The tools they employed to tighten the supply of money — nohably increasing the prime interest rates and bank capital adequacy ratios - were not designed to make them world's financial communipopular with either the ty, which gives high marks country's politicians or gen- to the country's thoreral populace.

came and went. Their policies, however, remained in force, and in a tions controlling 60 percent relatively short time the of the sector's assets, with banking sector's problems another 28 percent accounğiminished.

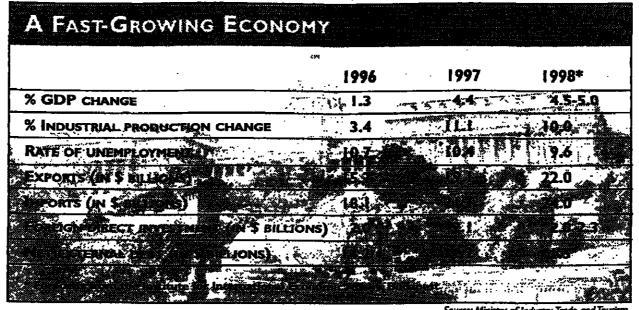

Significant strides

The presidency of the of the banks' total portfolios National Bank of —a very low percentage by Hungary was once world standards. A new, in-

The prospects for 1998 combating Hungary's rising er, points out Csaba Lantos, rates of inflation and bal-head of Hungarian operahead of Hungarian operalooning public sector in- tions at CA IB, the investdebtedness, rescuing and ment banking arm of Bank refloating its failing bank Austria. "The financial secand alleviating the rest of tor is expected to be one of the fastest-growing sectors financial sectors' manifold of the Hungarian economy over the next five years," he says. "It is considered to be says. "It is considered to be With these strong fundathe most developed one in mentals and stable ownerhe answers. "Hungary's fiof the financial sector has of the financial sector also Central and Eastern ship, what's left for Mr. Surnancial sector is becoming augmented the complexity has important ramifications Europe." Mr. Lantos has a any to do, aside from highly multifaceted, thanks of the operations involved for how monetary policies Central back up his statement, indefense against undue pubcluding the 200 percent rise lic-sector spending and ennancial services not classicguard the stability of the fitions is also part of our in the number of smart cards gaging in a bit of fine-tun- ally supplied by banks. This nancial sector as a whole. brief." • in the country over the past

Mr. Lantos's evaluation is widely shared in the oughgoing and fair-handed As a result, the presidents privatization of its banking sector. The privatization left foreign financial corporated for by OTB, the stateowned savings bank.

Another positive devel-Mr. Suranyi would seem to opment is that Hungary's be having a very easy time small and medium-sized these days. The sector over companies are finding it inwhich he presides is creasingly easy to secure healthy. In 1997, capping bank credit. Says Mr. Surthree years of steady ad- anyi: "This is thanks to an vances, the banking sector's interplay of factors: the faassets rose by a real 8 per- vorable macroeconomic The a cent after allowing for in- conditions and fierce interflation. Hungary's banks bank competitive pressures now have a collective cap- prevailing in the country ital-adequacy ratio of 16.2 and the rising profitability percent, double the 8 per- of both banks and corpocent stipulated by the Com- rations as well as the immission of Basel. Non- and provement in credit evaluunderperforming loans ac- ation and risk management count for a mere 2.6 percent techniques.

USEFUL ADDRESSES

Hungary Tourism

Margit krt. 85

H-1024 Budapest

Tel.: (36 1) 175 1682

Fax: (36 1) 175 3819

Internet: http://www.hungarytourism.hu

Ministry of Industry, Trade and Tourism

Honvéd utca 13-15

H-1880 Budapest

Tel.: (36 1) 332 2345

Fax: (36 1) 302 4546

Internet: http://www.ikm.iff.hu

National Bank of Hungary

Szabadság tér. 8-9

H-1850 Budapest

Tel.: (36 1) 302 3866

Fax: (36 1) 269 0735

Internet: http://www.mti.hu/mnb/mnbeng.htm

great deal of evidence to stoutly maintaining lines of to the burgeoning number in the NBH's exercising of are transmitted. The mon-

INVESTORS KEEP COMING BACK

The time from purchase to profit: two years.

tatistically, 1997 was an average year for foreign direct investment in Hungary. In 1997, the country secured $2.1 billion in investment, the third-highest total in the Central and East European region, and 5 percent over 1996's figure. The 1997 influx brought the country's cumulative total to $17.3 billion.

This $17.3 billion, in turn, has gone to start up or take over 30,000 Hungarian companies. These account for 78 percent of the country's industrial exports, and also for a majority of holdings in the country's utilities, automotive, telecommunications and financial service sectors.

These companies are often making money for their new owners. As a recent article in Handelsblatt, the German business daily, reported: "Foreign-owned operations in Hungary's energy sector are breaking into the black." The foreigner investors' success is especially significant because this sector was considered to be the most difficult in which to earn a profit; the country's regulatory authorities keep the prices levied for energy low.

The foreign companies had purchased their stakes in the country's energy sector in late 1995, meaning it took them a scant two years to reap an initial profit from their investment. This was just the latest instance of the "24 months from purchase to profitability" pattern already seen in the country's other main sectors of international investment.

Follow-up development

The profitability of their operations in Hungary has encouraged these foreign companies to make high-end fol-low-up investments there. These investments take the form of high-profile, advanced manufacturing and product development centers.

Following the lead of IBM, whose factory in Székesfehérvár has been turning out hard drives since 1995, Nokia started up a facility that produces monitors in Pécs in 1996. Philips followed suit in 1997. Its monitor-producing factory is located in Szombathely. These companies, in turn, have been joined by Ericsson, GE Lighting and many other international companies in establishing dedicated research centers in the country.

In April, Hungary's manufacturing sector nabbed an even bigger plum. Audi, the German producer of luxury cars, announced that it would introduce two new models: the TT coupé and roadster, designed to go head-to-head with Porsche in the luxury sports car segment. The new models will be assembled in Gyor, where Audi already manufactures engines.

"HUNGARY"

was produced in its entirety by the Advertising Department of the International Herald Tribune. It was sponsored by the Hungarian National Bank and the display advertisers. WRITER: Terry Swart:berg is a business writer based in Munich.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR: Bill Mahder.

Budapest (top) still attracts the lion's share of visitors, more of whom are staying on to visit sites like the Pannonhalma monastery, abo

LESS IS MORE FOR TOURISM INDUSTRY

Fewer day-trippers, more long-staying spenders: that's Hungarian tourism in a nutshell.

net surplus of $1 billion helped put the country's current-account balance in the black.

ERS IN THE LOW

tourist arrivals were down apest to spend a weekend in baroque cityscape 17 percent. Although much the city — or several weeks strong red wine. fewer in number, these tourists actually spent 12 percent more than in 1996. international tourists in Joined by the ongoing influx of investment capital,

1997. Combined with the flux of investment capital,

1997. Combined with the with charming small towns, their total expenditures of decline in the tourists' total of which Pannonhalma, lo-$2.5 billion — causing the number, that translates into cated 18 kilometers (11

Keeping busy What are the foreigners do-According to the World ing with the extra time they nium ago. Since then, all of urism Organization, are spending in the country? Hungary's rulers and con-"Touring the country's oththere's plan old good news in store for the tourism sector in 1998: The internation in th tor m 1998: The internaofficials. Increasing nummix of architectural styles in the process. bound, pushing the total bers of international tourists in the process. In 1997, Unooma, pushing the total expenditures figure to $2.8 have been making their way to Hungary's "other Budton to Hungary's cities with cultural, itage sites."

In the process. In 1997, Unesco included the monastery in its list of World Heritage sites.

ungary's tourism in-dustry recently re-dustry recently re-ceived a bit of seem-over from Austria for a day architectural and culinary Eastern Hungary is traditions rivaling those of largely composed of the capital. Foremost puszta, a prairie that rivals are flying into the country's among them is Eger, which modernized airport in Bud-features a wonderfully Budapest and other cities notwithstanding, Hungary is very much a rural country. tourism sector to record a a 20 percent increase in avmiles) southeast of Györ, is probably the most famous. Its mountaintop abbey was originally built by the Benedictine monks a millenmajesty. Hortobágy National Park is located in the midst of the puszta. Its 520 square kilometers (208 square acres) consists of marshes and wetlands that are home to 310 species of

M./Fac +36 52 329 117

BING IN HOUSENEST AND TO HOUSE IN. (SEN) 120-100 ETAS (SEN) 1914-1915 EIN LOWER MID (New William)

Herald Cribune SPORTS

Tonkov Wins Stage

CYCLING Pavel Tonkov of Russia edged the overall leader, Marco Pantani of Italy, by one second Wednesday to claim the 18th stage of the Tour of Italy after the race's top two riders made a late breakaway on the final climb in the Alps.

The tough, 115-kilometer (71mile) stage ended at an altitude of 1,760 meters (5,808 feet) above sea

Pantani finished second for the second straight stage and held onto the pink jersey heading into the last four days. He leads Tonkov, the 1996 Giro champion and last year's runner-up, by 27 seconds in the overall standings.

Alex Zulle of Switzerland, who had dominated the race until it headed into the mountains, lost more time Wednesday. He faltered on the final uphill pass and was fourth, 58 seconds behind Tonkov. Nicola Miceli of Italy was third. Tonkov was clocked in 3 hours, 36 minutes, 53 seconds.

Giants' Player Diagnosed

FOOTBALL LeShon Johnson, a running back acquired recently by the New York Giants, has lymph-

Doctors diagnosed the 27-yearold former Arizona Cardinal with cancer of the lymph nodes after an X-ray last month revealed a tumor in his chest, a Giants' spokesman, Pat Hanlon, said Wednesday.

'Other than what was reflected in the X-ray, there were no other symptoms," Hanlon said.

More tests are being conducted to determine whether Johnson has Hodgkin's or non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and what treatment he should get. "My doctors tell me we have a good chance to cure this," Johnson said in a statement released by the team.

The Giants signed Johnson as a tree agent in olarch. He was with the Cardinals for two seasons.(AP)

Easy Tune-Up for Brazil

SOCCER Giovanni and Rivaldo scored a minute apart in the first half and Brazil managed to win without Romario, posting an easy 3-0 victory over Andorra on Wednesday in its last international match before the World Cup.

Using Bebeto, who played the entire 90 minutes, in place of Rotiny Pyrenees nation, also getting a goal from Cafu in the 53d minute.

Giovanni gave Brazil the lead in the 26th minute and Rivaldo scored a minute later to put the four-time and defending World Cup champion in control.

The match marked the first time Brazil had played since announcing Tuesday that it would drop Romario from its World Cup team because of his inflamed calf

WORLD ROUNDUP Pioline and Corretja Reach Semis

By Christopher Clarey International Herald Tribune

PARIS - Call him foolhardy. Call him a fan of Celine Dion. But Alex Corretja says he has been spending his evenings at the French Open listening to the soundtrack from the film, "Titan-

It has been a tournament for flirting with danger, and both Corretja and the Frenchman he will face in the semifinals, Cedric Pioline, have come perilously close to sinking out of sight and contention on the crushed red brick that passes for clay at Roland Garros.

Back in the third round, Corretja needed five hours and 31 minutes before finishing off Hernan Gumy of Argentina, 9-7, in the fifth set in the longest recorded match in a Grand Slam event since the advent of the tiebreaker.

Pioline has established no historical footnotes, but he has had to win three matches in five sets to reach his first semifinal in this Grand Slam event, which is staged only a short walk from his home. On Wednesday, Pioline needed three hours and 43 minutes to eliminate Hicham Arazi, 3-6, 6-2, 7-6

"I'm going to have to work at rest-ing," said Pioline, who began tiring visibly in the fourth set but somehow found

Martina Hingis (1) vs. Monica Seles

(6) Hingis holds a 5-0 edge over the world's former No. 1 player and beat her in three sets in the semifinals last year. But she never has played Seles at her best because she did not turn professional until after Seles was knifed in the back and psyche in 1993. Seles is not the player who won Roland Garros three straight times. She is not as consistent, not as unflappable. But with a new coach and a clearer head, she appears to be rising. But Hingis, who has improved her serve and become increasingly difficult to overpower, also seems to be improving.

for volleys and chasing down Arazi's flashy left-handed groundstrokes.

It was a resourceful, emotional and mature performance; helped along by some ill-timed passivity from his Mo-roccan opponent, and the only person who might have enjoyed it more than the 16,000 French fans on Center Court was Corretja. Earlier in the day, he had silenced Filip Dewulf and his boisterons Belgian fan club by the considerably less enervating score of 7-5, 6-4, 6-3. Fresh legs are a precious commodity in the final phase of Roland Garros, and

THE FRENCH OPEN

Corretja's, though weary, cannot be as worn out as Pioline's. The 45th-ranked Arazi, who was raised near Paris and also reached the quarterfinals here last year, counter-punched and passed brilliantly at certain points in the marathon match. He has undeniable flair, and if Pioline had not managed to save two set points with an ace and an acrobatic backhand overhead

Slam semifinal. But in the final set, he failed to capitalize on five break points on Pioline's serve and lost his own serve at 2-3 with

Lindsay Davenport (2) vs. Arantxa

Sanchez Vicario (5) Davenport's run here has been a tribute to the power of negative thinking: The likable American didn't like her chances on clay when she arrived. But she is now in her third consecutive Grand Slam semifinal. Her chances of finally winning one depend on her ability to bully

Sanchez Vicario with her powerful groundstrokes and, above all, to cover court against a player who runs for a living and is in superb condition.

Sanchez Vicario has already won here twice. She also holds a 6-2 career edge over Davenport.

Women's Semifinals on Thursday

in the third set, Arazi might well have become the first Moroccan in a Grand enough energy in the fifth to keep lunging a loose game that inspired him to fling his racket onto the clay.

At least he did not fling it in the direction of the chair umpire's head, as Gustavo Kuerten of Brazil did Tuesday night in a doubles match. (Kuerten, who was immediately defaulted, was fined a total of $7,000 on Wednesday for his dangerous gesture; he also apologized). But though Arazi kept his temper in check, he could not manage to keep taking risks. His flamboyant tennis was oddly muted in the final games.

Whether or not the 28-year-old Pioline can leap past Corretja on Friday, he already has accomplished something potentially more difficult by becoming a crowd favorite at home. The French like their politicians and other public figures to pay their dues, and Pioline has now paid his. His slightly round shoulders and ungainly shuffle of a walk project disinterest, but when the ball is in play, he is a world-class mover who poss one of the sport's great backhands and is nearly as adept at the net as he is from the baseline. His lunging backhand drop-volley winner in the final game against Arazi was a case in point.
Unlike his runs to the 1993 U.S. Open final and 1997 Wimbledon final, neither of which were shown on free French television, Pioline's performances here have been broadcast on the country's public networks and in hours flirting with prime time. Approximately 9 million French viewers watched the end of his five-set victory over Marat Safin in the fourth round. What his fellow citizens have seen is a natural introvert finally letting his enthusiasm show.

It is unclear what the 14th-seeded Corretia and his fellow Barcelona residents can do to become bigger heroes at home. Corretja's victory over Dewulf made him the third Spaniard to reach the semifinals.
Two other members of the so-called Armada, the No. 12 seed Carlos Moya and the No. 15 seed Felix Mantilla, won their quarterfinals on Tuesday.

It is the first time in any Grand Slam event that three Spaniards have advanced this far, and the first time one country has had three players in the semifinals at Roland Garros since 1980 when Harold Solomon, Vitas Gerulaitis and Jimmy Connors of the United States reached that stage.

Cedric Pioline celebrating his victory over Hicham Arazi on Wednesday.

"I'm surprised we're not four Spaniards in the semifinals," Corretja said, referring to his close friend Alberto Berasategui, who had played well on clay all season but lost steam here because of a muscle pull and was beaten by Arazi.

Spanish success at this event is hardly a novelty. Sergi Bruguera won the French Open in 1993 and 1994, defeating Berasategui in the 1994 final But tennis remains of minor interest to Spaniards, whose passion for soccer knows few bounds.

転車(_--

-- ئىساسا يەنسى

Tre Cally Tare

emex -

anienie.

Risek.

15000 SEE - er the

Claris Sings

DENNIS TE TO THE

"I just hope the Spanish people appreciate what this means," Correta

Rodman Gets His Marching Orders for Utah: Control Malone

By Selena Roberts New York Times Service

SALT LAKE CITY - Dennis Rodman sauntered into the Delta Center and stood before everyone like a neon sign. No wonder Las Vegas is such a lure for him. He can hear the dice rolling from the shadows of the Wasatch Mountains here

'With Vegas being so close, you can't control his appetite for it," Michael Jordan said Tuesday before the Bulls practiced for Game I of the NBA finals Wednesday against the Jazz. "I can't tell Dennis not to be Dennis. You just have to ask him to be Dennis on the court.

NBA FINALS

This has been Rodman's problem when the court is occupied by Karl Malone. Rodman has been unable to slip around Malone's shadow for rebounds, incapable of nudging him outside his range and hard-pressed to stay out of foul trouble.

36 27 621 35 24 573 27 30 474 24 34 414 19 39 328

eder (3), Small (5), Moh

tional Basketball Association's championship series last year.

So Rodman created drama off the court by darting off to Nevada and by throwing darts at the Mormons. "I feel like I'm home," Rodman said. 'It's good to be back.''

But this is not like last year, when the Bulls had DIIZI Williams. He is not there to save the Bulls this year. He's with the Pistons. It's up to Rodman to make Malone work for his shots in what has always been a difficult matchup for the Bulls' jumpy forward. It seems Rodman's usual blend of elbows and mind blows ricochet off Malone's vault-like frame. It is tough to get under the skin of a man who appears stuffed with boulders, and harder to sneak inside the head of player wise enough to ignore you.

'I watch some of the things Dennis does to other players," Malone said after the Jazz's practice, 'And it seems like a lot of the young players want to show him how tough they are. I just take this approach: Play the game. I've seen it all. I've heard

His ineffectiveness was obvious during the Na- it all. I've done half of it. I also realize for us to win points and 9 rebounds for the series. a championship, I can't allow someone to take me

Rodman failed in this attempt to divert Malone's game during last year's finals. Malone simply walked away from Rodman's act, leaving the spring-filled forward crestfallen with a frustrating 23 points and 7.7 rebounds a game. In turn, suffed out his Popeye and 10.3 rebounds a game. But Rodman's disappearance was not catastrophic. Williams was there in the low post, shadowing Malone on the fast break and keeping him occupied underneath.

Now Rodman will be asked to do the same. The Bulls need him to limit Malone just enough to keep them from having to send two men to him, which would open up the three-point opportunities for Bryon Russell and Jeff Hornacek.

Malone altered the regular-season outcome for the Jazz as Utah won both games this season against the Bulls. He averaged 32.5 points and 9.5 rebounds in two games. Rodman came up with 2

But Rodman is not ready to spew credit Malone's way. Instead, he continued his tirade on officials Tuesday. "It's hard to guard Malone," he said. "Tust the slightest touch, and you get called for a foul."

In the Bulls' series with the Pacers, Rodman attributed the rebounding success of Antonio Davis and Dale Davis to the officials, too. After av eraging 16 rebounds a game in the first two rounds of the playoffs, his output fell to an average of 9.9 against the Pacers in the conference finals.

Part of Rodman's angst was over his in-and-off role in the starting lineup. Toni Kukoc was the choice of the Bulls' coach, Phil Jackson, to start with a favorable matchup against the Pacers. This time, with Malone posing such a menacing presence, Jackson is leaning toward making Rodman his starter.

Rodman realizes what kind of pressure is on him. "I have to stop Malone," he said. "I have @ limit him to 18 or 20 points a game, and not give him 35. It's time to roll. And not make excuses."

SCOREBOARD

BASEBALL

MAJOR LEAGUE STANDINGS

Minnesolu 222 187 002-10 15 1
Candiorii, Teigheder (3), Small (5), Mohler (7), T. J.Mathews (8) and Hinch Serofini, Guardado (7), Noulty (9) and Jv.Volentin,
W—Serofini, I-0. L.—Condiorit, 4-4.
HRs—Odklond, Henderson (4), Minnesolu,
P. Meares (3),
Sertile 203 002 800 1-8 12 2
Baltimore C20 410 000 2-9 11 9
(10) innings):Moyer, Spolipark (6), Stocumb (8), Ayala (10) and Marzane, Drabek, Rhodes (6), Orosco (8), A. Benthez (9),
Charlton (10) and Welsher, W—Charlton, I-1.
L.—Ayala, 0-5. HRs—Seatitle, A. Rodriguez (21), Griffery Jr 2 (21). Baltimore,
By.Anderson (7), R. Polmeiro (14), Surhorfi (9), C. Ripken (5).
Cleveland 120 000 31—8 15 1
Detroit O00 120 000-3 6 1
Button, Assemmecher (8), M. Jockson (9) and 5. Alonato J.Thompson, Worrell (6),
To_Lones (9), Runyan (9) and J. Oliver,
W—Burba, 7-4. L.—J. Thompson, Worrell (6),
To_Lones (9), Runyan (9) and J. Oliver,
W—Burba, 7-4. L.—J. Thompson, 3-6.
HR—Detroit, Ta.Clark (8).
Tassus Bay 000 120 000-3 9 0
With Levine (6), Baltes (7), X. Hernandez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Johnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Lohnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Lohnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Lohnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9) and DiFetilo, W—Wet, 5-3, L.—J. Lohnson, Santama (2), Reebel (5), A. Lopez (8), Mecir (9), Republicond (9), Republ

Buying WORLD CUP TICKETS All Matches Top $ Paid France 06.14.93.36.06 Int'l +33.6.14.93.36.03

WORLD CUP TICKETS WANTED ALL MATCHES FRANCE Tel 33 (0) 6 14 5 1 46 20 33 (0) 6 14 51 46 23

postero 904 100 051—11 11 0 promto 921 990 060—3 8 1 Avery, Garces (6), Barkley (8) and offichers; Corpenter, VanRyn (8), Hartson 0 and Datesandro. W—Avery, 2-1.—Carpenter, 1-2. HRS—Boskin, parciaparta (7), O'Leany (13), Brogg (4), Strike, Boskin, arciaparta (7), O'Leany (13), Brogg (4), Strike, Boskin, arciaparta (7), O'Leany (13), Brogg (4), Strike, Boskin, arciaparta (7), O'Leany (14), Brogg (4), Strike, Bosking (7), O'Lean (7), Brogg (4), Strike, Bosking (7), Brogg (4), Mills 1'4 84 Chicago UTO 101 000—3 7 2
New York 160 040 16x—6 11 1
Strollus Fordhom (7) and O'Briery D. Wells,
M. Rivero (9) and Posado. W.—D. Wells, 9-1.
L.—Strollus, 6-5. St.—M. Rivera (11).
HRs—Chicago, Belle 2 (13), Cardero (7).
New York. D. Jeter (3), Christi (5).
Anachesia 116 830 620—7 11 3
Kansas Chy 916 980 913—5 5 2
Washburn. Del.ucia (7), P. Harts (8), Holiz (8), Hasegowa (7), Percival (9) and Nevis, Walbeck (7); Haney, Přitsley (6). Bevil (7), Service (9), Whisenpart (9) and Fassono.
MLSweenoy (9). W—Washburn. 1-0. L.—
Haney, 3-4. Sv—Parcival (16). HRs—Anoheirs, Solmon (12), Baughman (1).

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Floridu 000 108 980—1 8 0
Chicago 900 901 907—2 5 8
Macdows, F. Heredia (9). J. Powell (9) and Zouts M. Crart, T. Adarus (9) and Servols.
W—T. Adarus, 4-3. L.—F. Heredia, 0-3.
HR—Chicago, B.Brown (5).
Montred 903 900 810—4 10 1
Philadelphia 001 001 108—3 4 0
Pavana, M. Barisha (8), Kline (8), Urbina (9) and Widger, Schilling and Lieberthol
W—Pavara, 1-0. L.—Schilling, 5-6. Su—Urbina (13). HR.—Philadelphia, S. Rolen (12).
New York 110 900 000—2 7 1
Pittsburgh 100 130 000—3 7 0
Yoshi, Boharan (3), Hudek (6), Cook (7),
McMichael (8) and Pizzar Peters, 1-3.
L.—Babarron, 2-2. Sw—Rincon (5), HR.—New York, Huskey (7).
Affonto 100 010 190-3 6 1 323 181 00x-10 15 1

York Huskey (7).
Allomba 928 129 940—9 12 0
Milwester 900 995 990—0 12 0
De.Martinez and J. Lopez P. Wagnet, Patrick (5). Woodall (7). M.Myers,
W—De.Martinez, 2-2. L.—P.
Wagnet, 1-4. HRs.—Allomb, Galamaga 2 (21). A. Jones (9).
Arthona 022 318 010-9 14 1
Calorado 102 000 000-3 5 1
Br. Anderson, R. Springer (7), F. Rodriguez
(9) and Stimarts Jm. Wright, Murroz (5), Veres (6), Walsthouse (8) and Marswaring.
W-Br. Aydorson, A. C. L.- Jan. Wright, 4-6.
HRS-Artzona, M. Williams (11), K.Garcia
Gl. Calorado, N. Pener (3), Creditin (21)

(A). Son Francisco. D. Hearlifton (1).

Neusise 000 918 300—4 18 0

Son Diego 161 180 008—3 8 1

Reynolds. B. Wagner (7) and Euseble, Ausmus (9): Langston. C.Reyes (6), Boeluringer (7), Micell (8) and G. Myers.

W—Reynolds, 6-3. L—C. Reyes. 2-2. Sv—B.

Wagner (15). HRs—Houston, Bagwell (8).

Son Diego, G. Vaughn (18). AMERICAN LEAGUE LEADERS

G AB R H Avg.

IRodríguez Tex 52 265 39 77 376

Tyloliker Min 41 159 31 58 365

Segul Sea 53 205 35 71 346

BWIRkans NYY 52 201 40 69 243

Broskus NYY 52 201 40 69 243

Broskus NYY 52 203 52 74 205

Easley Det 52 194 36 63 205

Stohrs Ook 47 160 29 52 205

McCrocken TB 56 229 29 74 203

Chiefi NYY 51 212 34 68 321

RUNS—D. Jeler, New York, 52 Griffey Jr.

Seaffle, 51 Gdérey Ocisional, 46: A.

Rodriguez, Seaffle, 46: Durhom, Chicaga, 45:

Loriron, Cleveland, 43: Thome Circueland, 42: Knobbauch, New York, 43.

RBI—JuGonzolez, Texas, 72: Griffey Jr.

Seaffle, 52: Easley, Detroit, 47: A. Rodriguez,

Seaffle, 54: Thome, Cleveland, 46: O. Hell,
New York, 44 Belle, Chicaga, 43: R.

Palanetra Baifmane 43.

HITS—I. Rodriguez, Seaffle, 71: Enstud.

Anoheim, 72: Segul, Seaffle, 71: JuGonzalez,

Texas, 77:

McCrocken, Tampa Brz, 74: D. Jeter, New York, 74: A. Rodríguez, Seaffle, 71: Enstud.

Anoheim, 72: Segul, Seaffle, 71: JuGonzalez,

Texas, 72:

Thome, Cavelond, 22: Justica, Cleveland, 21:

E. MosTinez, Seaffle, P. Edmonds, Anglreim,

Mercker, Frascatore (8), Brantley (7) and Pagnazzi: Dreifort, Bruske (8), Rath (7) and

C. Sulmant, W—Wercker, S.A. C—Dreimin, S-S. SV—Bromfley (9). HRS—St. Louis, B. Jordon (9). Los Angeles, C.Johnson (10). Cincinati 200 004 460—2 6 T San Francisco 100 021 00m—4 8 3

Winchestor, G. White (6), Groves (6), Belinda (7) and Taubensee: Darwin, S. Reed (7), R. Rodriguer (8), Nert (9) and Mayne. W—Darwin, S-3. L—Winchester, 3-3. Sv—Nen (15). HRs—Cincignati, Taubensee

14.

STOLEN BASES—7. Goodwin, Tgazz, 22; Henderson, Dakkand. 22; Canseco, Torombo, 17; B. L.Humter, Detroil. 16; Laffon, Cievokund, 16; Knobleuch, New York, 13; Stewart, Taromba, 14; D. Jefer, New York, 14.

PITCHING (7 Decisions)—D. Wells, New York, 7-1, 889, 425; Cone, New York, 7-1, 875, 5-59; P. Martinez, Boston, 6-1, 857, 2.63; Helling, Texas, 7-2, J78, 4,73; Nogy, Cleveland, 7-2, J78, 5,71; W. Williams, Toromb, 6-2, J50, 2.66; Wokefield, Boston, 6-2, J50, 4,57; Rogers, Ouddand, 6-2, J50, 3,76. R. Jahnson, Seattle, 100; C. Finley, Angheim, 88: Calon, Cleveland, 70; D. Wells, New York, 69: Clemens, Toronto, 69: Erickson, Batteriore, 68. SAVES—Gordon, Boston, 19: Percival, Andrelm 16: Wolfeland, Texas, 14: Rahlyers, Toronto, 13: M. Jackson, Cloyeland, 12: M. Rivert, New York, 11; R. Hernandez, Yompa Boy, 11.

City, 5: Gorclaparra. Baston. 4: Damon. Kansos City, 4: D. Jeter, New York. 4: G. Anderson. Annheim. 4: Green, Texas, 4: Latton, Cleveland. 4. HOME RUNS—A. Radriguez, Secritte, 21: Griffey J. Seattle, 21: J. (Controller Towns 17:

Boy, 11.

NATIONAL LEAGUE LEADERS

G AB R H Avg.

Clerud NYM S3 173 27 64 370

Blordon Stl. 47 180 33 66 367

Gwynn SD SJ 194 33 70 361

Taubensee Ch 52 180 29 64 336

Alou Hou 54 192 31 67 349

Kendoll Pirt 53 195 35 67 344

Sosa ChC 54 213 41 73 343

Sosa ChC 54 213 41 73 343

Chlones All 59 222 50 76 342

Morandini ChC 53 192 35 65 339

RUNS—Chlones, Atlanta, Str. Golomoga, Atlanta, Str. Blogia, Hoiston, 49 Chanville, Philadelphile, 46 McGwtn, St. Louis, 46 L.

Wolker, Colorado, 44 Mueller, Son Francisco, 42

Milmoulee. 4: Alou, Houston, 4: 5. Honey, Son Diego, A. HOME RUNS—McGwire, St. Louis, 27; Casifilia Colorada, 21; Galarraga, Alfantia, 21; G. Vrugin, Son Diego, 18; Chilores, Altantia, 14: Sosa, Chicaga, 15; Mandest, Los Angeles, 14; Bonds, Son Francisco, 14. STOLEN BASES—Ectrourg, Los Angeles, 22: Wontock, Philisburgh, 20; Biggla, Houston, 20; Rentheia, Florida, 16; Stynes, Conformati, 14; D. eShields, St. Louis, 13; R. White, Montreol, 12; Claylon, St. Louis, 12; B. Loride, Cincinnati, 12.

12.
PITCHING (7 Decisions)—Schmidt Pittsburgh, 9-1, 329, 3-59; Tredreet, Chicago, 6-1, 387, 3-37; G. Maddux, Allanta, 8-2, 300, 7-8; Wileyson, Allanta, 7-2, 778, 3-38; Hompton, Houston, 7-2, 778, 2-52; Neogle, Allanta, 7-2

Houston, 7-2, J78, 2.52; Neogle, Alternio, 7-2, J78, 2.13.
378, 2.01; Glavine, Asianto, 7-2, J78, 2.14.
STRUKEGUTS—Schläng, Präudelphia, 12s; Stotflentyre, 5t. Louis, 88; Waod, Chicago, 85; R. Akarinez, Los Angeles, 74; Norro, Los Angeles, 73; Raymolis, Houston, 73; K. Brown, San Dioga, 73; SAVES—Hoffman, Son Diego, 14; Share, Cincinnali, 14; B. Wagner, Houston, 15; Next, San Francisco, 15; Beck, Chicago, 15; Urbins, Mantred, 12; Dipota, Coloroda, 12; J. Franco, New York, 12.

JAPANESE LEAGUES

CENTRAL LEAGUE Selbu vs. Nippon Hom. ppd., roln Orb vs. Kintetsu, ppd., roln

HOCKEY NHL PLAYOFFS

Washington 1 0 0—1 First Period: B-Shannon 2 (Ward) 2, W., Nikolishin 1 (Zedalk) (pp). Second Period: None. Third Period: B-Woolley 2, Shots on goth: B-6-2-8—16, W. 7-13-15—35, Goalies: B-Hosek, W.Kabig. (Washington loads series 2-2)

CRICKET NEW ZEALAND VS. SRI LANKA SECOND TEST, 1ST DAY

CYCLING

GIRO D'ITALIA Leading finishers in the 18th stage of the Sire d'Italia over 115 kms from Selva di Val

Giro d'Italia over 115 lens from Selva di Val Gardena on Wedneschay:

1. Povel Tentov, Russia, Mapel, 3 hours 36 minutes and 33 seconds; 2. Marco Pantani, ludy, Mercytone Urra, 1 second behindt 3. Nicola Micell, fulty, Riso Scotti, 444 4. Alex Zulla, Switzerland, Festina, 58; 5. Gioseppe Guerini, Italy, Polit. 1:07; 6. Occar Comerciand, Switzerland, Mapel, 1:15; 7. Polo Betfini, Italy, Asica, 2:00; 8. Daniel Clovera, Spoin, Vitalicla, 2:15; 9. Andrea Noe, Italy, Asica, s.1; 10. Francesco Seccident, Italy, Scripna, 2:27. overall, 1:37, Andrea Noe, Italy, Corpon, 2:27. seconds behind: 3. Guerini, 1:47; 4. Zulle, 2:06; 5. Comenzind, 5:37; 6. Micell, 6:07; 7. Clovera, 11:59; 8. Betfini, 13:10; 9. Luis Ru-biera, Spoin, Kelme, 13:22; 10, Serguel Gonichar, Ulsraine, Cardina Tolio, 15:28.

SOCCER Yugoslavia 1, Japan 0 Bazil 3. Andorra 0

TENNIS FRENCH OPEN FIDNESDAY RESULTS

OUANTERFRALS

Alex Corretjo (14), Spoin, def. Filip Denviii, Belgium, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3. Cedric Pioline, France, def. Hicham Arazi, Morocco, 3-6, 6-2, 7-6 (8-

TRANSITIONS

BASSEALL

BALTIMORE—Signed RHP Scott Toylor to minor-league contract. ALY YANKSES—Called up RHP Orlando Hernandez from Columbus, IL Optioned RHP Todd Erdos to Columbus.

RHH Todd Erdos to Columbus.

MATIONAL LEAGUE

ARIZONA—Bought contract of C Tom
Wilson from Tucson, PCL. Designated RHP
Scott Brow for assignment.
CHICAGO—Bought contract of 2B Kevin Castleberry from New Jersey. NL and assigned him to West Tennessee. SL.
FLORIDA—Armounced LHP Chris Hammond retused assignment to Charlotte. If,
and has become free agent.
PHILADSLIPHIA—Signed RHP Hut Smith
ond assignate him to Reading. EL.

overde.

CAROLINA_Released OL Greg Skrepenak.

Re-signed WR Raghib Israell. Signed DB MB choel Swift.

Choci Swift.
CHICAGO—Released LB Bryon Car.
CHICAGO—Released LB Bryon Car.
GREEN BAY—Signed RB Chris McCo
Wolved WR Deforte Perkins.
OAKLAND—Signed RB Randy Jordan.
ST. LDUIS—Released LB Robert Jones.
Mockery
NATIONAL MCKERY LEAGUE
LOS ANGELES—Re-eigned RW Russ Council to 1-year contract.

LIVE - Tennis - French Open - Quarter Finals

tune in today

14.00 (CET)

Eurosport, Europe's No.1 Sports TV Channel, available on cable and satellite

SPORTS

صكذا من الاعل

Woolley Saves Sabres

Hasek Assists, as Buffalo Forces Game 6

By Tarik El-Bashir New York Times Service

WELL HOW ! 1969

The Park of

Selection of the select

::::

- WASHINGTON — The Buffalo Sabres, sixth-place finishers in their conference and 23 years removed from their only appearance in the Stanley Cup finals, averted another elimination from the playoffs Tuesday night and kept their championship hopes flickering.

The Sabres defeated the Washington Capitals, 2-1, at the MCI Center in Game 5 of the Eastern Conference finals. By winning, the Sabres cut the

NHL PLAYOFFS

Capitals' lead to three games to two, forcing the four-of-seven-game series back to Buffalo for a sixth game Thurs-

Jason Woolley, a former draft pick of the Capitals, kept the Sabres' season going with a brilliant unassisted goal that broke a 1-1 tie with 4 minutes, 26 seconds left to play in the third period.

Two more victories and the Sabres will have provided another stunning notch to their season by reaching the final round for the first time since the 1974-75 season, which is the season the Capitals began play in the National Hockey League. Two more victories, and Buffalo will be looking to add either the Dallas Stars or the defending cham-pion Detroit Red Wings to its list of playoff victims this season

After both teams scored in first period Tuesday night, neither team was able to score in the second period and for most of the third. Dominik Hasek would not allow the Capitals to score, and the Sabres just couldn't - until Woolley split the Capitals' defense, skated in alone on Olaf Kolzig and put the puck between the goalie's pads.

The only reason the Sabres were even in a position to win the game so late in the third period was the heroics of their goaltender, Hasek, who made 34 saves in what was his best game of the tour-

 Hasek, who poked fun at himself at practice Sunday, taping a sign to his back that read "Swiss cheese," was

DENNIS THE MENACE

"Y'KNOW WHAT'S GOOD ABOUT COMPUTER GAMES? YOU DON'T HAFTA PICK EM UP WHEN YOU'VE FINISHED."

YORPET

stellar Tuesday. After allowing two soft goals in Game 4, one from 70 feet out, Hasek was spectacular in doing what he does best - stealing a game with timely saves. His heroics in the second and third periods kept a lifeless Sabres team in the game.

In the third period, with the score tied, 1-1, Hasek stopped the Capitals' sniper, Peter Bondra, on a clean breakaway for the second time in the game. Then he stuffed Adam Oates's wraparound attempt, the second time Hasek stopped Oates from point-blank range.

When the momentum in this series shifted to Washington on Saturday in Buffalo, so did the pressure to win, for both teams. The Sabres' Game 4 loss at home put them down, 3-1; it meant they were no longer expected to come back. Suddenly, the onus fell on the Capitals. Now they had to close the deal. But Washington has been in this position many times. And yes, there was a large bone stuck in the team's throat in those past series. Five times the Capitals had taken a two-game lead in a playoff series. Three of those times they led by three games to one but choked, failing to win the series. The game Tuesday was their first chance, and maybe their best, to put away the Sabres.

At the other end of the ice was a team that had already accomplished more than expected. After qualifying as the sixth-seeded team in the Eastern Conference, the Sabres beat a very talented Philadelphia Flyers team in the first round. They followed that upset with a sweep of the Montreal Canadiens.

The Sabres got the game's first break. Darryl Shannon scored on a weak shot from the top of the left circle that somehow got behind Kolzig. It gave the Sabres a 1-0 lead 6:33 into the game. Kolzig never saw the puck as it went through a maze of sticks and skates before sneaking through his pads. Andrei Nikolishin's power-play goal at 16:29 tied the score at 1.

Nikolishin intercepted an errant pass as he skated hard to the net. With the puck on his stick, and no one between him and Hasek, Nikolishin put the puck through on the short side.

PEANUTS

GARFIELD

RATS! I DIDN'T MAKE

THE HONOR ROLL!

The Sabres' goalie, Dominik Hasek, stopping a shot by the Capitals' Chris Simon in Game 5 of the Eastern Conference finals in Washington.

MOUSIE-BLAH

MAKE THE HONOR ROLL

HAIR, YOU NEVER

Minnesota's Paul Molitor sliding in safe to thwart Oakland's catcher A.J. Hinch. The Twins triumphed, 10-3.

Palmeiro Puts Orioles Over Mariners

The Associated Press

Rafael Palmeiro hit his second gamewinning homer in as many games, a two-run shot in the 10th inning that carried the Orioles past the Seattle Mariners, 9-8, in Baltimore.

Palmeiro connected off Bobby Ayala (0-5) Tuesday night after Harold Baines opened the inning with a single. Ken Griffey Jr. had given Seattle the lead in the top of the ninth with his second homer of the game, a solo drive off Norm Charlton (1-1)

Palmeiro's 14th homer marked yet another collapse by Seattle's weak bullpen and ended a second straight slugfest between the teams, who combined for eight homers Monday night in the Orioles' 10-9 victory.

Griffey had three hits, including a three-run homer and his 21st of the season in the 10th. Alex Rodriguez hit his 21st homer for the Mariners, who have a team-record 13 homers in their last three games and a major league best

Angels 7, Royals 5 Four beanballs and two bench-clearing brawls led to 12 burg, Florida, Luis Alicea and Will ejections in Anaheim's victory over host Kansas City.

Seven players, both managers and three coaches were ejected in the AL's second ugly incident in recent weeks. A fight between the New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles on May 19 resulted in five suspensions. Twins 10, Athletics 3 In Minneapolis, Dan Serafini won in his first appearance of the season, and Otis Nixon and Brent Gates had four hits each for Minnesota. Serafini, recalled from the minors on May 27, allowed three runs and five hits in 6¾ innings.

AL ROUNDUP

Indians 8, Tigers 3 In Detroit, David Justice broke out of a slump with four hits, and Manny Ramirez hit a two-run double as Cleveland got its seventh victory in eight games.

Dave Burba continued Cleveland's recent stretch of strong starting pitching with seven solid innings.

Nomar Garciaparra and Darren Bragg each hit three-run homers as Boston won its fourth straight.

when he broke a 5-5 tie with a two-run homer off Randy Myers in the ninth, homered in the fourth to give the Red fifth inning.

Real Quiet Turns Down Volume Before Belmont Race

By Bill Christine Los Angeles Times Service

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky — A year ago, there was high drama, with a few hearts aflutter. Silver Charm, working out for the upcoming Belmont Stakes after winning the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, almost collided with an-other horse at Churchill Downs.

This time, Tuesday was a routine day for trainer Bob Baffert, who will be back Saturday at Belmont Park to try a Triple Crown sweep with Real Quiet. It's a $5 million assignment that Silver Charm could not pull off last year.

With exercise rider Dana Barnes aboard for Real Quiet's final workout before the Belmont, and Baffert and Mike Pegram, the owner, watching from the box seats at Churchill, Rea Quiet worked five furlongs in 1:01 and galloped out six furlongs in 1:13 3/5.

The five-furlong workout was slower than Real Quiet's time last week, but Baffert said that was intentional.

"He went nice and easy," said Baf-fert, who monitors his horses' workouts with a two-way radio that connects him to the rider, "We were afraid he might go too fast. I slowed her down. I didn't want to do too much, because we're sitting very good. The horse would have wanted to go 0:58 and change. We let him do just enough to keep the tank full."

Baffert described Real Quiet as being "full of himself" going to the starting pole. "That's what we wanted to see," he said.

After Real Quiet's workout, Baffert yelled over to Pegram, a few boxes away:
"Michael, he looks good, my man."
Pegram yelled back: "I'm down on the AL in fielding with 50 errors, hurt the future book, so he was already looking good. Real Quiet will try to add the Belmont to his Derby and Preakness wins and become the 12th Triple Crown champion and the first since Affirmed in 1978. The $17,000 yearling purchase will be flown to New York on Wednesday. Baffert is cockier for this Belmont than be was with Silver Charm, who did not bounce back well from the rigors of his first two Triple Crown races. "I don't see a horse in there that can outrun him," Baffert said of Real Quiet. "If we get beat; it'll be by racing luck. We're better off than last year, because that was a better field. I think we've got only one horse to beat - Victory Gallop.

Victory Gallop, winner of the Arkansas Derby, finished second in both Triple Crown races, losing by a halflength in the Kentucky Derby and by 21/4 lengths in the Preakness. Victory Gallop's training had been compromised by a large body rash last week, but trainer responded to treatment and the colt will be ready to run. Walden, however, will go to the Belmont on crutches, the result of a broken ankle he suffered while playing in a basketball game last week.

A field of 12 horses might run. Besides Victory Gallop and Real Quiet, others include Classic Cat, Hot Wells, Thomas Io, Limit Out, Hanuman Highway, Parade Ground, Raffie's Majesty, Basic Trainee and trainer Wayne Lukas's pair of Grand Slam and Yarrow Brae.

According to Lukas' barn, Grand Slam might be entered when post positions are drawn Thursday, and the decision to run will be made the morning of the race.

Martinez Ties Marichal's Pitching Record to get his first major-league victory as

Dennis Martinez tied Juan Marichal

as the winningest Latin American pitcher in baseball history, scattering 12 hits in a shutout as the Atlanta Braves defeated the Brewers, 9-0, in Milwaukee. Andres Galarraga homered twice night and Andruw Jones homered and hit two triples for At-

With both teams wearing baggy replica uniforms from the 1950s, the 43year-old Martinez (2-2) got his 243d victory by going the distance for the first time since May 26, 1996. The righthander walked one and struck out three in his 30th career shutout and 122d complete game.

In a 22-year career including stints with Baltimore, Montreal, Cleveland, Seattle and Atlanta, Martinez has a 243-

Expos 4, Phillies 3 In Philadelphia, Carl Pavano pitched 71/2 strong innings

FOR EIGHT GENERATIONS

NO ONE IN OUR FAMILY

HAS EVER MADE THE HONOR ROLL..

Montreal snapped a three-game losing streak. Pavano (1-0) allowed three runs and four hits in only his third majorleague start.

Pirates 5, Mets 2 Kevin Young hit a tiebreaking three-run triple to finally make Chris Peters a winner over the Mets. Peters (1-3) allowed two runs on with 27 home runs. four hits over five innings to end a career-long five-game losing streak against the Mets.

NL ROUNDUP

Cube 2, Marlins 1 In Chicago, pinch-hitter Jason Hardtke singled home the winning run in the ninth as Florida dropped its seventh straight. Diamondbacks 9, Rockies 3 David Dellucci went 4-for-4 and had three RBIs, and Matt Williams and Karim Garcia each homered as Arizona drubbed Colorado in Denver.

THEY ALL HAD

MOUSIE-BLAH

HAIR ..

hit a two-out, three-run homer off reliever Jim Bruske in the eighth inning, giving St. Louis a victory over the Dodgers in Los Angeles. The Cardinals, who snapped a three-

Clark homered and Bobby Witt won for ning with a three-run homer off Jason

a three-run homer after some sloppy fielding by the White Sox, and New York overcame Albert Belle's two home runs to beat Chicago at Yankee David Wells (8-1) won his eighth straight decision. Paul O'Neill also homered as the Yankees beat Chicago for the 10th time in their last 11 meetings. The White Sox, who rank last in themselves with a pair of misplays in the Red Sox 11, Blue Jays 3 In Toronto,

Garciaparra, the hero Monday night

Alicea finished a six-run second in-see 6, White Sox 3 Derek Jeter hit the first time in three weeks.

Johnson (2-3).

Stadium.

game losing streak, played without Mark McGwire, who Giants 4, Reds 2 In San Francisco,

Darryl Hamilton hit his first homer of the season and Danny Darwin pitched 63/3 strong innings as the Giants won their fifth straight game.

Darwin (5-3) settled down after giving up a two-run homer to Eddie Taubensee in the first, holding the Reds scoreless on two hits over the next 51/3 innings.

Astros 4, Padres 3 Tony Eusebio hit a two-run single in the seventh when San Diego relievers were hurt by walks, and Houston rallied to beat the host Padres. Shane Reynolds (6-3) gave up three runs and eight hits in eight innings.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

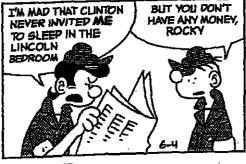

WIZARD of ID

NON SEQUITUR

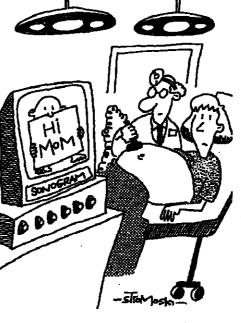

DOONESBURY

NO BUTTHAT SILVER

THAT AFTERNOON SHADON CROSSING ACROSSING BROOK, or representative.

FEVER NOOM FEMEST

VAN to bought to year.—

ART BUCHWALD

That's Some Catch

wrote a classic war novel titled "Catch-22." The story had to do with a bomb squadron in Italy.

Anyone who is crazy does not have to fly the dangerous bombing missions. But if you say you don't want to fly the missions, then obviously you are sane, so you have to fly them_ Catch-22 has become part of the English lan-

I thought of it the other day when I read that the Supreme Court ruled you can't execute a killer if he is insane. You can kill him only if he is sane. So the object of the state is to cure the man so they can kill

I am not making this up. The court ruled, 7 to 2, that killing someone by lethal injection when he doesn't have his wits about him is cruel and unusual punishment. The

Two New Treasures Unearthed in Rome

New York Times Service ROME - Italian archaeologists drilling near an ancient fresco that was recently unearthed in Rome have stumbled upon two new treasures: a striking mosaic and another detailed fresco thought to be 2,000 years

The discoveries were made at the Trajan Baths in the city's historic center, near the fresco depicting a bird's-eye view of the city that was discovered in March.

WASHINGTON — My mission of the state is to get friend Joseph Heller the psychiatrists to work on the psychiatrists to work on Ramon Martinez-Villareal's

Let us go to the death chamber where Ramon is sitting in his cell surrounded by psychiatrists.

"Ramon, we're asking you to be reasonable."

'Babble, babble, babble," "You're pretending you're insane just because you want to live. We all know you're faking it."

"Babble, babble, babble." "Ramon, why won't you take your medicine? This is the latest pill for schizo-phrenia, and it has been successful in 60 percent of our cases. Just try it. It doesn't have any side effects."

'Babble, babble, babble.'' 'If something bothers you tell us. We wish to hear about it. We don't want you to go to heaven with any anxiety. Babble.

Oh, come off it, Ramon. You're just a spoiled mur-derer who is refusing to pay your debt to society. Would you be averse to taking elec-tric shock? If it works, then we can get this silly business over with."

"Babble, babble, babble and more babble."

"Oh, shut up. If you keep babbling we're going to re-port you to the warden, and he'll put you on bread and

"Obscenity. "I think he's got it. By Jove, he's got it. Now repeat after me. The rain in Spain is mainly on the plain.

'Cock a doodle doo." "Well, he had it a minute ago. As far as I'm concerned. you're a lot saner than you

The Cross-Channel Feud: A World Cup of Insults

By Sarah Lyall New York Times Service

ONDON - It is an exercise familiar to the millions of readers of Britain's populist tabloids. In times of national anxiety about their country's place in the world — when Britain is upset about — when Britain is upset about Europe's impending single currency or its "anti-British" beef policy — the papers dust off their jingoistic lexicon, trying to buck up Britain by being rude about the French and the Germans.

The country's top press watch-dog, Lord Wakeham, chairman of the Press Complaints Commission. usually responds by saying that intemperate language is the price of free speech in a free society.

But last month he apparently reached his breaking point when he picked up The Daily Star, one of the country's most raucous tabloids, and saw the headline: "Frogs

Need a Good Kicking."

The headline, and The Star's editorial referring to France's "slimy Continental ways" as it prepares to be the host of the World Cup soccer tournament this month, moved Wakeham to say he did not think The Star was being at all funny.

Wakeham, whose group holds the newspapers to a voluntary code of conduct, was particularly wor-ried, he said, about the possibility that Star-style coverage of the World Cup would provoke Britain's notoriously violent football hooligans to attack French people during the tournament.

The tabloids, he said, should make sure that "their reporting and their comment does nothing to incite violence, disorder or other unlawful behavior, or to foster any form of xenophobia that could contribute directly to such incitement."

In truth, The Star's editorial expressed — in crude terms — views that are widespread in Britain. Even as the country moves closer to the rest of Europe through the European Union, old-style prejudices against the Germans and the French seem to flourish as robustly as ever, reflecting fears that Britain might be swallowed up by the new European order.

"The issue of Britain's relationship with Europe is a crucial one, and there's a lot of widespread anxiety and doubt and skepticism," said Geoffrey Goodman, editor of The British Journalism Review. "But what minority prejudice exists in Britain is fanned and exaggerated by the tabloids."

Goodman said people should stand up to the tabloids with more "I think Wakeham's revígor. sponse was pathetically weak," he said. "He should have made it clear that this is intolerable, that you first day alone because, according don't behave that way in a civilized

As the World Cup approaches, the tabloids have not been the only ones being unpleasant to the French. The so-called quality papers, for instance, were just as quick to blame what they felt was typical Gallic bungling for the fact that millions of British soccer fans were thwarted by an endless busy signal several weeks ago when they tried to call a telephone number in France to order World Cup tickets. About 10 million callers re-to the papers, the French were jamming the telephone lines and hogging the tickets for themselves.

"This is the World Cup, not the French Cup," The Times said in an editorial. Or, as The Daily Record put it, "Well done mes amis across at Froggie Telecom.'

And it was portrayed as typical French incompetence when the terized as "thick as a parrot," blithely invited soccer fans without World Cup tickets to come to handled the ticket allocation, deportedly failed to get through on the France anyway. Everyone knows, serve a good kicking.'

the papers said, what happens when a bunch of ticketless British fame convene in a small place with a lot to drink and not much to do:
"Our are not amused," noted

The Daily Record.

Nor were the tabloids happy about Emperor Akihito of Japan's recent visit to Britain, during which he received an award from Queen-Elizabeth II and was confronted by British World War II veterans who turned their backs and burned a Japanese flag as his motorcade passed by. While the tabloids routinely referred to the Japanese as "Japs" in their coverage of the furor, the humor magazine Private Eye ran a photograph of the Emperor on its cover, over the phrase

In Germany

Butin British Bank and

I Interest Rosses to 116 and 1

As Pilote North

Closer to De A

PARIS ...

appearation . The Thurst: :::

mfc - E

thous221

5202 T.

ala ::

min og 😁

Zalduli ...

Arr Fr____

Control to the

the Ware Land

"Nice Nip In the Air."
Surprisingly, though, Wakeham's comments seem to have inspired a bout of soul-searching at the spired a bout of sour-scattering at the tabloids, which have been fighting a brutal circulation war. Though the Star was defiant, saying of the French that it would continue "squeezing their escargots," Piezs Morgan, editor of The Mirror, said he had learned a "salutary lesson."

That was old-style tabloid humor," said Morgan, whose paper succeeded in offending even its own thick-skinned readers with a headline saying "Achtung! Sur-render" to the Germans in a soccer tournament in 1996. He vowed not to use words like "Frogs" and Krauts" anymore. 'We have all probably realized that the appetite for this kind of thing has gone," he said. "We have to reflect the way readers change."

And Smart Higgins, editor of The Sun, a Rupert Murdoch paper said he would be careful with the epithets. "We're not going to go out and say, "We're going to invade France, or encourage our fans to behave in a hooligan-type way," he said. But, he added, appearing to diminish his point a bit, that does French minister for tourism, a diminish his point a bit, that does woman The Daily Mirror charac-not mean he has to be nice to the French. "In many ways," he said,

"the French, in the way they've

PEOPLE

THE comedian Phil Hartman and his wife, Brynn, left their estate — estimated at $1.23 million — to their two children, according to the couple's nearly identical wills. A court hearing on the wills, both signed March 11, 1996, was set for July 1. Hartman, 49, was shot to death last week in his Encino, California, home, apparently by Mrs. Hartman, 40, who then committed suicide. The couple's 9-year-old son, Sean, and 6-year-old daughter, Birgen, were in the home at the time. The children will be raised by Mrs. Hartman's sister and her husband, who live in Wisconsin.

Peter Max, who rose to fame in the 1960s with his splashy colors on paintings of faces, butterflies and rainbows, was sentenced to two months in prison and a $30,000 fine for income tax violations. Prosecutors say he cheated the government when he bartered his art for services and property. Max pleaded guilty last November to conspiracy to "unlawfully, willfully and knowingly" failing to pay a substantial amount of income taxes. He was ordered to pay all the taxes he owed and to perform 800 hours of community service. Max omitted from his federal income tax returns $714,000 he received from sales in 1988 through 1991.

Art gallery visitors can now see Jerry Hall from a whole new angle. A nude portrait of a pregnant Hall was unveiled at the Tate Gallery in London as part of a new collection by the Texan model and wife of Mick Jagger, shows her lying on one side, pregnant with her son Gabriel, now 6 months old.

Broadway's 1997-98 season attracted record audiences and receipts thanks to two rich and powerful newcomers, Disney and Canada's Livent, the League of American Theaters and Producers said in New York. Broadway theaters recorded

Movie Madness at N.Y.'s Modern

New York Times Service NEW YORK — The Museum of Modern Art is in the midst of a five-year campaign to add at least 200

lims to its archive of 14,000 litles by the year 2000. Some of the harvest of the previously unannounced drive will be showcased this month, when works by Martin Scorsese, Woody Allen, Oliver Stone, Hal Hartley, Joel and Ethan Coen, and John Sayles will be presented in a summer series from June 19 through Sept. 12.

Still on the wish list are such films as Preston Sturges's "The Palm Beach Story" (1942), Nicholas Ray's "In a Lonely Place" (1950), John Schlesinger's "Midnight Cowboy" (1969), Billy Wilder's "Some Like It Hot" (1959) and Mel Brooks's "The Producers" (1968).

British artist Lucian Freud. The postcard-sized painting of the more that $557 million in receipts during the season that officially ended May 31, an increase of 11.6 percent from the previous season. Nearly 11.3 million people — 9.4 percent more than in the 1996-97 season and 4.2 percent more than in the record 1980-81 season — attended Broadway productions. "The Lion King" and "Ragtime," two shows produced in the new theaters owned by Disney and Livent, had combined box-office receipts of $44 million.

The Beav has turned 50. "Right now I feel like I could do 50 more." Jerry Mathers said. The star of the old TV sitcom "Leave It to Beaver" said he is in better shape now than he was as a younger man. He has lost 36 pounds (16 kilograms) in the last year after taking up a regular exercise program. "The doctor told me I was badly out of shape." he said. "I had high blood pressure and diabetes, and if I didn't take care of myself I wouldn't be here in another three to five years."

Two years after winning a breach-of-contract lawsuit, the actor Maximilian Schell got a post-appeal boost in his judgment against a German producer. A Superior Court judge in Los Angeles increased the award by $167,000 to compensate the actor for delays in payment by Wolfgang Bocksch. Schell already had won nearly $406,000 on his claim that Wolfgang Bocksch Concerts canceled a European production of "My Fair Lady" one month ahead of schedule in 1994.

ALL TOGETHER — The flamenco dancer Joaquin Cortes, left, with the actress Mira Sorvino and the designer Giorgio Armani in New York after a performance by Cortes to benefit breast cancer research.

go down in history and use AT&T Direct* Service. With the world's most powerful network, you get fast, clear, reliable connections from anywhere. Plus you'll always have the option of an operator who speaks your language. All it takes is your AT&T Calling Card or credit card, and you're well on your way. What an amazing culture we live in.

For easy calling worldwide:

1. Just dial the AT&T Access Number for the country you are calling from.

2. Dial the phone number you're calling. 3. Dial your card number.

AT&T Access Numbers
Greece	Saudi Arabia 0
	Greece

it's all within your reach.

ry rates consist of the cost of a call to the U.S. plus an a

